

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

- + Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
- + Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
- + Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

About Google Book Search

Google's mission is to organize the world's information and to make it universally accessible and useful. Google Book Search helps readers discover the world's books while helping authors and publishers reach new audiences. You can search through the full text of this book on the web at <http://books.google.com/>

The Most Discussed Book

Of the present period of the publishing season is Mr. T. W. H. Crosland's

THE Unspeakable Scot

There is every indication of a large demand for this half-serious indictment of Scotchmen. The book is interesting and piquant in the extreme. (July 7).

LENOX and the BERKSHIRE HIGHLANDS

By R. DE WITT MALLARY. 8vo. Fully illustrated from specially prepared photographs, net, $1.75 (by mail, $1.90).

A beautiful, valuable, and interesting book. It will satisfy all readers who care for the Berkshires, whether their bent is for history, recreation, literature, or natural beauty.

LIFE AT WEST POINT

The Making of an American Army Officer : His Studies, Discipline and Amusements. By H. IRVING HANCOCK. With an Introduction by A. L. MILLS, Colonel U. S. A., and Superintendent of the U. S. Military Academy. 12mo. Fully illustrated, net, $1.40 (by mail, $1.50).

SPANISH LIFE IN TOWN AND COUNTRY

By L. HIGGIN. No. 6. in Our European Neighbours Series. 12mo. Fully illustrated, net, $1.20 (by mail, $1.30).

As each volume of this charming series has appeared, it has been hailed as the "best of the group." It is indeed a very interesting book, and well maintains the extraordinary merit of the series.

NOTES IN SEASON.

LOTHROP PUBLISHING COMPANY have just ready a new juvenile by Miss M. E. Waller, entitled "The Little Citizen," which will be found entertaining by young people and an influence for good. It has four spirited illustrations by H. G. Burgess.

R. H. RUSSELL has just brought out "The Wind in the Tree," a volume of short stories by the Duchess of Sutherland, who is no less distinguished in England for her literary ability than for her beauty. The volume has a frontispiece by Walter Crane.

CHARLES SCRIBNER'S SONS have just ready Richard Harding Davis's new book "Ransom's Folly"; also, the first two volumes of the Beacon Edition of the collected works of F. Hopkinson Smith, which they are publishing by arrangement with Houghton, Mifflin & Co.

LONGMANS, GREEN & Co. will publish shortly "Principles of English Constitutional History," by Lucy Dale, who presupposes a certain knowledge of what are commonly called the facts of English history, and therefore deals rather with the principles by the light of which alone these facts can really become intelligible.

LITTLE, BROWN & Co. have again been obliged to postpone "The Pharaoh and the Priest," the historical novel of ancient Egypt, translated from the original Polish of Alexander Giovatski, by Jeremiah Curtin, which they expected to publish before this. The author gives a vivid picture of the conflict between the secular and the ecclesiastical powers of Egypt in the time of Rameses XIII, eleven centuries before Christ. The volume is now promised to be ready in September.

LAIRD & LEE announce besides Opie Read's "The Starbuck," a strong character study by Miles Sandys entitled "Michael Carmichael," illustrated with nine half tone plates; also, D'Annunzio's "The Dead City," the play in which Duse takes the leading part, rendered into English by Professor C. Mantellini, which will have a colored frontispiece and a number of illustrations in black and white. A full line of Laird & Lee's newest publications will be shown during the book fair, to be held next week, at the Palmer House. They will occupy Room 448, and will make representatives of the trade welcome.

J. B. LIPPINCOTT COMPANY have just ready "Delhi, 1857," by Sir Henry Norman, a direct and interesting account of the great mutiny in India, with an exact description of the siege, assault and capture of Delhi, with numerous illustrations; also "Numbers" and the "Earlier Pauline Epistles," two new volumes of the Temple Bible. They have in preparation a new novel by Jack London, dealing with life in the Klondike region, to be entitled "A Daughter of the Snows." The illustrations of this book are to be by Yohn, and will be in colors. Another volume under way is a romance by Cyrus Townsend Brady entitled "Woven with a Ship."

G. P. PUTNAM'S SONS will publish at once T. W. H. Crosland's book on "The Unspeakable Scot," in which the author will try to prove that "in politics, art, letters, journalism, and sundry other departments of activity the Scot has never accomplished anything that really matters, and a lot more that will be unpleasant reading for "Sandy." They have nearly ready a work entitled "The Papal Monarchy," by Dr. William Barry, who describes the rise and fall of the Papacy as a world power in the period from the reign of Gregory the Great to Boniface VIII. Dr. Barry, a well-known Catholic, will deal only with facts, not with speculations. They have in preparation "The Strange Story of Dr. Fortescue," a detective story, by Elizabeth Kent. This is a pseudonym, the author being a woman of prominence in New York society, now in Europe.

WEEKLY RECORD OF NEW PUBLICATIONS.

Beginning with the issue of July 5, 1902, the titles of net books published under the rules of the American Publishers' Association are preceded by a double asterisk , and the word net follows the price. The titles of fiction (not net) published under the rules are preceded by a dagger †. Net books not covered by the rules, whether published by members of the American Publishers' Association or not, are preceded by a single asterisk, and the word net follows the price.

The abbreviations are usually self-explanatory. c. after the date indicates that the book is copyrighted; if the copyright date differs from the imprint date, the year of copyright is added. Books of foreign origin of which the edition (annotated, illustrated, etc.) is entered as copyright, are marked c. ed.; translations, c. tr.; n. p., in place of price, indicates that the publisher makes no price, either net or retail, and quotes prices to the trade only upon application.

A colon after initial designates the most usual given name, as: A: Augustus; B: Benjamin; C: Charles; D: David; E: Edward; F: Frederic; G: George; H: Henry; I: Isaac; J: John; L: Louis; N: Nicholas; P: Peter; R: Richard; S: Samuel; T: Thomas; W: William.

Jokai says in his preface that in a volume of the Rhenish Antiquarius he came across the description of a skull which used to swing, according to the above authority, in an enclosed metal casket suspended from an iron bar in the foundry of Ehrenbreitstein fortress. The skull is supposed to be that of a man, who by his own confession committed twenty-one crimes, but who was finally convicted of a twenty-second, which he refuted. The novel is founded on what purports to be the skull's version of the hideous deeds of the self accused.

Young, C: A: Manual of astronomy: a text-book. Bost., Ginn, 1902. c. 7+611 p. il. O. hf. leath., $2.45.

Prepared in response to a demand for a class-room text-book intermediate between the author's "General astronomy" and his "Elements of astronomy." The former is found to be too bulky for convenient use in the curriculum of many institutions, while the latter is too meagre, and does not sufficiently utilize the mathematical knowledge possessed by the pupils when they naturally take up astronomy. The manual is largely made up of material drawn from the earlier books, but rearranged, rewritten when necessary, and added to, in order to suit it to its purpose, and bring it thoroughly down to date.

The Publishers' Weekly.

FOUNDED BY F. LEYPOLDT.

JULY 5, 1902.

The editor does not hold himself responsible for the views expressed in contributed articles or communications.

All matter, whether for the reading-matter columns or advertising pages, should reach this office not later than Wednesday noon, to insure insertion in the same week's issue.

Books for the "Weekly Record," as well as all information intended for that department, should reach this office by Tuesday morning of each week.

Publishers are requested to furnish title-page proofs and advance information of books forthcoming, both for entry in the lists and for descriptive mention. An early copy of each book published should be forwarded, as it is of the utmost importance that the entries of books be made as promptly and as perfectly as possible. In many cases booksellers depend on the PUBLISHERS' WEEKLY solely for their information. The Record of New Publications of the PUBLISHERS' WEEKLY is the material of the "American Catalogue" and so forms the basis of trade bibliography in the United States.

"I hold every man a debtor to his profession, from the which, as men do of course seek to receive countenance and profit, so ought they of duty to endeavor themselves by way of amends to be a help and an ornament thereunto."—LORD BACON.

DEMAND FOR ENGLISH LITERATURE ON THE CONTINENT.

THE British Consul at Leghorn in his recent annual report calls attention to a fact that we have before endeavored to impress upon the American publisher, namely, that the knowledge of the English language and English literature is steadily widening, and that books printed in English are increasingly saleable in Italy as well as in France and Germany.

The Consul points out that nearly every educated Tuscan or Roman reads English and takes an interest in English literature—as any one acquainted with our Italian immigrants might know. "Small, inexpensive, neatly bound and effectively printed editions of the English classics," he continues, "should be enjoying a far greater sale than they have at present. And the same may be said of illustrated works on art, historical memoirs, and books of travel. British publishers rely too much on the few energetic Italian booksellers who are in the habit of keeping a lookout for the latest things published in the United Kingdom. . . . British publishers should obtain lists of the principal booksellers in the principal Italian cities and advise them by circulars and advertisements in Italian or French of any publications which are likely to be suitable for sale in Italy. . . . I am of opinion that there are no less than thirty cities in Italy where a moderate sale in cheap and well-got-up British books might be looked for."

These remarks may be addressed with equal force to American publishers. Year by year the English language grows in importance as a world language, hence, the demand for books in the English language is bound to grow in other than English-speaking countries. This field is now being cultivated on a hand-to-mouth plan by foreign booksellers who are either insufficiently acquainted with the sources of supply, or who are not particularly desirous to develop their trade in English books. Judging, however, from the results of the efforts made by the few continental booksellers who take an intelligent interest in the matter, and from the successful canvass of the publishers of a recently-established American magazine, we are confident that in a short time it will become necessary for the publishing trade of the United States to consider the advisability of fostering and extending trade on the continent—pushing it even into Russia—or else to let the opportunity go and leave the field to English competitors exclusively.

THE STATUS OF THE SECOND-CLASS MAIL CONTEST.

THERE appears to be a misunderstanding generally concerning the exact status of the injunctions restraining the Postmaster-General from excluding a group of fourteen "mail-order periodicals from the second-class privilege."

The cases came originally before Justice Bradley of the District Supreme Court, who died leaving them unsettled. They then came up in due course before Justice Barnard, who was obliged to cut them short in order to keep a personal engagement of long standing, and so the whole batch went over to the fall term. This became the sole basis for the report that the Justice had not dissolved, but continued, the injunctions, and that the publishers had scored a victory over the Post-office Department. Technically, it is quite true that the injunctions were not dissolved, but were continued, as the Justice could do nothing else with unheard cases. Actually, both parties are precisely in the same situation as before the cases came up for argument, the rights of neither having been in any way prejudiced by the postponement.

According to the Washington correspondent of the New York Evening Post, "the Justice's theory in cutting the hearing short and leaving matters as they were was that, as the periodicals involved had been paying only second-class postage for several years, the Government would not suffer appreciably by letting them continue doing the same thing a few months longer. As a matter of fact, however—assuming, as many competent lawyers do, that the injunctions will be finally dissolved—the Government will lose a good many thousand dollars by the continuance, but the publishers will lose ultimately more, because, if the decision had been made now against them, they would have been able to readjust their business to the new conditions in the dull part of the year, and when the autumn season opened their advertising and subscriptions would have been upon a basis acceptable to the Department, so that they could have got the full benefit of the revival of trade. As it is, if the decision of the court is adverse, they will have missed this opportunity, and will have to plunge into the whole process of readjustment at a time when other publishers have their affairs in shape to catch the advantage of whatever is coming their way.

"One thing which causes so much confidence among usually well-informed observers that the Government will ultimately win this fight, is the growing indisposition of the courts to supersede the Executive authority by the judicial in matters where discretion plays a large part, and where distinctions of fact have continually to be drawn between different members of apparently one class of things."

PRINTING AND PUBLISHING IN THE UNITED STATES.

The Census Bureau issued on the 1st inst. a report on printing and publishing—especially of newspapers and periodicals in the United States—which shows a capital of $292,517,072 invested in the 22,312 establishments reporting for the industry. The value of the products is returned at $347,055,050, to produce which involved an outlay of $36,090,719 for salaries of officials, clerks, etc.; $34,249,889 for wages; $55,897,529 for miscellaneous expenses and $86,856,290 for materials used.

The report says that when the two branches of the industry are separated—as far as separation of products so closely related is possible—the total value of all book and job printing products is about equal to the total value of all distinctive newspaper products; the former, including the printing and publishing of music, being $168,930,707, or 48.7 per cent. of the total, and the latter $175,780,610, or 50.7 per cent. of the total.

The capital invested in both branches of this industry showed a marked increase, while the value of products per establishment declined. The number of establishments in the newspaper and periodical branches, proportionately 83 to every 100 publications in 1890, remained nearly stationary in 1900, being 84 to every 100 publications.

Of all newspaper and periodical establishments, 63.3 per cent. were owned by individuals; 19.7 per cent. in partnership, and only 17 per cent. by corporations, indicating that combinations of any consequence are unlikely in this industry.

The total number of wage earners increased only 10 per cent., but the value of products earned by them increased 24 per cent.

Of the total value of products, advertising formed 43 per cent., subscriptions and sales 35.8 per cent., and book and job printing, including miscellaneous products, 21.2 per cent.

The proportion of subscriptions and sales steadily declined from 1880, while the proportion which advertising formed steadily increased until it was over half.

In 1890 the increase in the number of all publications was greater than the increase in population, but in 1900 the increase in number of publications and in population was about the same.

During the decade there was an increase in the proportion of daily, tri-weekly, semi-weekly and monthly publications; a marked decline in the proportion of publications devoted to special topics and an advance only in the classes devoted to news topics and to general reading. The total circulation per issue of dailies was enough to supply one for every five inhabitants. The total circulation per issue of weeklies and monthlies was one to two inhabitants.

Publications printed in English formed 94.3 per cent. of all publications reporting for 1900; showing a considerable increase over the corresponding figures for the preceding decade.

One and one-quarter billion pounds of paper were used during the census year. Of this amount 77.6 per cent. was consumed for newspapers, 16.4 per cent. for books and periodicals, and 6 per cent. for job printing; but the proportionate cost was 58.7 per cent., 24.7 per cent. and 16.6 per cent. respectively.

Daily evening newspapers increased more rapidly than daily morning papers. In 1890 there were two evening papers to every morning paper; in 1900 the proportion was about three to one.

Ten leading States supplied four-fifths of the circulation per issue of all publications.

Weekly publications were more numerous in proportion to inhabitants in the West and Northwest. New England ranked high in dailies but low in weeklies suggesting that in that densely settled region the daily had to some extent supplanted the weekly. New York, New Jersey and Pennsylvania show the most striking advance in the proportion of the total circulation reported.

There were fifteen different languages or combinations of languages represented in 1880, thirty in 1890 and twenty-five in 1900. The principal languages in which increases in the number of periodicals published were shown in 1900 were English, Bohemian, Hebrew, Italian, Polish, Scandinavian and Spanish.

Decreases were shown in the number of periodicals published in Dutch, French and German. The languages represented by publications in 1880 or 1890 but not in 1900 were Armenian, Catalan, Gaelic, Irish, "Volapuk" and Welsh.

New York City, with a population of 3,437,202, has 58 papers, 29 of which are morning and 29 evening, the aggregate circulation per issue being 2,732,089, and the number of inhabitants to each copy per issue being 1.26.

REV. LOUIS ROU'S CRITICAL REMARKS ON CHESS.

WILLARD FISKE, through the librarian of the Cornell University, Ithaca, N. Y., is asking for information in regard to the missing manuscript of a tract relating to chess, written in 1734 by Rev. Louis Rou, then pastor of the French Protestant Church of New York City, and entitled: "Critical Remarks upon the Letter to The Craftsman on the Game of Chess, occasioned by his Paper of the 15th of Sept., 733, and dated from Slaughter's Coffee-House, Sept. 21." This manuscript, of which a brief account is given in the pamphlet, was during 1858-9 in the possession of George Henry Moore, then librarian of the New York Historical Society, by whom it was lent for a short time to Mr. Fiske; but its present whereabouts are not known to the New York Historical Society nor to the Lenox Library, with which Mr. Moore subsequently became connected in 1872.

The circumstances of the preparation of the tract are interesting. In 1733 an "Essay on Chess" had appeared in The Craftsman, a Tory paper published in London, and edited by Lord Bolingbroke and other opponents of the house of Brunswick—in reality a bold political document in allegorical form. Lord Hervey replied for the Court in a pamphlet written in the same strain, entitled: "Letter to The Craftsman on the Game of Chess, occasioned by his Paper of the 15th of this month." It was dated from Slaughter's Coffee-House, Sept. 21, 1733. This letter was widely circulated by friends of the Government, and a copy reached Gov. William Cosby, of New York, who requested Rou to write out some critical remarks on the chess portion of the letter. Thus Rou prepared the manuscript in question (for some reason never printed,) in which he criticized with much display of learning and knowledge of chess the many errors regarding the game which he found in both the letters.

MARSHALL LEFFERTS'S AMERICAN SOLD.

THE American portion of the library of Marshall G. Lefferts, sold June 9 and 10, at Sotheby's, London, realized $19,011.37 for the 337 lots offered for sale. The total realized for the English section sold in April last by Bangs & Co. is estimated to have been between $37,000 and $40,000, so that the lots sold at auction aggregated possibly $60,000. In addition, a number of books of extreme rarity were sold in a private manner by George H. Richmond, who bought the entire collection from Mr. Lefferts last fall. At the Sotheby sale many of the rarer books were sold to American collectors.

The following were among the more valuable sold in London:

Eliot's "Indian Bible," one of the twenty copies sent to England for presentation purposes, bound by Bedford, £370.

Budd's "Good Order Established in New Jersey," a little volume which bears the distinction of being the first book printed south of Massachusetts, by Bradford, (two leaves in facsimile,) £125.

Franklin's edition of "Cato Major," 1744, £80.

"Indian Wars in New England," a complete set of five rare folios published from 1675 to 1677, £125.

Letter from the King to Earl Southampton, Treasurer, and the Council of Virginia, commanding the setting up of silk works and the planting of vines in Virginia; also "A Treatise on the Art of Making Silk, with Instructions How to Plant and Dress Vines," dated 1622, £67.

"True Account of Buccaneers in America," by Exquemeling, printed by William Crooke, 1684-1685, £55.

Lederer's "Discoveries in Three Marches from Virginia to the West of Carolina," 1670, with the map and the rare leaf of license, £120.

"General Laws and Liberties of the Massachusetts Colony," Boston, 1672, original sheepskin, £105.

Capt. John Smith's "Map of Virginia," 1612, with the very rare folding map, a number of leaves mended, £120. This book rarely occurs with the map, which was the first issue of the map of Virginia, later used in the "Generall Historie."

Thomas's "New Jersey," 1698, with the folding map, title page mended, a few leaves repaired in lower inner corner, £109.

ENGLISH BOOK AUCTIONEERS.

THE death of William Simpson, the surviving partner and head of the famous firm of book auctioneers, Puttick & Simpson, of Leicester Square, London, at the age of eighty-seven, removes from the trade of book auctioneers its most venerable figure. The house of Puttick & Simpson, according to the London Bookseller, "was established in or about the year 1780 by Mr. Stewart, who was succeeded by Mr. Wheatley, in conjunction with Mr. Adlard; they were in turn succeeded by Mr. Fletcher, who disposed of the business to Mr. Puttick. Their first house was situated in Piccadilly, No. 191; but in 1859 they removed to a more central position at 47 Leicester Square, a former mansion of Sir Joshua Reynolds, which up to that date had been occupied by the Western Literary Association. In 1870 Mr. Puttick left the firm to join Debenham, Storr & Sons, his interest in the business being purchased by Mr. Simpson, who thus became sole proprietor, though he continued it under the same style. Mr. Puttick died in 1873. The oldest firm in the trade is that of Sotheby, Wilkinson & Hodge, which was founded by Samuel Baker in 1744 at a house in York Street, Covent Garden; the first establishment of its kind in this country. In 1774 Baker took into partnership George Leigh, an auctioneer of King Street, Covent Garden, and the style of the firm for some years was S. Baker & G. Leigh. Later on Baker's nephew, John Sotheby, became a partner, and when Baker died in 1778 the firm was styled Leigh & Sotheby. It was again changed in 1800 to Leigh, Sotheby & Son, owing to the admittance of Sotheby's nephew, Samuel, into the partnership. In 1803 the business was moved to 45 Strand.

John Sotheby died in 1807, and Leigh in 1815, after which date Samuel continued it by himself, removing in 1817 to 3, Waterloo Street, Strand. In due course he took his son, Samuel Leigh Sotheby, into the firm, which then became Sotheby & Son, and the house was eventually removed to 13 Wellington Street. Samuel Sotheby died in 1842, aged 71, and his son was accidentally drowned in the River Dart in 1861. In 1863 Mr. John Wilkinson, F.S.A., who had for many years acted as principal accountant to the firm, and since 1843 had been a partner, obtained entire control of the business. The urbanity of his manners in the rostrum, and the thorough knowledge of books which he possessed, made him a clarum et venerabile nomen in the trade. He passed away in 1894 at the ripe old age of 91. Another house of some note during the early years of last century was that of King & Lochee, who, at 38 King Street, Covent Garden, transferred many costly libraries from one collector to another; though in later years their rooms were devoted to the sales of other than books. Robert Harding Evans, of 93 Pall Mall, became famous in 1812 by the sale of the Roxburghe library, and many other important collections passed under his hammer, notably that of the Duke of Sussex, and the Sykes, Spencer, Dent, Hoare, Broadley, and Hibbert libraries. The last-named collection was distributed in 1829, and Messrs. Sotheby sold the library of Colonel Hibbert, a close relation, on the 9th of April this year. Evan's catalogues were noted for their excellence of detail, and his catalogue of the Sykes collection extorted praise from the critical Dibdin. Evans retired from business in 1846. Mr. J. W. Southgate commenced business in 1824 at No. 22 Fleet Street, in conjunction with Mr. Grimston and Mr. Wells. In course of time Mr. Grimston seceded from the firm to establish a similar business of his own somewhere in Holborn; but he met with poor success. Mr. Southgate was eventually succeeded by a son, who continued the traditions of the house, taking Mr. Barrett into partnership. Another Fleet Street auctioneer was L. A. Lewis, who began in a small way in 1825 at a house near the Bank of England. He moved first to the Poultry, and afterwards to No. 125, Fleet Street, relinquishing the business in 1874. Amongst the numerous libraries sold by Lewis was that of William Pickering, the famous publisher of Chancery Lane, in 1854. Last but by no means the least, we come to the famous house of Hodgson, of Chancery Lane. The birth of this firm was due to the initiation of Mr. Robert Saunders, who started the business in Old Compton Street, Soho, removing to Fleet Street in 1812, where he rapidly formed a trade connection. He was joined about 1824 by Mr. Edmund Hodgson, the son of a well-to-do and much-respected bookseller in Wimpole Street. After the partnership had existed for some years, Saunders abandoned the auctioneering business altogether to form the once flourishing law-publishing house of Saunders & Benning, of Fleet Street, who were the successors of Joshua Butterworth; and Mr. Hodgson became sole proprietor. He continued the business with marked success, his punctuality and promptness in settling accounts soon making his name widely known; and the sale rooms—at that time situated on the block at the corner of Chancery Lane and Fleet Street, where Messrs. Partridge & Cooper's well-known establishment now stands—were always well attended by influential buyers. On retiring from business he was succeeded by his son, Mr. Henry Hodgson, a few years later by Mr. Barnard, and subsequently by Mr. Henry Hill Hodgson, the present proprietor, who is one of the treasurers of the Booksellers' Provident Institution. Mr. Edmund Hodgson was one of the founders, and at one time president, of that deserving charity. He died in 1875, aged eighty-one."

COPYRIGHT MATTERS.

UNAUTHORIZED USE OF AUTHOR'S NAME PROHIBITED.

By the action of the Supreme Court, Justice Giegerich, sitting in Special Sessions, the publishers of Frank Leslie's Popular Monthly recently secured an injunction against John Brisben Walker to restrain him from publishing the July issue of the Cosmopolitan Magazine. The circumstances attending the case are unique in contemporary publishing. After the famous description of the ship "Roraima" at the eruption of Mt. Pelee, the first survivor to reach New York was Chief Officer Ellery S. Scott. His exclusive magazine story was at once secured by the editors of Leslie's Monthly, with the written understanding that a single New York daily paper had already succeeded in interviewing Mr. Scott, but that no periodical had any right whatever to make use of his name. The Cosmopolitan then approached Mr. Scott, but the latter, obeying the terms of his contract, absolutely refused his signature. Failing in this direction, the Cosmopolitan bought an account re-written from the original newspaper story, and published it over Scott's signature. Frank Leslie's Popular Monthly alleged that this was a breach of faith with the public, which unwarrantably interfered with the success of its own authentic story. Although no previous cases have been decided upon exactly similar facts, an injunction against the Cosmopolitan was obtained upon these grounds, and Mr. Walker, recognizing the priority of the claims of Leslie's Monthly, consented to have reprinted all the covers of his magazine under his control, which bore Scott's signature prominently displayed, and to make satisfactory arrangements with Leslie's Monthly, which, for its part, allowed the injunction to be withdrawn.

EDISON LOSES COPYRIGHT IN MOVING PICTURES.

THOMAS A. EDISON, the inventor, on June 25, was refused a preliminary injunction by Judge Dallas in the United States Circuit Court, Philadelphia, in the equity suit which he instituted against Sigmund Lubin, of Philadelphia, to have the latter enjoined from infringing on an alleged copyrighted life-moving picture film called "The Launching of Emperor Wilhelm's Yacht 'Meteor.'" Ex-

Judge Howard W. Hayes unsuccessfully contended on behalf of Mr. Edison that no matter how many separate pictures were on one positive film, the same could be copyrighted as a whole by one registration. Mr. Hayes will take an appeal.

OBITUARY NOTES.

THE RIGHT REV. WILLIAM GARDEN COWIE, Bishop of Auckland, died at Wellington, New Zealand, June 26. He was born in 1831 at Auchterless, Aberdeenshire, Scotland, and was graduated from Trinity Hall, Cambridge, in 1854. He was Chaplain to Lord Clyde's army at the capture of Lucknow, in 1858, and then was Chaplain to the Governor General of India, until 1863. He was consecrated Bishop of Auckland in 1869. He had been Primate of New Zealand since 1895. He was the author of "Notes on the Temple of Cashmere," "A Visit to Norfolk Island," and "Our Last Year in New Zealand."

CHARLES SOTHERAN, journalist, author and biographer, died June 27 at his home in New York City. He was born at Newington, Surrey, Eng., July 8, 1847. After leaving St. Marie's, Rugby, he became associated with book business in London. In 1874 he came to the United States and began reportorial work on the New York World. He afterward served as literary writer on a number of other publications, being at one time editor of the New York Echo, The Bibliopolist, etc. For a time he prepared the auction catalogues for George A. Leavitt & Co. He was the author of "Alessandro di Cagliostro, Impostor or Martyr?" "Percy Bysshe Shelley as a Philosopher and Reformer," "Horace Greeley and Other Pioneers of Socialism," "The Theatres of New York," and a number of separate bibliographies. He was associated with many societies and clubs, a prominent Mason and Sheikh of Kaaba.

NOTES ON AUTHORS.

YVETTE GUILBERT has written another story which she calls "Les Demi Veilles."

JUSTIN MCCARTHY has projected another volume of his reminiscences to be entitled "Portraits of the Sixties," which he will finish as soon as his work on the "Reign of Queen Anne" is off his hands.

SIR LO FENG LAH, of the Chinese Legation in London, has been appointed official biographer of Li Hung Chang. A small army of Chinese men of letters are at work collecting material for the biography, which is to be issued in thirty volumes. There is a possibility of an abridged edition in English.

It appears that the report that Jules Verne is doomed to total blindness is greatly exaggerated. He has for some time been troubled with a cataract growth, but is able to work. He has just completed his eighty-second book, "Jean Marie Cabidoulin," and has seventeen more written and nearly ready for publication. These will be published at the rate of two a year.

JOURNALISTIC NOTES.

The Dolphin is the title of an "Ecclesiastical Monthly for Educated Catholics," just begun in New York City.

Sports and Pastimes is the name of a new monthly edited and published by C. P. Hurditch, at 226 South Fourth Street, Philadelphia. Each number is accompanied by colored portraits of local sportsmen. The June number exhibits Barclay Warburton in coaching dress.

The New York Observer has passed into the hands of the Rev. Dr. John Bancroft Devins, who will edit the journal, and John A. Offord, who will continue the business management. The new owners have been connected with the paper for several years. The Observer was founded in 1823 by Sidney E. and Richard C. Morse. In 1858 it passed into the hands of Dr. S. I. Prime and Sidney E. Morse, jr., the latter being succeeded in 1873 by Dr. Charles A. Stoddard, a son-in-law of Dr. Prime. In 1885, when Dr. Prime died, Dr. Stoddard became editor, and has furnished an "Augustus" letter every week since that time, taking the place occupied by the "Irenæus" letters for more than forty years. Dr. Stoddard will continue his weekly letter and the paper will be conducted along the general lines that made it the leading Presbyterian paper in the country.

Harper's Weekly with its issue for July 5 appears in a new form and in a new dress marking a distinct advance in weekly pictorial journalism. The contributors include such men as W. D. Howells, Mark Twain, Anthony Hope, Richard Harding Davis, Robert W. Chambers, Gilbert Parker, Henry Loomis Nelson, Booth Tarkington, John Kendrick Bangs, Carl Snyder, E. S. Martin, Thomas A. Janvier, E. W. Townsend, Sydney Brooks, Hamblen Sears, James MacArthur, and many other specialists. The editorial section under the direction of Colonel Harvey has already attracted wide comment and is truly said to have "set the highwater mark for modern journalistic enterprise." The cover of the new Weekly is striking, its chief feature being the Bartholdi Statue in New York Harbor of "Liberty Enlightening the World." The first issue comprises 44 pages, including a double-page picture in colors.

BUSINESS NOTES.

COUNCIL GROVE, KAN.—Captain J. S. Winans has bought the bookstore here and will enlarge and improve the stock.

HARTFORD, CONN.—G. W. Blanchfield, formerly of 47 High Street, Newark, has settled in this city at 58 Ann Street at the sign of the "Garrett Book Shoppe."

LINCOLN, NEB.—S. Hall has succeeded Wilson & Hall, booksellers.

MONTGOMERY, PA.—A new bookstore has been opened in the Mirror Building.

SALEM, W. VA.—H. B. Smith, of the West Union Record, will open up a bookstore and news stand in the Smith Building.

LITERARY AND TRADE NOTES.

E. P. DUTTON & Co have just ready "The Home Aquarium," by Eugene Smith, giving a description of the various plants and animals that thrive in the aquarium, and practical suggestions for their care.

JAMES POTT & Co. have in preparation a work entitled "The Builders of the Republic," by the author of "Famous Homes of New York," who describes twenty-four of the tremendous personalities who, from the chaos of royal, and colonial government and misgovernment, brought forth our republic.

HARPER & BROTHERS followed up their very handsome attention to the delegates of the American Booksellers' Association, by sending each one present a fine photograph of the group taken on the occasion of their visit to Franklin Square on June 16. A reproduction of this photograph was printed through the courtesy of Harper & Brothers in our issue for June 28.

W. L. WASHBURN, (The Palmetto Press,) Aiken, S. C., will publish shortly a reprint of "An Elegie upon the Death of the Reverend Mr. Thomas Shepard," by Urian Oakes, following the form and spelling of the copy of the first edition in the Brown University Library. There will be two editions—125 copies on hand-made paper and 25 copies on Japanese paper.

J. F. TAYLOR & Co. have secured from F. Newell Gilbert and Leon Mead, of Binghamton, N. Y., their "Manual of Forensic Quotations," a collection of celebrated passages and eloquent sayings derived from jury arguments of celebrated lawyers. The book will contain over thirty rare photographs of distinguished lawyers—English and American—from the time of Lord Erskine to the present period.

D. APPLETON & Co. have made arrangements to print the autobiography of a convict under the title of "As I Sailed." This is said to be the production of a man who was a sailor in a whaling vessel, then in a merchant ship, then in the British navy, then an ensign in the American navy, taking part in the attack of Fort Fisher. Then he "runs the whole yellow streak of worthlessness, which ended in a quarter of a century behind prison bars," and died in a Western penitentiary. The editor, Stanley Waterloo, speaks of the man's unconscious self-revelation in this autobiography, in which he regrets nothing and betrays no sense of shame or contrition. They will publish early in the fall the first volume of Mme. Adam's memoirs, "Romance of My Childhood and Youth"; a series of Charles Darwin's letters, edited by his son, Francis Darwin; also H. G. Wells's new novel, "The Sea Ready."

THE executors of Walt Whitman's estate, Thomas B. Harned, Horace L. Traubel, and Professor Oscar L. Triggs, are preparing a final and definite edition of all the writings of the "good gray poet," to be entitled the Camden Limited Edition. G. P. Putnam's Sons will publish the edition in ten octavo volumes, limiting the issue to one thousand sets. The first 100 sets will be extra illustrated in water colors, and in them will be bound some of the poet's own manuscripts. These will be offered at $1,000 a set. Other issues, differing in the style of binding, and, of course, in the matter of autographic illustrations, will be offered at prices ranging down from $500 to $60 a set. Horace L. Traubel proposes to publish in facsimile Whitman's personal copy of "Leaves of Grass," the edition printed by Thayer & Eldridge, Boston, 1860-'61, in which he did much of the work of revision for the edition that followed five years later. This copy of "Leaves of Grass" is historic. It is the volume abstracted by Secretary Harlan from Whitman's desk in the Interior Department and made the basis for his discharge from that branch of service. An account of this incident, written by Whitman himself, will be photographically reproduced and included in the reprint. The edition will be limited to 500 copies, and the price fixed will be $10 for each copy. The text matter of the volume will be printed from the original plates, which still exist. The chirographical matter in Whitman's hand will be superimposed and printed in exact facsimile.

THE UNIVERSITY OF CHICAGO PRESS announces for publication during the summer months a volume entitled "The Diary and Correspondence of Wilhelm Müller." The work will be edited by Dr. Philip S. Allen, of the Germanic Department of the University of Chicago, assisted by Dr. James Taft Hatfield, of the Germanic Department of the Northwestern University. In order to preserve as far as possible the original qualities of the work the book will be done in German type. Wilhelm Müller was the father of Dr. Max Müller of Oxford, and was one of the most pleasing lyricists of the nineteenth century. He was a conspicuous representative of the later romantic school of Germany. In view of the fact that the library and personal papers of Wilhelm Müller were all destroyed by fire many years ago it is improbable that any other intimate record of the poet's activities and strivings will ever be published. The University of Chicago Press also announces the completion and appearance in book form of Volume III. of the Studies in Classical Philology. These volumes are under the editorial direction of a committee of the faculty of the Classical Departments of the University and consist of contributions from representative teachers. The volume which is just appearing contains three contributions, the first, entitled "Papyri from Karanis," by Dr. Edgar J. Goodspeed; the second, "The Use of Repetition in Latin to Secure Emphasis, Intensity and Distinctness of Impression," by Dr. Frank F. Abbott; and the third, "Epideictic Literature," by Theodore C. Burgess. The papers are all technical in nature, the first being distinctly brief, the latter forming the bulk of the volume.

PICK UPS.

A new book by the author of the "Dolly Dialogues" suggests the fine distinction made by a New York woman who, when asked what Anthony Hope had written, promptly replied: "'The Dolly Dialogues' and 'The Prisoner of Zenda.' All the rest are by a man named Hawkins."

TERMS OF ADVERTISING.

Under the heading "Books Wanted" book-trade subscribers are given the privilege of a free advertisement for books out of print, of five nonpareil lines exclusive of address, in any issue except special numbers, to an extent not exceeding 100 lines a year. If more than five lines are sent, the excess is at 10 cents a line, and amount should be inclosed. Bids for current books and such as may be easily had from the publishers, and repeated matter, as well as all advertisements from non-subscribers, must be paid for at the rate of 10 cents a line.

Under the heading "Books for Sale," the charge to subscribers and non-subscribers is 10 cents a nonpareil line for each insertion. No deduction for repeated matter.

All other small, undisplayed, advertisements will be charged at the uniform rate of 10 cents a nonpareil line. Eight words may be reckoned to the line.

Parties with whom we have no accounts must pay in advance, otherwise no notice will be taken of their communications.

BOOKS WANTED.

In answering, please state edition, condition, and price, including postage or express charges.

Houses that are willing to deal exclusively on a cash-on-delivery basis will find it to their advantage to put after their firm-name the word [Cash].

Write your wants plainly and on one side of the sheet only. Illegibly-written "wants" will be considered as not having been received. The "Publishers' Weekly" does not hold itself responsible for errors.

It should be understood that the appearance of advertisements in this column, or elsewhere in the "Publishers' Weekly" does not furnish a guarantee of credit. While it is endeavored to safeguard these columns by withdrawing the privilege of their use from advertisers who are not "good pay," booksellers should take the usual precaution, as to advertisers not known to them, that they would take in making sales to any unknown parties.

The English Exploration of America.

We are living in a new period of expansion and great changes on the map of the world, such as there has not been since the sixteenth and seventeenth centuries. It is interesting, at such a time, to look back to the period when our forefathers expanded into this New World.

THE FOLLOWING OLD SOUTH LEAFLETS HAVE BEEN ADDED TO THE SERIES:

"John Cabot's Discovery of North America," "Sir Francis Drake on the California Coast," "Frobisher's First Voyage," "Sir Humphrey Gilbert's Expedition to Newfoundland," "Baleigh's First Roanoke Colony," "Gosnold's Settlement at Cuttyhunk," "Captain John Smith's Description of New England," and Richard Hakluyt's Discourse on Western Planting."

These leaflets are Nos. 115-122 in the Old South series, which is now so large. They are made up from original documents of the period, and are all accompanied by careful historical and bibliographical notes. Sold for five cents a copy, they place at the service of the schools and the public a most important mass of historical papers not otherwise easily accessible.

RECTORS OF THE OLD SOUTH WORK, Old South Meeting House, Boston, Mass.

SUCCESSFUL publisher is one who constantly seeks to get the best value for the least money. That's why I am a successful bookbinder. Also because I turn out the highest grade of work at from ten to twenty-five per cent. less than anyone else. How do I do it? That is the burning question amongst the trade to-day.

My answer is, "Don't ask the why and the wherefore," but send me your stamps and dummies and I will make up samples which will show the highest character of work and upon which I will give you estimates that cannot be met. My equipment and plant is the finest and one of the largest of its kind in the country. Large output and small profits are the keystones to my success. Don't take my word for these statements. Come and see for yourself.

MR. MAJOR'S new novel

is the most popular of all the novels of the day.

It is a love story founded on an episode in the authentic history of one of the best known of the great English families.

It has proved to be so popular with the public that imitations of it and adaptations of the original story are already on the market and promise to be numerous.

the original novel, is by

MR. CHARLES MAJOR, author of "When Knighthood Was in Flower," and in purchasing this book which the critics say is "one of the best and most brilliant books of the day," it is wise to see that none of the inferior stories of similar title is offered to you instead.

"Imitation is the sincerest flattery," but the many imitations of Mr. Major's "Dorothy Vernon of Haddon Hall" appearing just as the real book is entering on its second hundred thousand copies, form an interesting commentary on the ethics of some members of the publishing trade of to-day.

MR. CHARLES MAJOR'S novel is best described as a delightful story, a bright romance, dramatic and picturesque; a love story pure and simple, yet interesting throughout to all classes of readers.

367 pp., 12mo, gilt tops, decorated cloth cover. Illustrated with full page reproductions of drawings by HOWARD CHANDLER CHRISTY. Price, $1.50.

BOOKSELLERS!

DO you know how long your customers have waited for a new novel by AUGUSTA EVANS WILSON? It is just fifteen years since the issue of "At the Mercy of Tiberius," her last great dramatic story, and thirty-six years since "St. Elmo," which is now as popular as ever. Advance orders for her new novel, amount to nearly 75,000 copies.

A Speckled Bird,

It is a novel which stands in the highest rank of modern fiction.

It will command the largest sale of any novel of the year.

We advise every dealer to order liberally, and not to be caught without the needed stock when we may be unable to supply all orders.

A LETTER

received by a prominent Boston Book-seller and Publisher

BOSTON, July 2, 1902

DEAR SIRs:

Kindly send me a copy of Bowen-Merrill's latest book. I am sure of a good story, for I've read about all of their recent publications, and have yet to find one that is not interesting.

Very truly yours,

OPIE READ'S LATEST NOVEL

THE STARBUCKS

"What you know and what's the truth won't never know each other well enough to shake hands."

IN PRESS

Copyright, 1902, by
Wm. H. Lee

Whether Lou was forced to marry Lije — whether Fettererson's love of a hoss trade exceeded his powers of prayer — how the mountain preacher at last yielded to the love of an admirable woman — how Mrs. Spencer consoled Margaret — and how Judge Elliott reversed all precedent — these and other things are told most charmingly, with keen humor and touching pathos, in Opie Read's latest novel, THE STARBUCKS — undoubtedly the best of Mr. Read's many clever stories. Silk cloth, exquisitely illustrated in colors, $1.50. Ready for the early fall trade.

THE SPENDERS

A TALE OF THE
THIRD GENERATION
By
HARRY LEON WILSON

BROOKLYN DAILY
EAGLE says:

"It is racy, coruscating in wit, daring in love, and biting in its palpable caricature of many well-known persons in New York society; but it is so very much more than a clever society novel making the bid of audacity for ephemeral craze. This is the work not only of a bright society journalist and buoyant cynic, but of a born novelist."

LOUISVILLE
says:

"If there is such a thing as the American novel of a new method, this is one. Absolutely to be enjoyed is it from the first page to the last, founded on the elemental truth that 'the man is strongest who, Antaeus-like, stands with his feet upon the earth.'"

JEZEBEL

A ROMANCE IN THE DAYS WHEN
AHAB WAS KING OF ISRAEL
By LAFAYETTE MCLAWS
Author of "When the Land was Young"

AUTHORS are just beginning to realize the possibilities for romantic, dramatic story-making in the use of the unexampled literature of the Old Testament. Miss McLaws has finely grasped such an opportunity in the romance "Jezebel," in which she makes a heroine of that famous woman and queen, whose very name is one to conjure with, and who, in the pages of this book, stands forth as one of the fascinatingly strong feminine characters of history, in a brilliant setting of court life during the days of the greatness of ancient Israel, when Elijah was its prophet and the worship of strange gods aroused his ire.

"Hear me!" Jezebel cried

NOTES IN SEASON.

McCLURE, PHILLIPS & Co. have in preparation a novel of the turf by W. A. Fraser, to be called "Thoroughbreds."

L. C. PAGE & Co. will publish next month, "Joe's Paradise," a sequel to "Beautiful Joe," by Marshall Saunders; also, "Old Love Stories Retold," by Richard Le Gallienne.

THE LOTHROP PUBLISHING COMPANY have just ready "Chanticleer," by Miss Violette Hall, a tale of married lovers who study birds and flowers. They have nearly ready "Stage Confidences," by Clara Morris, which will contain a large number of unpublished photographs in character.

D. APPLETON & Co. have in preparation a new series—the Business Series—the first volume of which will be "The Work of Wall Street," by Sereno S. Pratt. The book has twenty-three chapters, and deals with about everything in which the general reader may be supposed to have an interest, based on personal knowledge.

THE MACMILLAN COMPANY have just brought out in the English Men of Letters, a study of "William Hazlitt," by Augustine Birrell, who, while he brings out to the full the quality of his talent and personal charm, does not attempt to palliate the many things which made Hazlitt disagreeable and reprehensible. They will publish shortly, in the same series, Herbert Paul's monograph on "Matthew Arnold." Sir Alfred Lyall's "Tennyson" will be published in August, Frederic Harrison's "Ruskin," in September, and Gilbert Chesterton's "Browning," in October.

CHARLES SCRIBNER'S SONS have just ready a "Handbook of Best Readings," selected and edited by Professor S. H. Clark, of the University of Chicago. The book has grown slowly out of the editor's long and wide experience as a public reader. In his professional work he has, for several years, been testing hundreds of selections on the public platform and upon different audiences, with the ultimate preparation of this book in view. He has ascertained by the best possible test that every reading included will read. The volume covers a wide range of prose and poetry, dramatic, tragic, humorous, and pathetic. It will be a useful aid to the professional or amateur elocutionist and the general reader will find in it a wealth of good reading in attractive form. They have also just brought out a school edition of "Don Quixote," edited by Lucy Leffingwell Cable, daughter of George W. Cable, the novelist.

WILLIAM R. JENKINS has purchased from Dyrssen & Pfeiffer (F. W. Christern) the plates of and publishing rights in the standard educational works for teaching French and other languages, by Dr. L. Sauveur, and will hereafter supply the trade with these well-known text-books. They have just ready "Le Roi Apépi," by Victor Cherbuliez, in the Romans Choisis series, with preface and explanatory notes in English by Professor Albert Schinz; also, "Les Malheurs de Sophie," by Mme. la Comtesse de Ségur, in the Bibliothèque Choisie pour la Jeunesse. In the department of veterinary literature they have just ready a hand book on "Tibio-peroneal Neurectomy for the Relief of Spavin Lameness," by Prof. W. E. A. Wyman; the ninth edition of Dr. A. Liautard's work on "Animal Castration," revised and enlarged; the second edition of Professor K. Winslow's "Veterinary Materia Medica and Therapeutics"; also, "Operative Technique," the first volume of a new work on the practice of veterinary surgery, by Dr. John A. W. Dollar, which will be followed by a second volume on "General Surgery."

WEEKLY RECORD OF NEW PUBLICATIONS.

Beginning with the issue of July 5, 1902, the titles of net books published under the rules of the American Publishers' Association are preceded by a double asterisk , and the word net follows the price. The titles of fiction (not net) published under the rules are preceded by a dagger †. Net books not covered by the rules, whether published by members of the American Publishers' Association or not, are preceded by a single asterisk *, and the word net follows the price.

The abbreviations are usually self-explanatory. c. after the date indicates that the book is copyrighted; if the copyright date differs from the imprint date, the year of copyright is added. Books of foreign origin of which the edition (annotated, illustrated, etc.) is entered as copyright, are marked c. ed.; translations, c. tr.; n. p., in place of price, indicates that the publisher makes no price, either net or retail, and quotes prices to the trade only upon application.

A colon after initial designates the most usual given name, as: A: Augustus; B: Benjamin; C: Charles; D: David; E: Edward; F: Frederic; G: George; H: Henry; I: Isaac; J: John; L: Louis; N: Nicholas; P: Peter; R: Richard; S: Samuel; T: Thomas; W: William.

- New Harmony, originally named Harmonie, by the disciples of George Rapp, is fifty-one miles above the mouth of the Wabash River on the Indiana side. In 1815 eight hundred German peasants, who had protested, ten years previous to that date, against the religion of Germany, founded the Rappite colony, which paved the way for Robert Owens' social experiment in 1825. The present work is a study not only of these pioneer movements but it is likewise a history of the communistic life of New Harmony. Appendix.

The Publishers' Weekly.

FOUNDED BY F. LEYPOLDT.

JULY 12, 1902.

The editor does not hold himself responsible for the views expressed in contributed articles or communications. All matter, whether for the reading-matter columns or advertising pages, should reach this office not later than Wednesday noon, to insure insertion in the same week's issue.

Books for the "Weekly Record," as well as all information intended for that department, should reach this office by Tuesday morning of each week.

Publishers are requested to furnish title-page proofs and advance information of books forthcoming, both for entry in the lists and for descriptive mention. An early copy of each book published should be forwarded, as it is of the utmost importance that the entries of books be made as promptly and as perfectly as possible. In many cases booksellers depend on the PUBLISHERS' WEEKLY solely for their information. The Record of New Publications of the PUBLISHERS' WEEKLY is the material of the "American Catalogue" and so forms the basis of trade bibliography in the United States.

"I hold every man a debtor to his profession, from the which, as men do of course seek to receive countenance and profit, so ought they of duty to endeavor themselves by way of amends to be a help and an ornament thereunto."—LORD BACON.

THE WANE OF THE BOOK "BOOM."

THE impression that the "booming" of books is rapidly losing its force, if it has not already quite outlived itself, is steadily growing. The reported fate of one, if not two books, by authors whose former efforts were boosted into a sale of over 200,000 copies seems to confirm this impression. It is predicted by those who keep a close watch on the book market that while the quarter-of-a-million-in-a-year mark may be reached again, when it is reached it will mark an epoch in the annals of the booktrade, and not be an everyday event. "Booming," no doubt, was overdone and therefore was bound to react upon itself.

It is a question whether many will regret its passing, except the fortunate authors whose work was pushed, much of it, beyond its merits, and the newspaper press that reaped large tribute for its share in helping the "boom" along. From every other point of view the "booming" of books was demoralizing. The author was led to entertain an exaggerated opinion of the value of his work; the publisher was tempted to compete for the work of certain popular authors, in some cases, at rates that were hardly justified by the returns, especially when the expense of the heavy advertising necessary to nurse a "boom" was taken into consideration; the bookseller was at his wit's ends because what profit that accrued to him after competing with the price-cutter, was almost neutralized by the loss on the capital invested in the books that were not "boomed" and, hence, neglected by the majority of the public, which, for the time being, was so bewildered by the din of the "barkers" for this and that literary (?) curiosity, that they helplessly took the book most persistently pushed.

It was a great spree while it lasted, but it was inevitable that the imitation and multiplication of the devices that were employed to stimulate curiosity and to thrust new authors into general notice should lose their influence upon the reading public. If the tide now turns, as it promises to turn, in the direction of stimulating the sale of books generally, the booktrade will not regret to see the "boom" slide into oblivion.

BOOK LENDING, AS IT CONCERNS THE TRADE AND THE PUBLIC.

BY T. H. EWING.

A PROBLEM of rapidly growing seriousness is confronting the publishers and booksellers of America. The experience of several of the leading publishers, as well as of many of the retail dealers, during the past spring has indicated that this problem must be recognized and dealt with very soon, or publishers, dealers, and authors will suffer almost immeasurable loss.

The writer has talked with representatives of several prominent publishing houses, and with a number of the leading booksellers of New York, and they all say that the sale of books in the last few months has fallen very much below expectations, and much below the sale last year for the same period. Some of the books which were expected to have especially large popular sale have proven to be great disappointments in that respect.

One explanation is given everywhere for this state of affairs, and that is the sudden growth of a cheap and convenient system of book-lending which, as at present considered by thousands of people, makes the purchase of books unnecessary. Moreover, this popular system of book-lending is now only in the beginning of its proposed ascendancy. The aim and the expectation of its promoters is that it shall spread over the entire country, and include among its constituents practically all of the book-reading public. The announced intention is to reach by its service at least half a million people. If the publishing and book-selling trade is already beginning to feel the injury which this system is working, what will the result be when the great aim of the managers of this circulating library is even in a considerable measure achieved?

A little consideration of the effect which this system is having and will have upon the trade, will startle those who have not thus far given it any special thought. An individual reader sees a certain book widely advertised and reviewed and hears it favorably spoken of by friends. He wonders if it is not just the book he would like to read, and he goes into a bookstore where the book is displayed and examines it. He decides that he would like to read the book, but instead of buying it, he leaves it on the counter, goes out of the store and around to some nickel-in-the-slot station, pays a few cents, and carries the book home with him. Then, after reading it, he returns it for a hundred and one other persons to borrow in the same way. A prominent bookseller on Fifth Avenue is complaining bitterly that his business is almost ruined by just such procedure.

Let us take another step. The managers of this circulating library purchase a book which is likely to be called for by its members. A new novel, we will say, which is not conspicuously before the public, and which the public at large knows very little of, will not be called for by this host of book borrowers, and consequently the buyer of the circulating library will not be at all likely to place an order for any considerable number of copies of this book. Before he can be induced to buy five hundred or a thousand copies, or even two hundred and fifty copies, he must be assured that it will be extensively advertised and in general demand. This means an expenditure of anywhere from three to ten thousand dollars for advertising by the publisher of the book. Then there will be a demand created which will justify the buyer afore mentioned in laying in a supply for the various library stations. As the number of stations increases, the number of copies he will need will increase; but five hundred copies, and even in the event of a greatly increased number of stations a thousand copies, will amply supply his requirements. In the meantime, the general sale of the book to the public at large is practically nil, because the readers will not spend $1.08 for a book which they can read for practically nothing. In other words, a sale of five hundred copies to the circulating library will take the place of a sale of ten to twenty thousand copies to the public at large, and the sale of one thousand copies to the circulating library may take the place of a sale of fifty thousand copies, more or less, to the public at large. But without the publicity given to the book, even this small sale to the circulating library would be unlikely.

Now, how long are the publishers going to be satisfied to spend several thousand dollars in advertising to create a demand for a book, which demand can be met by a sale of a thousand or less copies of the book to a circulating library?

I have put this feature of the situation somewhat strongly, but none too forcibly, if the experience of the spring and the present indications for the future are to be taken as a guide. The result is easy to see. The advertising expenditure being rendered unprofitable, will stop; the public sale of the book will stop; even the sale to the circulating library, which depends upon public demand, will stop; the publishers' profits will stop; the booksellers' profits will stop; the author's royalty will stop. Publishers, booksellers, authors, and even the circulating library itself will go to the everlasting bow-wows.

If anyone, putting the various causes and effects together, can figure out a different result, I should like to hear it. It is certainly time for publishers, booksellers and authors to interest themselves actively in this matter.

There is still another aspect of the case which concerns the public at large even more than it does the publishers and dealers. The indiscriminate interchange of books through the medium of local borrowing stations scattered over the country constitutes a danger which may well alarm anyone who gives it even the most casual consideration.

It is a well-known fact that no medium offers a more convenient or likely conveyance for the spreading of contagious disease germs than books. A statement appeared recently in the New York Sun to the effect that, "Experiments have shown that the bacillus of cholera will live in books 48 hours or more, that of diphtheria 28 days, that of tuberculosis 103 days. Small pox is eradicable only by the disinfecting of the most severe and careful kind." Thus a book may carry a supply of active disease germs enough to inoculate scores of persons in the course of its travels from hand to hand. The managers of public libraries have recognized this fact for a long time, and it has been brought to their attention daily by hundreds of people in every community who have discontinued drawing books, or have done so with hesitation, in spite of their better judgment, because of their fear that in taking them they run chances of bringing disease germs into their homes.

Prominent medical men have been studying this serious problem for a long time, and various plans have been tried experimentally for combating the danger which is so generally admitted. If such a danger exists in the case of an established institution, whose books are all cared for in one building, and taken from and returned to that building, and are under the constant care and supervision of the managers of the institution, how immeasurably more danger is there in the circulation of books through the medium of local exchange stations scattered over a wide territory, where a book may be taken from one station, and returned at another station, sometimes in entirely different localities.

Many books are read in sick rooms by persons who, because of their being shut in and laid aside from business or the ordinary occupations of life, have a period of enforced leisure, during which they are glad to beguile the weary hours with reading. According to the method of book borrowing and exchange referred to, there is absolutely no way of preventing these books from going directly from the sick room of one reader into the possession of another reader who is not sick, but who may quickly contract the disease brought to him within the covers of the book. The sickness of a person does not prevent him from borrowing as many books as he pleases, and is able to read. Any member of his family may return his book and get another in exchange for it, and in this way he may be persistently scattering germs of disease over a wide territory, entirely without the knowledge of the other book borrowers, or the managers of the system.

A gentleman told the writer recently that when his little girl was sick with scarlet fever her mother read story books to her while she lay in bed. Realizing the danger of allowing these books to be handled by others, every book was burned. This case is exceptional. Probably not one person in a thousand would take such precautions. It is manifestly unlikely where the books are borrowed from drop-a-nickel-in-the-slot machines, because the books do not belong to the readers and must be returned to go to others, disease germs and all. Moreover, travelers may carry books from one station to another, taking the disease germs from an infected district into a district where no disease exists. We hear continually of cases of contagious diseases breaking out in localities which seem not to have been subject to any infection, and we are often at a loss to account for the insidious spread of disease from family to family, and from locality to locality.

As the number of such local exchange stations and the number of users of them increase, the danger of spreading disease germs increases also, and careful people should avoid any participation in such work. The only safe way is for book lovers to purchase and keep their own books.

THE APPLETONS' NEW HOME.

D. APPLETON & Co. expect to be settled in their new home, at 436 Fifth Avenue, New York, before the end of next week. Their new quarters are in a fine modern building of white stone, standing on the southwest corner of Thirty-ninth Street. Diagonally across the way is the Union League Club. One block to the north is the site of the dismantled old reservoir in Bryant Park, above which are rising the walls of the new Public Library building.

This change in the home office of D. Appleton & Co. makes interesting a reference to the various steps by which the house has advanced northward since it was founded by Daniel Appleton at No. 16 Exchange Place, seventy-seven years ago. Five years after the business was started Mr. Appleton removed to Clinton Hall, in Beekman Street, but in 1838 the rapid growth of his business compelled him to move again, and he went to No. 200 Broadway, which is between John and Fulton Streets. Here the business was conducted for a considerable time, and then the old Society Library Building, at Broadway and Leonard Street, was secured—a site now occupied by the great structure of the New York Life Insurance Company. Another removal was made about 1860 to Nos. 443 and 445 Broadway, and ten years later the office was transferred to Nos. 90-92-94 Grand Street. Two years afterward a change was made to Nos. 549 and 551 Broadway, which is near Spring Street. Here the firm remained for eight years, and then went to Nos. 1, 3 and 5 Bond Street, where it remained for fourteen. The removal next made was to No. 72 Fifth Avenue, a building from which the house now goes to the new one at the corner of Thirty-ninth Street.

In view of the removal of D. Appleton & Company, the accompanying facsimile of the title-page of "Crumbs from the Master's Table" will be interesting. This is the book with which the founder of the house began business as a publisher in 1831. How many copies were disposed of is no longer matter of record, but it is known that at least two editions were printed in the first year. It was also a sufficiently important enterprise to make stereotype plates. Very few copies of the little book are known to be in existence—not more than six. The copy of which the title-page is here shown is a perfect one, and has been bound in crushed blue levant by William Matthews, the book being provided also with a hinged morocco case.

NEW-YORK:

D. APPLETON,

*Clinton-Hall.
Stereotype Edition.
1831.*

Mr. Derby, in his "Fifty Years among Authors, Books and Publishers," relates how, many years ago, when a copy of this book was wanted by the firm a paragraph was published as an advertisement stating that they would give in exchange the largest book published by the house. An old lady in Maryland saw the advertisement, and received for it a volume twenty times the size of "Crumbs." The next book published by Mr. Appleton was a volume similar in size to "Crumbs," and called "Gospel Seeds." In the following year he brought out "Refuge in Time of Plague and Pestilence" and "Thoughts in Affliction," the latter having a page about twice the size of "Crumbs." "Refuge in Time of Plague and Pestilence" appeared in the year when the Asiatic cholera spread terror throughout the whole country. It had an enormous sale, being often mistaken for a treatise on the cholera.

ROSTAND WILL NOT APPEAL.

THE petition filed in Rostand's name on the 3d inst., in the U. S. Circuit Court at Chicago, by William Burry, attorney, by which leave was asked to reopen the Gross-Mansfield case, involving the authorship of "Cyrano de Bergerac," was withdrawn July 7, and thus the case, which has attracted so much attention in the local federal court for several years, was finally closed. Attorney Burry explained that he had withdrawn the petition under instructions from M. Rostand. He said the French playwright had no hand in the filing of the petition last week, but this was done at the request of a near relative through the French consul in Chicago.

E. & J. B. YOUNG & CO.'S CHRISTMAS NOVELTIES.

E. & J. B. Young & Co. have ready for the fall and holiday seasons a large line of novelties. Prominent among these are the "Auto-graphic Christmas Cards," a series of artistic double and triplicate folding cards lithographed in color, gold and monotint, embossed and shaped, with landscapes, figure pieces, floral and combination designs. There are thirty-four numbers in boxes of eight and ten cards with envelopes. Of Castel Brothers' handsome cards and calendars they show an unusually large line of artistic beauty. Of the Christmas and New Year's cards they have twelve new numbers in boxes of from twenty to thirty assorted cards. Of the Castel calendars for 1903 they have twenty-seven new numbers, many of them in various designs. All these calendars are lithographed in full color and gold. The "turn-over" have shaped or embossed edges and are tied with silk ribbon. The "fancy shaped folding" are particularly artistic in design. In the line of Christmas booklets they have this year six new numbers to retail at five cents; six to retail at ten cents; four to retail at fifteen cents; two to retail at twenty cents; and five to retail at twenty-five cents. Each booklet contains a text and poetical quotation for every day in the month and is lithographed in full colors, the letter press in gold; the backs of the three higher priced booklets are tied with either silk ribbon or cord and tassels. They continue the sole agency in the United States of The Empire series of Christmas cards, dainty productions in photo-gravure, letter stamping, hand coloring, embracing upwards of 200 varieties, including religious cards and distinctively English, Scotch and Irish Christmas cards. They have made up a complete set of samples of this attractive series of cards which they will send to dealers prepaid at $12.50. They have also made extensive additions to their series of children's stationery, illustrated with charming decorative designs, reproduced in full color lithography from water-color drawings. Each box contains ten sheets of paper with the same number of envelopes to match.

THE SUIT AGAINST THE THÉÂTRE.

REFERRING to the suit for an injunction brought by Manzi, Joyant & Co., of Paris, publishers of Le Théâtre against Meyer Bros. & Co., publishers of The Theatre, Messrs. Meyer Bros. say: "It would be hard to conceive a more trivial and foundationless suit. Our counsel says that he has rarely seen such a flimsy action brought. Because Manzi, Joyant & Co. publish a magazine called Le Théâtre in Paris, they seem to have an idea that no one else in the world may publish a magazine somewhat similar in character. As a matter of fact, the name The Theatre, and the character and purpose of the French magazine did not originate with Manzi, Joyant & Co. at all. There was a periodical entitled The Theatre, published regularly in London, as far back as 1877, and Clement Scott was one of its editors; and in New York, as we all know, there was also a monthly magazine entitled The Theatre, which appeared some years prior to 1898, when Le Théâtre was first published in Paris. Both of these English periodicals contained pictures of the stage and portraits of actors and actresses. The idea of starting an American magazine dealing principally with American plays, illustrated with American portraits and containing original articles by American writers originated with Meyer Bros., who have duly protected themselves by copyright. The only reason for the present suit that we can see is, because we spell the word theater Theatre. Can anything be more ridiculous? The word "theatre" is a good English word, and is used in the majority of cases, the word "theater" being the exception both in the public prints and on buildings."

"As to the charge that we have willfully represented our magazine The Theatre to be an American edition of the French Le Théâtre, that is too absurd for any sane person to believe. As a matter of fact, it would hurt us considerably for people to think so, and we always impress upon everybody that our magazine is a distinctly original publication."

"MISSALE SPECIALE" AND "MISSALE ABBREVIATUM" ATTRIBUTED TO GUTENBERG'S PRESS.*

SINCE 1896 a controversy has been carried on, particularly in Germany, brought about by a "Missale Speciale," which a former owner, Otto Hupp, and the present owner, Ludwig Rosenthal, bookseller of Munich, claim to be one of the very earliest products of Gutenberg's press. The controversy raged strongest during 1898 and 1899, and was productive of quite a number of monographs and articles (Vide PUBLISHERS' WEEKLY, May 20, 1899, and March 31, 1900, for an examination and summary of this literature by the present writer). A new impetus has been given to the subject by the recent discovery of another and nearly identical "Missale speciale abbreviatum," in the Monastery of St. Paul in Lavantthale, Carinthia. They were both exhibited, side by side, at the Gutenberg Exhibition, held at Mentz in the summer of 1900. Dr. Adolf Schmidt, chief librarian of the Hofbibliothek of Darmstadt, informed me, in a letter written in July of that year, that the opponents of Hupp had been much strengthened in their adverse opinion of the "Missale speciale" by their comparison of both missals at this exhibition; among them were Dziatzko, Schwenke, Schorbach, Falk and Mademoiselle Pellechet. Prof. Dr. Velke, of the Gutenberg Museum of Mentz, wrote about the same time that "with the greatest probability Hupp's missal must be assigned to a late date, about 1470." With this view most of the best specialists agree. Yet, in spite of this fact, Rosenthal last year was asking 300,000 marks ($75,000) for this imperfect volume.

Hupp in his latest monograph contends that these early printed Missals stand isolated in a class by themselves as well for their contents as for their typographical considerations. His nearly one hundred pages are tiresome reading, because he keeps repeating himself, as though he took especial delight in reiterating this or that point. He believes that the "Missale speciale" and "Missale abbreviatum" were both printed in the same office at the same time, and says there is evidence that certain leaves in both must have been pulled from the press in one and the same hour. Gutenberg he judges to have been the master-printer, but credits him with having printed comparatively few leaves himself—only the Canon and some of the rubricated or more difficult matter. The greater part of the Missals was printed by assistants, says Hupp, and he ascribes the beginning of the printing of them to the end of the year 1448, and their completion before the printing of the 42-line Bible.

The "Missale speciale" lacks sixteen leaves out of a total of 192 (there remain 345 printed pages). The "Missale abbreviatum" has no gaps, and consists of 72 leaves or 126 printed pages; the verso of the 69th leaf ends the printed text. Of these, 97 pages are exactly the same as in the "Missale speciale"; some others vary only in a minute degree; while 21 pages, although agreeing in contents, vary in composition (Satz). There is no colophon of any kind in the "Missale abbreviatum." From this Hupp concludes that the other Missal (imperfect at the end) also had none. But there is good reason to suppose that the "Missale speciale" originally had a colophon, dated sometime between 1470 and 1480.

In the "Missale abbreviatum" there is a full-page woodcut of the Crucifixion. It precedes the Canon, and has been colored and retouched by hand. Some experts in the art of early woodcuts place it as early as 1450; several say it may have been cut between 1450-1465, and not later than 1470. These are the admissions in Hupp's pamphlet, but they show a wide disagreement among the "doctors."

Finally there is little likelihood that Hupp's latest polemic will succeed in converting his opponents to his views, and we agree with Dr. Schmidt that "the two Missals will no doubt yet set many pens in motion."

VICTOR HUGO PALTSITS.

SIX BEST SELLING BOOKS, MAY-JUNE.

ACCORDING to The Bookman the six books that sold best in the order of demand from May 1 to June 1, are:

	POINTS.
1. Dorothy Vernon. Major. (Macmillan)	263
2. The Mississippi Bubble. Hough. (Bowen-Merrill Co.)	196
3. The Hound of the Baskervilles. Doyle (McClure, Phillips & Co.)	180
4. The Lady Paramount. Harland. (Lane)	111

6. The Leopard's Spots. Dixon. (Doubleday, Page & Co.)	80

NOTES ON AUTHORS.

JOHN MORLEY's biography of Gladstone will not be ready for publication until next spring.

CONTRARY to the growing custom of illustrating popular novels, Augusta Evans Wilson's forthcoming book, "A Speckled Bird," will have no illustrations, the author objecting to artists' portrayal of her characters.

TOLSTOY is said to have entirely recovered, and is at work on his autobiography. The current issue of the Open Court contains an informing account of Tolstoy at close range by one who has been closely connected with him for many years.

OWING to a difference of opinion as to the exact date of birth, the centenary of the birth of Alexandre Dumas, the elder, will be celebrated on two separate days. One celebration was held in Paris on the 6th inst., the other will be held on July 26.

FREDERICK MACMONNIES, the sculptor, who is at present in New York City, is at work on a book on Paris, which he hopes will make life easier for the art student, especially the American student, for whom Europe and Paris are the final goal of ambition.

PAUL DU CHAILLU is writing a new book for young people about the wonders of the great African forest, to be entitled "King Mombo." The book will contain stories of many exciting experiences in hunting elephants, gorillas, crocodiles and other wild beasts.

CYRUS TOWNSEND BRADY has the distinction of being the most rapid worker among American writers—having written thirteen books and twenty-eight short stories in four years; and yet his working hours are from 9 A.M. to 3 P.M., six days a week, unless there's a football game somewhere around.

WALTER JERROLD, well known as the editor of Thackeray, Sterne, De Quincey and Emerson in the Temple Classics, is writing a volume on George Meredith for The Writers of To-Day series. Hamilton Fyfe, a prominent member of the staff of the London Times, is at work on a volume dealing with Arthur Pinero for the same series.

THOMAS HARDY, who on the 2d of June entered on his sixty-third year, began life as an architect, and practiced for five years with Sir A. Blomfield. His architectural knowledge is evidenced in more than one of his novels. He made his first notable success with "Far from the Madding Crowd" in 1874, but it is perhaps his later work—"Tess of the D'Urbervilles" and "Jude the Obscure"—that is considered most distinctive.

EDWARD F. JONES, of Binghamton, N. Y., former Lieutenant-Governor of New York, widely known as "Jones pays the freight," has just completed a novel entitled "Richard Baxter." For several years he has been nearly blind, being barely able to cross the street alone, but he has worked faithfully on his book, dictating to his stenographer. The scene of the novel is centred around Concord, N. H., and in many instances is said to recall "David Harum."

THE Duke d'Abruzzi's account of his Arctic expedition, in which he penetrated further north than Nansen, reaching latitude 86 degrees 33 minutes north, is completed, together with the translations of it made into the principal European languages. It will be simultaneously published in October in Italian, French, English, German, and the Scandinavian languages. Ulrico Hoepli, of Milan, Italy, who will publish the book in the original, is authorized to sell the copyright and make all the arrangements for an American edition.

DR. W. A. P. MARTIN will soon start for China to preside over the new University at Wu-Chang, negotiations having just been concluded by cable with Chang Chih Tung, the Viceroy of Hupeh and Hunan. Viceroy Chang, author of "China's Only Hope," is to-day the leader of the Reform Movement in China, and under him President Martin is to establish this center of education for the civil service of the Empire. Dr. Martin's two great books, "The Cycle of Cathay" and "The Lore of Cathay," have given him an international reputation.

THE COMTESSE DE ROCHAMBEAU, of the delegation of honor recently in this country, conferred upon Hallie Erminie Rives the honor of entertaining her en famille. She sent a special invitation to Miss Rives and received her in her own private suite at the Waldorf-Astoria. The story of Rochambeau's coming with his fleet to the aid of Washington and the part which French diplomacy and money played in the successful outcome of the American Revolution, forms the core and motive of Miss Rives's novel, "Hearts Courageous." The Comtesse carried with her a copy of the novel, autographed, for President Loubet, of France.

JOURNALISTIC NOTES.

Medical Book News is the title of a new bi-monthly publication devoted to the literature of medicine and the allied sciences published by P. Blakiston's Son & Co., Philadelphia. It will contain lists of new books, reviews taken from prominent periodicals, occasional criticisms, news items and advertisements. The first number is dated July 1.

The International Monthly will henceforth be issued every quarter from September on. It will contain twice as many articles and be double the size of the monthly, and the type and margins will be enlarged proportionately. Two new departments will be added, one devoted to a criticism of the more important works of current literature, the other to the drama and fine arts. Frederick A. Richardson will continue as editor, and the political chronicle will be continued by Joseph B. Bishop. Among the contributors to The International Quarterly will be President Eliot of Harvard University, President Hadley of Yale, Capt. Alfred T. Mahan, Prof. Franklin H. Giddings of Columbia University, William Ostwald, Pasquale Villari, Ferdinand Brunetiere, M. Coquelin, the French actor; John La Farge, Prof. Matthews of Columbia University, John W. Foster, Viscount de Vogüé, Andrew Lang, and the Right Hon. James Bryce.

OLD BOOK NOTES.

THE old book shops of Constantinople are interestingly described by Henry Otis Dwight in the June issue of The Forum.

AN EARLY POEM OF RUSKIN.—"A Cambridge bookseller, David Cadney, of 27 Regent Street, Cambridge," according to F. W. Bourdillon in the London Athenaeum, "has discovered what appears pretty certainly to be the first published poem of Ruskin, in a volume dated 1834—that is, a year before the verses on Salzburg appeared in 'Friendship's Offering.' The full title of the book is 'The Bow in the Clouds, or, the Negro's Memorial, a Collection of Original Contributions in Prose and Verse, Illustrative of the Evils of Slavery, and Commemorative of its Abolition in the British Colonies.' It was published in London by Jackson & Walford. The editor's name is not given, but the preface is dated from Wincobank Hall (Yorkshire.) May 8, 1834; so it should be possible to discover it. How Ruskin became connected with the book is suggested by the fact that among the contributors is Thomas Pringle, to whom he had been introduced the year before (Collingwood, 'Biographical Data,' vol. i. p. 259 of 'Poems of John Ruskin,' 1891.) Ruskin's contribution, signed merely J. R., is entitled 'Repose for the Weary,' and consists of thirty-two lines of blank verse, beginning:

"There is a spot within the Western isle
Where all is peace and freedom, and the Slave
In that small lone inclosure finds a home."

"The seriousness and evident attempt at dignity of style, with a certain air of immaturity both of thought and expression, are very characteristic of Ruskin's early poetry, and, on both external and internal evidence, it seems probable that these lines are his."

In connection with the above item it may be remembered that Ruskin's earliest literary work came upon the market last year and was privately sold to Mr. Severn of Brantwood. This was "The Puppet Show, or, Amusing Characters for Children," an unpublished manuscript in printed characters on thirty leaves, with fifty-seven original drawings in color. It was written when Ruskin was nearly ten years of age.

THE Fountaine collection sold by Sotheby's, June 11-14, realized a total of £10,732. The highest price was paid by Quaritch for a fourteenth century manuscript of Gower's "Confessio Amantis." Two interesting books were secured for an American—report says for Marsden J. Perry, of Providence, R. I. The earliest of the two was "Polimanteia," 1595, by "W. C.," which contains the first-known printed reference to Shakespeare, a fine copy that fetched £131. The other was a fine copy of the first edition of "The Merry Devil of Edmonton," 1608, one of three known copies that sold for £300. Mr. Perry is also reported to have secured for £197 a copy of Shakespeare's "Henry the Fifth," 1617. The Fountaine library was chiefly collected by Sir Andrew Fountaine of Norfolk Hall, Norfolk, during the reigns of Queen Anne and King George I and II. The Perry library was recently removed to a historic old Colonial house in Providence, originally the Brown-Gammel mansion.

BUSINESS NOTES.

CINCINNATI, O.—J. R. Hawley, who has conducted a book, periodical and stationery store in Cincinnati for years, assigned on the 8th inst. The claims are mostly held by sporting goods dealers in New York and Chicago. Mr. Hawley recently removed to the Arcade, and the removal is said to have occasioned a pressure of creditors.

COLUMBIA, Mo.—Sission & Vivion, booksellers, have made an assignment.

CRAWFORDSVILLE, IND.—Brower Brothers, booksellers, have filed a petition in bankruptcy.

DOVER, DEL.—The Investors' Development and Security Company, of New York, capital $2,500,000, was incorporated here on July 8. The company is to buy, sell and deal in patents, trademarks and copyrights. The incorporators are W. J. Ball and Albert L. Conklin, Jr., of New York, and James Virdin, of Dover.

NASHVILLE, TENN.—Bigham and Smith were elected successors to Barbee & Smith at the General Conference at Dallas, Texas in May. The new agents took charge June 1. The business of this house will be conducted during the next four years under the name of Bigham & Smith, Agts.

NEW YORK CITY.—John R. Anderson has removed to 114 Fifth Avenue.

NEW YORK CITY.—Judge McCarthy of the City Court has appointed Eugene C. Gilroy receiver of the assets of the Columbia Publishing Company, of 141 East 25th Street, on the application of the Twelfth Ward Bank, which obtained two judgments against the company on July 1, 1901, for $2,041. The company was incorporated in August, 1894, under New Jersey laws, with a capital stock of $25,000, which was increased to $75,000 in November, 1897. It published The Municipal and Railway Record. Its plant, valued at $7,000, is in possession of another company at the same address under some kind of an agreement. The other assets consist of office furniture and shares of stock in several companies, value unknown.

LITERARY AND TRADE NOTES.

CHARLES F. DAVENPORT, formerly with the book department of Wanamaker's New York store, has taken charge of the book department of Gimbel Brothers, of Philadelphia.

W. H. WALKER, well known to the trade, has connected himself with the business of George D. Smith, dealer in rare books, at 50 New Street, New York.

WILLIAM DOXEY has, for the time being, at least, abandoned the Sign of the Lark, and may now be found in the fine book department of Dodd, Mead & Co.

THE action of the King's Reader of Plays in prohibiting the performance in London of Maeterlinck's new play, "Monna Vanna," has called forth a vigorous protest from a number of prominent English literary men.

ARCHIBALD CONSTABLE & Co., London, have in press a volume of "Reminiscences of Punch and its Contributors," by Arthur à Beckett, who has just retired from that journal after nearly thirty years' service.

CHARLES SCRIBNER'S SONS are fitting up an up-to-date printing plant in the Hallenbeck Building, at the corner of Pearl and Park Streets, New York, especially for the accommodation of Scribner's Magazine.

THE PHILOSOPHER PRESS, at the "Sign of the Green Pine Tree," Wausau, Wis., announces a reprint of William Wetmore Story's "A Roman Lawyer in Jerusalem," under the title of "In Defense of Judas."

S. F. HARRIMAN, Columbus, O., will publish in October the second volume of "The Hesperian Tree," to be edited also by the Hon. John James Piatt. The price of the first volume will be raised from $5 to $7.

WILLIAM GREEN whose name, through his father, has been connected with the printing business of New York for upwards of half a century, will, in connection with Town Topics and Smart Set, occupy an eleven-story building which is now being built at 310 to 324 West Thirty-eighth Street, New York.

HENRY ALTEMUS COMPANY will publish next month, "A Book of Toasts," by Mrs. Minna Thomas Antrim, ("Titan,") author of "Naked Truths and Veiled Allusions," now in its eighth edition; also, "For Prey and Spoils, or, the Boy Buccaneer," a story of pirates, by Frederick A. Ober.

R. H. RUSSELL has just brought out a pictorial souvenir of famous "Opera Singers," with biographic notices written by Gustav Kobbé, of Nordica, Calvé, Eames, the De Reszkes, Melba, Sembrich and Schumann-Heinck. There is also a chapter on "Opera Singers Off Duty," containing amusing anecdotes. The book is illustrated with half-tone reproductions of photographs of the different artists in costume and in ordinary dress.

THE CENTURY COMPANY will add to their popular Thumb-Nail Series, Tennyson's "In Memoriam," with an introduction by E. C. Stedman; Sheridan's "The Rivals," with an introduction by Joseph Jefferson; and "Thoughts of Pascal," newly translated from the French by Benjamin E. Smith. They will also publish John Bach McMaster's biography of Daniel Webster, some of which has already appeared in The Century Magazine.

DODD, MEAD & Co. have in preparation Sir Walter Besant's last novel, "No Other Way," which deals with the debtor side of English life many years ago, a glimpse of which is given in "The Vicar of Wakefield"; also, "A Song of a Single Note," by Amelia E. Barr, a story of New York in the early years of the Revolution while the British were in possession, which in point of time comes between the author's "The Bow of Orange Ribbon" and "Maid of Maiden Lane."

D. APPLETON & Co. have in press for early publication, "The Things That Are Cæsar's," a novel by Reginald Kauffman, author of "Jarvis of Harvard." They have in preparation for their Library of Useful Stories, "The Story of a Grain of Wheat"; for their Story of the West series, "The Story of the Trapper," by Miss A. C. Laut, author of the "Heralds of Empire"; also, "Up from Georgia," a new volume of poems by F. L. Stanton, author of "Up From the Soil."

HENRY T. COATES & Co. will shortly issue in a limited edition, the four papers on "European Gardens," that appeared in House and Garden. The papers are "Italian Gardens," by Professor A. D. F. Hamlin, of Columbia University; "English Gardens," by R. Clipston Sturgis; "French Gardens," by John Galen Howard, and "Japanese Gardens," by K. Honda, of the Japanese Horticultural Society. The volume will have an attractive cover designed by Guernsey Moore.

LONGMANS, GREEN & Co. will publish immediately Section IX. of volume III. of "The Norwegian North Pole Expedition, 1893-1896," which will treat of "the oceanography of the North Polar basin," and Section X. treating of hydrometer and the surface tension of liquids both by Fridtjof Nansen; also, the following from Edward Arnold's list: "Seven Roman Statesmen," a detailed study of the Gracchi, Cato, Marius, Sulla, Pompey and Cæsar, by Prof. Charles Oman of Oxford, and "A Primer of Physiology," by Leonard Hill.

THE FREDERICK J. QUINBY COMPANY, Boston, propose to publish their translation of Paul de Kock's works, by Miss Mary Hanford Ford, in various luxurious styles, as for instance two separate sets of 100 volumes each for $200,000 and $150,000 respectively; an edition of twenty-five sets of fifty volumes at $5,000 the set; an edition of fifty sets of fifty volumes at $3,750 the set, and an edition of 100 sets of fifty volumes at $1,500 the set. Whether this is an advertising scheme to "boom" a long-delayed publication or a serious announcement we are unable to state.

HENRY HOLT & Co. will publish shortly a "History of the Roman People," by Professor Charles Seignobos, the translation of which is edited by Dr. William Fairley of the New York High Schools, who brings the history down from Theodosius I. to Charlemagne, and appends to each chapter a very full set of parallel readings and a list of sources available in English; the second volume of Professor J. P. Gordy's "Political Parties in the United States," continuing the history to 1820; a brief "Synopsis of Animal Classification," by Professor Wilder of Smith College; also, Malot's "Sans Famille," abridged by Hugo P. Thieme, of the University of Michigan.

JOHN LANE will publish at once a volume entitled "With Napoleon at St. Helena," by Paul Frémeaux, from the memoirs of Dr. John Stokoe, naval surgeon, translated by Edith S. Stokoe. The purpose of the work appears to be to expose the methods Sir Hudson Lowe employed in treating his prisoner. Facsimiles of a number of letters, documents, etc., accompany the text. Mr. Lane will publish in this country an edition of Sir Thomas Browne's "Religio Medici," including also "Urn Burial," "Christian Morals" and other essays, edited by C. J. Holmes, and printed under the direction of C. S. Ricketts who has furnished the decorations.

M. O. SHERRILL, State Librarian, Raleigh, N. C., is offering for sale a complete history of the North Carolina troops in the war of 1861-'65, in five large octavo volumes containing 4100 pages. The text was written and the work edited entirely by participants in the war, without charge for their services; and the engravings were furnished by friends. The State furnished paper, printing and binding and owns the work, which it is selling at cost, viz., $1 a volume. There are over 1000 engravings of officers and private soldiers, including all of the 35 Generals from North Carolina; also, 13 full-page engravings of battles and 32 maps. The indexes embrace over 17,000 names. The edition is limited.

LITTLE, BROWN & Co. have postponed the publication of "The Queen of Quelparte," a romance of Korean politics, by Archer Butler Hulbert. They will publish in the fall, "The Speronare," by the elder Dumas, translated by Katherine Prescott Wormeley. In 1834 Dumas set forth upon a series of journeys which furnished material for some delightful sketches and stories. The pages of the guide-books of the present day are filled with the lore, historical and legendary, which Dumas gathered, and which is well known to travelers; but the great writer's tales and anecdotes are as fresh and entertaining as ever, and from this feast Miss Wormeley, the translator of Balzac, has gathered a series of volumes of which "The Speronare" will be the first. It describes a Mediterranean trip, taking the reader through Sicily.

FLEMING H. REVELL COMPANY publish this week a new story by Mrs. Caroline Atwater Mason, entitled "The Little Green God," a pungent satire, witty, humorous and pathetic. It is a story of a returned missionary from India, who beholds to his amazement the heathenism of half-hearted Christianity. The book arouses sympathy for the horrified missionary, who ultimately turns his back on so-called Christian America, and seeks a refuge in heathen India. They will publish soon a popular handbook by the Rev. Dr. Howard A. Johnston, entitled "Bible Criticism and the Average Man," in which the subject is treated in plain words and in such a way as will tend to settle rather than disturb faith; also, "Soo Thah," the story of the Christianizing of the Karens of Burma, by Dr. Alonzo Bunker, who has been for thirty years a resident among the Karens.

THE MACMILLAN COMPANY will publish in August a work by George L. Bolen entitled "Plain Facts as to the Trusts and the Tariff, with chapters on the Railroad Problem and Municipal Monopolies;" also, "Development and Evolution," by Professor Baldwin, which forms the third volume in his series on genetic science of which the volumes on "Mental Development" and "Social and Ethical Interpretations" are already so well known to educators as well as to psychologists and philosophers. They have also in preparation Sir Gilbert Parker's "History of Quebec," which will be brought out in two volumes, with upwards of a hundred illustrations from the author's large collection of old prints and new photographs of French Canada. They will publish in the fall Savage Landor's "Persia," which will have a large number of illustrations, mainly from the author's own photographs or drawings, and including artistic views. The ruined cities of Eastern Afghanistan and Baluchistan come within the range of this work, which will be expanded into two volumes.

G. P. PUTNAM'S SONS will publish shortly, "As Seen from the Ranks, a Boy in the Civil War," by Charles E. Benton, of the 150th N. Y. S. V., a private soldier's account of war, which is said to be of interest in studying the point of view of the private, and the problem of an army in the field as seen from the ranks. They also have in preparation "Old Paths and Legends of New England," by Katherine M. Abbott, with many illustrations of Massachusetts Bay, Old Colony, Rhode Island and Providence Plantations, and the Fresh river of the Connecticut valley; "The Hudson River from Ocean to Source—historical, legendary, picturesque," by Edgar Mayhew Bacon, with about one hundred illustrations; "Famous Families of New York," historic and biographic sketches of families which in successive generations have been identified with the development of the city by Margherita Arlina Hamm, in two volumes; "The Romance of the Colorado River," an account of the first discovery and of the explorations from 1540 to the present time, with particular reference to the two voyages of Powell through the line of the great canyons, by Frederick S. Dellenbaugh, a member of the U. S. Colorado River Expedition of 1871 and 1872, with an introduction by J. W. Powell, fully illustrated; "A Political History of Slavery," from the earliest agitations in the 18th century to the close of the Reconstruction period in America, by William Henry Smith, with an introduction by Whitelaw Reid; also, "Rhode Island; its Making and its Meaning," a survey of the annals of the Commonwealth from its settlement to the death of Roger Williams, 1636-1683, by Irving Berdine Richman, with an introduction by James Bryce. They have just ready in the Story of the Nations series: "Medieval Rome, from Hildebrand to Clement VIII., 1073-1600," by William Miller, and "Wales," by Owen M. Edwards.

OBITUARY NOTE.

HERVÉ AUGUSTE ETIENNE ALBANS FAYE, the celebrated French astronomer, died in Paris, July 4. He was the oldest member of the French Academy of Sciences, having been born at St. Benoit du Sault, October 5, 1814. In 1843 he discovered a new comet which bears his name. He wrote a number of astronomical works and translated a portion of Humboldt's "Cosmos."

TERMS OF ADVERTISING.

Under the heading "Books Wanted" book-trade subscribers are given the privilege of a free advertisement for books out of print, of five nonpareil lines exclusive of address, in any issue except special numbers, to an extent not exceeding 100 lines a year. If more than five lines are sent, the excess is at 10 cents a line, and amount should be inclosed. Bids for current books and such as may be easily had from the publishers, and repeated matter, as well as all advertisements from non-subscribers, must be paid for at the rate of 10 cents a line.

Under the heading "Books for Sale," the charge to subscribers and non-subscribers is 10 cents a nonpareil line for each insertion. No deduction for repeated matter.

All other mail, undisplayed, advertisements will be charged at the uniform rate of 10 cents a nonpareil line. Eight words may be reckoned to the line.

Parties with whom we have no accounts must pay in advance, otherwise no notice will be taken of their communications.

BOOKS WANTED.

IN answering, please state edition, condition, and price, including postage or express charges.

Houses that are willing to deal exclusively on a cash-on-delivery basis will find it to their advantage to put after their firm-name the word [Cash].

Write your wants plainly and on one side of the sheet only. Illegibly-written "wants" will be considered as not having been received. The "Publishers' Weekly" does not hold itself responsible for errors.

It should be understood that the appearance of advertisements in this column, or elsewhere in the "Publishers' Weekly" does not furnish a guarantee of credit. While it is endeavored to safeguard these columns by withdrawing the privilege of their use from advertisers who are not "good pay," booksellers should take the usual precaution, as to advertisers not known to them, that they would take in making sales to any unknown parties.

R. H. RUSSELL, Publisher. NEW YORK

A SUCCESSFUL publisher is one who constantly seeks to get the best value for the least money. That's why I am a successful bookbinder. Also because I turn out the highest grade of work at from ten to twenty-five per cent. less than anyone else. How do I do it? That is the burning question amongst the trade to-day.

My answer is, "Don't ask the why and the wherefore," but send me your stamps and dummies and I will make up samples which will show the highest character of work and upon which I will give you estimates that cannot be met. My equipment and plant is the finest and one of the largest of its kind in the country. Large output and small profits are the keystones to my success. Don't take my word for these statements. Come and see for yourself.

Bibliographic Publications.

For all American books as they appear, take THE PUBLISHERS' WEEKLY; for an hour's glance each month at the important books and magazine papers, take LITERARY NEWS; for library matters take THE LIBRARY JOURNAL; for magazine articles in general, consult THE ANNUAL LITERARY INDEX; for books in print or issued of late years, see THE AMERICAN and ANNUAL CATALOGUES.

THE PUBLISHERS' WEEKLY. Established in 1872, with which was incorporated the American Literary Gazette and Publishers' Circular (established in 1852.) Recognized as the representative of the publishing and bookselling interests in the United States. Contains full weekly record of American publications, with monthly cumulative indexes, etc. Subscription, $3.00 a year, postpaid; to foreign countries, postpaid, $4.00 a year; single numbers, 10 cents, postpaid.

THE LIBRARY JOURNAL. Official Organ of the American Library Association. Chiefly devoted to library economy and bibliography. Established in 1876. Published monthly. Subscription, $5.00 a year, postpaid; single numbers, 50 cents. Price to Europe, or other countries in the Union, $6 a year; single numbers, 25. (LITERARY NEWS is sent free to subscribers of THE LIBRARY JOURNAL.) Teachers may be interested in the "School Number" published in the spring of each year.

GENERAL INDEX TO THE LIBRARY JOURNAL, vols. 1-25, 1876-1897. Arranged to serve as an index to succeeding volumes or for other sources of professional information. 4°, in sheets, or paper binding, $2.50; A. L. A. half leather, $3.00.

LITERARY NEWS. A Monthly Journal of Current Literature. Contains the freshest news concerning books and authors; lists of new publications; reviews and critical comments; characteristic extracts; sketches and anecdotes of authors; bibliographical references; prominent topics of the magazines; portraits of authors, and illustrations from the newest books, etc., etc. Subscription, $1.00 a year, postpaid; single numbers, 10 cents.

THE AMERICAN CATALOGUE of books in print and for sale July 1, 1876, compiled under the direction of F. LEYFOLDT, and its supplements, 1876-84, 1884-90, 1890-95, and 1895-1900, compiled under the editorial direction of R. R. BOWKER, aims to present all the bibliographical features of the books in the American market, arranged in the first part alphabetically by both authors and titles, and in the second part alphabetically by subjects.

The Catalogue and its supplementary volumes form the only approximately complete guide in existence to the American books of the day, so arranged as to make reference easy from whatever direction the inquiry may come, whether from that of the author, or the title, or the subject. It not only furnishes the desired information about any particular book of which the consumer is in search, but shows what others there are by the same author or on the same subject in which he is interested. To the bookseller, therefore, it is valuable both in filling orders and in stimulating business; to the librarian, in supplying gaps and proportioning his collection; and to all who are practically concerned with books, in furnishing information which nowhere else is obtainable by so convenient a method, if obtainable at all.

The author-and-title volume of the 1876 volume is out of print. A limited number of the subject volume may be had in half leather binding at $15.

The volume covering the period 1876-84 is also out of print.

- , 1884-90, 4°, hf. mor., $25. (1 copy only remains.)
- , 1890-95, 4°, hf. mor., $15.

THE ANNUAL AMERICAN CATALOGUE.

Being the full titles, with descriptive notes, of all books recorded in THE PUBLISHERS' WEEKLY during the calendar year, with author, title, and subject index, publishers' annual lists and directory of publishers. Published annually since 1886. 8vo, sheets, net, $3.00; half morocco, $3.50.

THE PUBLISHERS' TRADE LIST ANNUAL. Contains: The latest catalogues of nearly 300 American publishers, contributed by themselves and arranged alphabetically by the firm-names and smaller lists at the end of the volume. These lists, all bound in one volume arranged alphabetically for ready reference, with marginal index, guiding the finger at once to the right letter, present in their combination so convenient and time-saving a working-tool as to make it indispensable to every one who has any interest in the purchase or sale of books. Large 8vo, with "Duplex Index," cloth, net, $2.00.

THE ANNUAL LITERARY INDEX, including Periodicals, American and English; Essays, Book-Chapters, etc., with Author-Index, Bibliographies, Necrology and Index to Dates of Principal Events. Edited, with the coöperation of members of the American Library Association and of The Library Journal staff, by W. I. FLETCHER and R. R. BOWKER. 8°, cloth, $3.50.

THE AMERICAN EDUCATIONAL CATALOGUE. Contains a price-list of all the text-books in use in the United States, arranged alphabetically by author's or editor's name, and a detailed subject-index, referring from each specific subject to authors of books on that subject. 8vo, leatherette, 50 cents.

THE ENGLISH CATALOGUE [Annual] giving full titles classified under author and subject in one strict alphabet, with particulars of the size, price, month of publication, and name of publisher of the books issued in Great Britain and Ireland, in the calendar year, being a continuation of the "London" and "British" Catalogues. [London: Sampson Low, Marston & Co.] 8vo, paper, net, $1.50. THE ENGLISH CATALOGUE and THE ANNUAL AMERICAN CATALOGUE bound in one volume, half leather, $5.00.

PUBLICATIONS OF SOCIETIES: a provisional list of the publications of American scientific, literary, and other societies from their organization. Compiled under the editorial direction of R. R. BOWKER. Schedules over 1100 societies issuing publications, and gives title-entries of all their publications, as far as data could be obtained from the societies and from libraries. 4°, paper, $2.50; cloth, $3.00.

STATE PUBLICATIONS: a provisional list of the official publications of the several States of the United States from their organization. Compiled under the editorial direction of R. R. BOWKER. Pt. 1: New England States—Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont, Massachusetts, Rhode Island, Connecticut. 4°, $2.00. (For complete work, $5.00.)

LIST OF AMERICAN PUBLISHERS, 1890-1895. The street address is given in nearly every case, and the abbreviation under which the firm's books are entered in the "American Catalogue," 1890-95. 4to, pap., $2.00.

UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT PUBLICATIONS. July 1, 1890 to June 30, 1895. Compiled, under the editorial direction of R. R. BOWKER, by J. H. HICKCOX. 60 pp., 4to, pap., $1.50.

THE SUNDAY-SCHOOL LIBRARY. By Rev. A. E. DUNNING. 16mo, cloth, 6 cents.

THE PROFESSION OF BOOKSELLING: a handbook of practical hints for the apprentice and bookseller. By A. GROWELL, managing editor of THE PUBLISHERS' WEEKLY, and author of "A Bookseller's Library," "Book-trade Bibliography in the United States in the XIXth Century," etc. Pts. 1 and 2. 134 p. Large 8°, bds., each, $2.00. (Concluding part in preparation.)

TWENTY-FIVE CENT EDITION

DOROTHY VERNON Or, THE BEAUTY OF HADDON HALL

THIS delightful, original romance was first published in England early in the present year, and must not be confounded with "DOROTHY VERNON OF HADDON HALL," by Mr. CHARLES MAJOR, a later and far inferior novel.

It is the very powerful, true narrative of the love of Dorothy, youngest daughter of Sir George Vernon, a great English noble. Dorothy is really a lovable little maid of sweet disposition, and all readers will become enthusiastic over the clever manner in which she and her lover, John Manners, outwit their persecutors.

It has never before been published in paper covered form, and will prove a source of profit and satisfaction to the dealer who is wise enough to order liberally. It is bound in very handsome multi-colored covers, is sewed, and is printed from clear, new type on fine wove paper. In short, it is the most attractive and notable 25c. book published in years.

Retail, 25c.; Trade, 15c. Fully Returnable

State Publications

A Provisional List of the Official Publications of the Several States of the United States from their Organization

COMPILED UNDER THE EDITORIAL DIRECTION OF

R. R. BOWKER

PART I: NEW ENGLAND STATES—Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont, Massachusetts, Rhode Island, Connecticut

This first part of the bibliography of State Publications includes preface giving a sketch of State Bibliography, and 99 pages covering the issues of the New England States from their organization, with blank space for extensions. But 500 copies have been printed, and there are no plates.

The complete work, exceeding 300 pages, will be furnished at $5, and the first part will be sent, only to those subscribing for the whole, on the receipt of subscription and $2 remittance.

The attention of State libraries, of the central public libraries, and of foreign libraries is especially called to this publication, but it is also important to that larger number of libraries which cannot undertake to collect the State publications even of their own State, and yet should be able to inform students and inquirers as to what is to be found in the publications of their own State and of other States. What New York and Massachusetts are doing in forestry, for instance, is of importance in all States and to foreign students of the subject.

Publications of Societies

A Provisional List of the Publications of American Scientific, Literary, and Other Societies
from their Organization

R. R. BOWKER

This volume, of about 200 pages, schedules over 1100 societies issuing publications, and gives title-entries of all their publications, as far as data could be obtained from the societies and from libraries. It will be found of use in all libraries—in large libraries as a check-list, in small libraries as a bibliographical key to a most important field of special literature.

THE OFFICE OF THE PUBLISHERS' WEEKLY

298 BROADWAY, (P. O. BOX 943,) NEW YORK

For 1902 PUBLISHERS' TRADE LIST ANNUAL (Thirtieth Year)

In response to the desires of the book trade we shall publish the forthcoming issue of THE PUBLISHERS' TRADE LIST ANNUAL, to be ready at the opening of the active Fall season, in August, 1902, to the publishers' catalogues contained therein. The books will be indexed by author, title and, practically, by subject or class. The name of series, the price, and name of publisher will also be given, so that any book contained in the ANNUAL may be located at once by whatsoever clue the user may have. The Index will be printed in two columns to the page, in readable type, full face letters being used to make reference to authors' names more convenient.

The bulk of the volume, as heretofore, will consist of the latest CATALOGUES OF 250 FIRMS PUBLISHING BOOKS IN THE UNITED STATES, contributed by themselves and arranged alphabetically by the firm names, with the smaller lists and advertisements of single books at the end. The patent "Duplex Index," having the alphabet printed on the concave surface as well as on the margin of the page, enables instantaneous reference to the catalogues and the lists, whether the book is open or shut.

These lists, thus bound together, present in their combination so convenient and time-saving a working tool as to have made THE TRADE LIST ANNUAL for upwards of a quarter of a century indispensable to every one who has any interest in the purchase or sale of books published in the United States. With the reference index to the books listed in the publishers' catalogues its practical usefulness will be enhanced an hundred fold.

The work will be offered to the trade in two styles :

With the Index, in 2 Volumes, bound in cloth, $5 00
Without the Index, in 1 Volume, bound in cloth, 1 50

if ordered and paid for in advance of publication. After publication day the price of the work with the index will be raised to $7.00, and of the work without the index to $2.00. Orders, stating whether the volume is desired with or without the index, should be registered at

NOTES IN SEASON.

DODD, MEAD & Co. have in preparation "The Conquest of Charlotte," a new novel by David S. Meldrum, the scene of which is divided between Fife and London.

THE HOME PUBLISHING COMPANY, New York, will publish, on the 21st inst., a story of the "lower coast" of Louisiana, by Colonel Richard Henry Savage, entitled "Special Orders for Commander Leigh." Graphic pictures are given of the plotting of the agents of the Confederate Government in Europe, especially in Paris, and of the adventures and the destruction of the Alabama.

D. APPLETON & Co. have just ready an important book on "The Care of the Teeth," by Dr. S. A. Hopkins, Professor of Theory and Practice of Dentistry in Tuft's College Dental School. The book is addressed to dentists and physicians as well as to the general reader. They have also just ready "The Story of the Art of Music," by Frederick J. Crowe, a new volume in the Library of Useful Stories; and the fourth edition of Dr. Alvah H. Doty's handbook on "Prompt Aid to the Injured," revised to date.

THE BURROWS BROTHERS COMPANY have just ready an attractive reprint of Denton's "A Brief Description of New York, Formerly Called New Netherlands," with the title in facsimile. The text is reprinted from the original edition of 1670 in the Library of Congress, and is prefaced with the bibliographical introduction by Felix Neumann, printed in THE PUBLISHERS' WEEKLY a short time ago. The edition is limited to 250 copies on hand-made paper and 10 copies on Japan paper. This reprint will be followed by others of equal historic and bibliographic importance.

FUNK & WAGNALLS COMPANY have just ready the second volume of the truly colossal "Jewish Encyclopedia," covering the subject from "Apocrypha" to "Benash." It has been prepared under the direction of the same staff of editors and writers that made the first volume, and in every respect equals it in excellence and thoroughness. Considering that fully four-fifths of the material for this work had to be created, collected and digested for this special purpose, the work is not conventionally but truthfully a monument of research and information, and as such deserves a full measure of success. Typographically the work is all that can be desired. Especially is this true of the 147 illustrations that accompany this second volume.

F. WARNE & Co. announce a new novel by Mrs. J. H. Needell, author of "Julian Karslake's Secret," etc., entitled "Unstable as Water," "The Presumption of Stanley Hay, M.P.," an interesting and exciting novel by Nowell Cay, a new writer; "Kitty's Victoria Cross," a pleasing romance of two Irish girls, by Robert Cromie; two new volumes in the Library of Natural History Romance—"Shell Life," by Edward Step, an entertaining as well as instructive book written with the idea of popularizing what has hitherto been considered an abstract subject, and "A Romance of Wild Flowers," also by Mr. Step, both volumes being very fully illustrated; "The Motor Car," an elementary handbook for all who contemplate motoring, by Sir Henry Thompson; also, an essay entitled "The Unknown God?" which is described as "an attempt to seek by careful deduction from available data some certain assurance respecting the influence which the infinite and eternal energy from which all things proceed "has exercised on man from the beginning."

WEEKLY RECORD OF NEW PUBLICATIONS.

Beginning with the issue of July 5, 1902, the titles of net books published under the rules of the American Publishers' Association are preceded by a double asterisk , and the word net follows the price. The titles of action (not net) published under the rules are preceded by a dagger †. Net books not covered by the rules, whether published by members of the American Publishers' Association or not, are preceded by a single asterisk, and the word net follows the price.

The abbreviations are usually self-explanatory. c. after the date indicates that the book is copyrighted; if the copyright date differs from the imprint date, the year of copyright is added. Books of foreign origin of which the edition (annotated, illustrated, etc.) is entered as copyright, are marked c. ed.: translations, c. tr.; n. p., in place of price, indicates that the publisher makes no price, either net or retail, and quotes prices to the trade only upon application.

A colon after initial designates the most usual given name, as: A: Augustus; B: Benjamin; C: Charles; D: David; E: Edward; F: Frederic; G: George; H: Henry; I: Isaac; J: John; L: Louis; N: Nicholas; P: Peter; R: Richard; S: Samuel; T: Thomas; W: William.

Broome, I. The last days of the Ruskin Co-operative Association. Chic., C. H. Kerr & Co., 1902. c. 2-183 p. 16°, (Standard socialist ser.) cl., 50 c.

The Ruskin Co-operative Association was located west of Nashville in Tennessee. It was an attempt on the part of a group of people to escape from capitalism and to establish co-operation. The idea of founding the colony was originated by Wayland in 1893, shortly after he began the publication of The Coming Nation. The author says his book is an expose of the facts, condition and characters that figured in a movement that was defective in organization and personnel.

Cohen, Alfred J., ["Alan Dale," pseud.] A girl who wrote. N. Y., Quail & Warner, [1902.] c. 3+375 p. il. D. cl., $1.50.

The scene is mostly laid in Newspaper Row, New York City. The novel offers a number of "composite" pictures of the managing editor, the reporters, men and women, and others connected with a sensational "daily." There is a love story, in which figures a bright, intelligent woman reporter.

Creswicke, L: South Africa and the Transvaal war. N. Y., Putnam, 1902. 6 v., il. col. pls. por. 8°, per v., $2.50.

*Crosland, T. W. H. The unspeakable Scot. N. Y., Putnam, 1902. [Jl.] c. 3+215 p. D. cl., $1.25 net.

A half humorous, half serious, and wholly ironical indictment of the Scottish character and temperament. It shows that the vogue of the Scot in England and America is the outcome of Saxon indifference and not of Scottish capacity, that it is on the wane, and that it was achieved by the practice of cheap virtues. It aims to prove that in politics, arts, letters, journalism, and sundry other departments of activity, the Scot has never accomplished anything that really matters.

*Crowest, F: J. The story of the art of music. N. Y., Appleton, 1902. [Jl1902.] c. 190 p. il. T. (Library of useful stories.) cl., 35 c. net.

The efforts of a rich but uncultured husband and wife of Hebrew extraction to obtain an entrance into the best society of the hunting county of Trentshire, England, is the leading theme. When fair means fail them, they strike a blow at one of the families, by circulating a scandal, that has but slight basis of wrong. "The credit of the county," however, is in the end upheld, and Mr. and Mrs. Asher are obliged to move to another shire.

- Thirty-three letters addressed to Percy's father, the first Duke of Northumberland, the Rev. Thomas Percy, compiler of the "Reliques of Ancient English Poetry," General Harvey, Henry Reveley, and others. The peculiar position in English politics occupied by Percy is well known to students of American history, as is also his discord with the measures leading to the American war. The letters, which were first discovered in the library of Alnwick Castle, by the Rev. E: G. Porter, of Lexington, Mass., in 1878, contain comments upon men and events that add substantially to our stock of Revolutionary history. The letters have been carefully edited and supplied with an introduction and notes. The frontispiece has been specially etched by Sidney L. Smith.

The Publishers' Weekly.

FOUNDED BY F. LEYPOLDT.

JULY 19, 1902.

The editor does not hold himself responsible for the views expressed in contributed articles or communications.

All matter, whether for the reading-matter columns or advertising pages, should reach this office not later than Wednesday noon, to insure insertion in the same week's issue.

Books for the "Weekly Record," as well as all information intended for that department, should reach this office by Tuesday morning of each week.

Publishers are requested to furnish title-page proofs and advance information of books forthcoming, both for entry in the lists and for descriptive mention. An early copy of each book published should be forwarded, as it is of the utmost importance that the entries of books be made as promptly and as perfectly as possible. In many cases booksellers depend on the PUBLISHERS' WEEKLY solely for their information. The Record of New Publications of the PUBLISHERS' WEEKLY is the material of the "American Catalogue" and so forms the basis of trade bibliography in the United States.

"I hold every man a debtor to his profession, from the which, as men do of course seek to receive countenance and profit, so ought they of duty to endeavor themselves by way of amends to be a help and an ornament thereunto."—LORD BACON.

A QUESTION OF MUSICAL COPYRIGHT.

A CASE now in the Circuit Court of the United States for the Southern District of New York is being anxiously watched by all interested in musical copyright. The case in question is one to determine whether the production of copyrighted music by means of perforated rolls used either in a mechanical piano or organ is an infringement under the Copyright law.

A similar case came before Judge Colt, of the United States District Court of Massachusetts, in 1888, whose opinion was adverse to the publishers. Judge Colt's opinion, in brief, was that—

"To the ordinary mind it is certainly a difficult thing to consider these strips of paper as sheet music. There is no clef, or bars, or lines, or spaces, or other marks which are found in common printed music, but only plain strips of paper, with rows of holes or perforations."

"Copyright is the exclusive right of the owner to multiply and to dispose of copies of an intellectual production. I cannot convince myself that these perforated slips of paper are copies of sheet music, within the meaning of the copyright law. They are not made to be addressed to the eye as sheet music, but they form part of a machine. They are not designed to be used for such purposes as sheet music, nor do they in any sense occupy the same field as sheet music. They are a mechanical invention made for the sole purpose of performing tunes mechanically upon a musical instrument."

Thus far there has been no successful appeal from Judge Colt's opinions, whence it seems to follow that the composer or publisher of a copyrighted piece of music has no protection against a new system of notation or method of performance. Copyright, according to Judge Colt, is not on the idea or the production of the brain, but only on printed notes instead of holes punched in strips of paper, and on the notes as a guide for reproduction by hands instead of by the feet. As The Musical Age points out, "Considering the great number of mechanical pianos now in existence, it is apparent that the publishers of music for them are highly privileged in this freedom to seize and issue any copyrighted composition they please and to sell the same in unlimited quantities without payment of royalty and in disregard of the equitable rights of the composers and the original publishers."

This is a perversion of the intention of the framers of the law, and there ought to be some way of stopping a form of piracy which up to the present time has not been successfully opposed.

TO PROTECT ORIGINALITY OF DESIGN AND TO REPEAL CUSTOMS DUTIES ON BOOKS.

THE INTERNATIONAL CONGRESS OF PUBLISHERS has sent a circular to the various national associations calling attention to the resolutions passed at the sessions of the Congress at Brussels and London regarding the protection of the "get-up" or form of a publication. At Brussels the following was passed:

"Starting with the consideration that the publisher should be protected, like every other manufacturer, in all things appertaining to the form or 'get up' of his productions, the Congress expresses a wish

"That the regulation for the protection of a new form or 'get up' of a publication should be inserted in the law concerning the protection of industrial property.

"The Congress advises the various Publishers' Associations in every country to aim at the realization of this desire, and later on to find out ways and means to make this question an international one, as also one of literary and artistic copyright."

In London the following resolution was passed:

"That the principle of material property in innovations with regard to form or model which are exemplified by a publication should be formally recognized by the legislatures of the different countries."

The "innovations in form" which it is desired should be better protected are set forth as follows:

"1. The outward appearance individualized by the cover, illustrated or not, the size and the letter-press of books forming a collection.

"2. The uniform character chosen by a publisher for all his works or for special publications.

"3. The arrangement, plan, idea, etc., of textbooks, chrestomathies, methods, compilations, almanacs, etc."

Accompanying the circular is a table questions addressed to the national associations designed to secure information for the Permanent Office in regard to the status of the movement in each country.

The Permanent Office also renews, in another circular, its request that the national associations keep it informed of any steps taken in their respective countries to secure the repeal of customs duties on books in accordance with resolutions passed by the Congress in 1896 and 1901.

NEWSPAPER NOT A MANUFACTURING ESTABLISHMENT.

JUDGE MILLER, according to the Louisville Courier-Journal, handed down an opinion in the case of the Columbia Finance and Trust Company against the Dispatch Publishing Company, in which he held that a newspaper is not a manufacturing establishment, like a rolling mill or a foundry, as specified by the statute. For this reason the lien claimed by the Manufacturers' Paper Company for $3,072.52 for paper furnished the defunct concern is denied.

The following is from the opinion: "It is true that a newspaper is sometimes spoken of as a manufacturer of public opinion, but in using this description it is not intended to convey the impression that a newspaper makes or manufactures public opinion for sale, in the sense that a rolling mill or foundry manufactures iron or iron implements for sale. The claim of the Manufacturers' Paper Company to a lien for material and supplies will have to be denied."

The opinion was upon exceptions to the Commissioner's report and in chief for final judgment.

MINNESOTA BACKS ITS AUTHORS AGAINST INDIANA'S.

"Indianapolis," says the St. Paul Pioneer Press, "is very much 'set up' about its literary standing, but the Twin Cities can boast of writers whose productions are doing the country more good than those of the whole crowd of novel writers. We refer to those connected with the Minnesota Agricultural School and Experiment Station. They are not only teaching American farmers how to make two blades of grass grow where only one grew before, but they are doubling the productivity of our wheats and other grains, increasing the weight of our cattle, multiplying our fruits, teaching us the food value of different products, and making life more 'worth living' than ever before. So long as St. Paul is the centre for the distribution of such beneficent literature as the class here referred to, we are quite willing that Indianapolis shall remain the centre for novels."

DATING WATER MARKS.

RICHARD GARNETT recently wrote to the London Times: "I should be glad to say a few words upon a subject of some importance to archivists and men of letters who may hereafter have to deal with the dates of documents, more especially private correspondence. I refer to the almost universal omission by paper-makers of the date of the manufacture of their paper, which used to be recorded by the water-mark.

"Everyone who has had occasion to determine the date of a letter left undated by the writer, and where the postmark was absent or illegible, must have felt under deep obligation to the paper-maker, by the aid of whose water-mark it could in most cases be approximately ascertained. It is to be feared that the inquirers of the future will frequently find themselves in difficulty; especially as in former days the postmark was impressed upon the letter itself, while it is now stamped upon an envelope which may easily be lost or thrown away.

"Nothing could be easier than to revert to the old practice, and such a step would earn for the manufacturers the gratitude of all concerned in historical or literary research.

"The great importance which a dated water-mark may possess in legal proceedings is strikingly illustrated by a passage in the interesting letters of C  ar de Saussure on England in the time of the first Georges, recently published by Mr. Murray. A dishonest steward endeavored, by means of forged documents, to make his mistress, the Duchess of Buckingham, responsible for the repayment of large sums which had in fact never been advanced to her.

"A lengthy lawsuit followed, which came before the Court of King's Bench, and the Duchess, who had already been condemned to lose the lawsuit by the Judges of the Court below, was going to be condemned by those of the higher Court, when one of them had a sudden inspiration. Seizing a contested bill, the Judge held it up to the light, and, having examined it carefully, he discovered to a certainty that the bill was forged, the date and water-mark on the paper being several years posterior to the date of the writing."

COPYRIGHT MATTERS.

CANADIAN COPYRIGHT ASSOCIATION.

IN the Council Room of the Board of Trade at Toronto on July 7 a meeting of half a dozen of the publishing houses of Toronto was held and a Canadian Copyright Association was formed with the following officers: Honorary President, John Ross Robertson; President, W. J. Gage; First Vice-President, D. A. Rose; Second Vice-President, A. S. Hart; Secretary-Treasurer, A. Briggs; Executive Committee, W. P. Gundy, J. R. Barber, Atwell Flemming, A. E. Huestis, Thos. G. Wilson and J. A. Cooper. The object of the new association is to agitate for a satisfactory Canadian copyright law.

FALSE NOTICE OF COPYRIGHT.

JUDGE WALLACE, of the Federal Court, recently held that a defendant who imported from Germany and sold in the United States books bearing a false copyright notice which had been impressed on them by the publisher in Germany by defendant's authorization was not liable to the penalty, the statute having no extraterritorial effect.

OBITUARY NOTES.

MRS. ANNIE FRENCH HECTOR, better known by her pseudonym, "Mrs. Alexander," died in London July 10. Mrs. Hector came of the well-known Irish family of French, of Roscommon, and was born in Dublin in 1825. She began to write at an early age, but her marriage with Alexander Hector, a Scotchman who was the companion of Layard in his exploration of Nineveh, interrupted achievements in this direction. After her husband's death she resumed her pen, and her first published work, "The Wooing Ot," written in middle life, brought her at once a reputation with the public. But she herself recorded the fact that nearly every plot of her stories, which include "The Admiral's Ward," "Look Before You Leap," "A Crooked Path," "A Winning Hazard" and many more, was clearly formulated in her brain as long as five and twenty years previously, and, though she did not make any notes on the subjects, she remembered them all. Many of her novels were contributed in serial form to such magazines as All the Year Round and Temple Bar.

NOTES ON AUTHORS.

W. M. RAMSAY, Professor of Humanity at Aberdeen, and author of a number of more or less popular books on the Scriptures, such as "Was Christ Born at Bethlehem?" etc., is at work on a life of St. Paul.

MRS. FRANCES HODGSON BURNETT TOWNSEND has quite recovered her health and has taken a cottage at Easthampton, L. I., where she will spend the summer at work upon her next novel, "The Destiny of Bettina."

WU TING-FANG, the Chinese Minister, who will soon return to China, has made it known that he intends to write two books. One of these will record his impressions of America and will be for circulation in the United States. The other will consist of his world-wide observations outside of China, and is intended for sale in his own country to educate his people in Western civilization.

THE order of knighthood has been conferred on F. C. Burnand, editor of Punch; Gilbert Parker, the well-known novelist; Dr. Conan Doyle, novelist and historian of the Boer war; William Laird Clowes, naval critic and historian, and William Allan, author of several volumes of poetry and other works of a practical order. Leslie Stephen, the first editor of "The Dictionary of National Biography," and author of "The Science of Ethics" and other philosophical works, is made K. C. B., and the same honor is conferred upon Professor William Ramsay, the well-known chemist. King Edward VII. has established a new Order of Merit, which, it is understood, does not carry with it any title or precedence, or the right to use any special letters after the names of its members. The order, however, is to be extremely limited in number, and suitable decorations and insignia are provided. A cross of red and blue enamel of eight points, bearing the words "For Merit" in gold letters, in a laurel wreath on a blue enamel centre, is to be the badge of the order. Members of the order will be permitted to affix a facsimile of the badge to their arms. The seal of the order will give a facsimile of the badge, with the Royal Arms on a white ground, inscribed "The Seal of the Order of Merit." Among the first members are the Right Hon. John Morley, the Right Hon. W. E. H. Lecky, Lord Kelvin and Lord Lister. Other honors conferred on men who are well known in literature are a Privy Councillorship for Sir Alfred Lyall, author of "Asiatic Studies" and other works, and a Companionship of the Bath upon Frank Marzials, of the War Office, who has written several biographies and edited, conjointly with Eric Robertson, the Great Writers series. Many of the other recipients of knighthoods and other honors have written books, especially the physicians and surgeons, who figure so liberally in this list as compared with previous occasions.

BIBLIOGRAPHIC NOTES.

ELLIOT STOCK, London, will hereafter publish his "Book Prices Current" in quarterly parts as well as in the annual volume. The first part will be published shortly.

ALEXANDER DENHAM & Co., London, who are represented in this country by E. A. Denham, 28 W. Thirty-third Street, New York, have published a very interesting catalogue of books, manuscripts, autographs and drawings, that is as handsome typographically as it is rich in contents. (195 titles + facsimiles. 2s. 6d.)

DODD, MEAD & Co. are now taking up subscriptions for the 1901-1902 volume of "American Book Prices Current," compiled, as heretofore, by Luther S. Livingston. As many intending subscribers were disappointed last season, and as the edition is limited to the number called for, with 116 copies to spare, all who desire a copy will do well to place their orders now. Thirty copies will be printed on large paper for those wishing to make annotations.

The Bulletin of Bibliography for July, published by the Boston Book Company, 83 Francis Street, Boston, contains an article on "Practical Bibliography," by J. I. Wyer, Jr., librarian of the Nebraska Library; the concluding portion of an annotated list of books and articles to aid in the study of King Alfred's life and times, by Mary Medlicott; a continuation of the "Errata in Poole's Index and Supplements," compiled by Frederika Wendt; also, Part viii of the second series of George Watson Cole's bibliography of "Bermuda in Periodical Literature."

BUSINESS NOTES.

BOSTON, MASS.—The Sheriff is in possession of B. F. Larrabee's.

BOSTON, MASS.—Catharine G. McAdams has succeeded Charles W. McAdams, bookseller.

CINCINNATI, O.—The American Book Company will erect a new building on the Anderson homestead property, 400x169 feet, at Third and Pike streets. The new building may not be begun before next year.

CORNING, N. Y.—Harry J. Sternberg has purchased the old-established bookstore of Clute & Way, and extensive improvements in arrangement and equipment will follow. There will be an expansion of business all along the line.

FINDLAY, O.—D. C. Connell & Son, booksellers, are reported to have gone into involuntary bankruptcy.

GRAND ISLAND, NEB.—W. H. Platte, bookseller, is selling out and will retire from business.

GREENSBORO, N. C.—J. J. Stone & Co. have bought the bookstore formerly owned by E. P. Irwin.

GREENVILLE, MISS.—G. F. Archer, bookseller, who has occupied the same store here for thirty-two years, is selling out his stock and will retire from business.

NEW YORK CITY.—The Metaphysical Publishing Company, of No. 114 West Thirty-second street, is in financial difficulties, and on July 14 Judge Fitzgerald, of the Supreme Court, appointed Vernon M. Davis temporary receiver of the assets, with a bond of $50,000, in proceedings for the voluntary dissolution of the corporation brought by Directors Leander E. Whipple, E. F. Stephenson and George A. M. Stevenson. The liabilities are $24,612. The nominal assets are $18,150, and actual assets $14,705.

SOUTH BEND, IND.—Herr & Herr have bought out the Tribune Store, one of the largest book, stationery and fancy goods concerns in Northern Indiana and Southern Michigan, which for twenty-five years has been conducted by the Tribune Printing Company. It was founded in 1874, a few years after the organization of the Tribune Printing Company, in the store at what is now No. 127 West Washington street. When the Oliver Opera-House Block was completed the business was removed to North Main street. The new firm is composed of Charles C. Herr, of Goshen, the head of Herr & Co., one of the leading stationery stores in that city and of his uncle, Eugene M. Herr, the head of The Tribune's job department and one of the best-known men in South Bend. There will be no change in the personnel of the staff of the Tribune Store, Mr. Axtel Swanson and Miss Jessie Valentine both remaining in the positions that they have filled so ably for many years.

LITERARY AND TRADE NOTES.

E. P. DUTTON & Co. have in preparation a translation of the Taine letters that were so favorably received in France.

REES, WELSH & Co., of Philadelphia, have published a volume of poems by the late Daniel L. Dawson, entitled "The Seeker in the Marshes."

J. B. LIPPINCOTT COMPANY will publish in the fall a life of Pinturicchio, the master of decoration and the friend of the youthful Raphael, by Corrado Ricci. The volume will be adequately illustrated.

E. R. F. BLOGG has resigned his position with B. G. Eichelberger, of Baltimore, to become manager of the retail department of Wm. J. C. Dulany Company. He will be pleased to receive advance announcements, catalogues, etc.

THE facsimile of the manuscript of Milton's minor poems, to which we referred in our issue for April 12, was actually made in 1899 for members of Trinity College, and it is the remaining copies of that facsimile that are now offered for sale by Deighton, Bell & Co. and Macmillan & Bowes, both of Cambridge, England.

THE CENTURY COMPANY will publish a condensed edition of the Nicolay-Hay life of Lincoln, prepared by the late John G. Nicolay. It will contain all the essential facts of President Lincoln's life contained in the ten-volume edition. They will publish shortly a new story of Southern life by Mrs. Ruth McEnery Stuart, entitled "Napoleon Jackson."

ALLAN, LANE & SCOTT have published for Edwin Swift Balch a monograph entitled "Antarctica," an argument in favor of the claims of Lieutenant Wilkes in particular, and certain American sealers and traders in general, upholding the right of American names to appear and remain on the new continent, in which a greater interest is growing as our knowledge of it is increased.

A. WESSELS COMPANY have almost ready a volume of clever golf stories entitled "The Magic Mashie," by E. L. Sabin, a well-known contributor to Outing, Golf and other magazines devoted to out-door life; also, "The Conquest of the Air," by John Alexander, with chapters on the "Balloon in War," "Scientific Ballooning," "The Achievements of Santos-Dumont and Others," "The Air ship of Yesterday and To-day," with a preface by Sir Hiram Maxim. Both volumes will be illustrated.

A. H. SMYTHE, Columbus, O., has just ready an "Archæological History of Ohio—the Mound Builders and later Indians," by Gerard Fowke, published by the Ohio State Archæological and Historical Society. The work is not written for scientists or specialists, but is intended to lighten the labor of those interested in archæology who have not the time or opportunity to wade through the vast amount of literature that has accumulated on this subject in the past fifty years. The work is very fully illustrated.

DREXEL BIDDLE, Philadelphia, is about to publish "A Wanderer's Legend," by Maxwell Sommerville, well known as a collector of engraved gems and a writer thereon, also as a writer of books on travel. The forthcoming book is the narrative of the Wandering Jew, who is supposed to have appeared at the Diet of Speyer and then to have related the history of his wanderings to the assembled ecclesiastics. The story embraces a variety of Talmudic and early Christian tradition, and some Moslem traditions also, and its general scope embraces a summary of the world's history, and particularly of the history of religion throughout the centuries during which Ahasuerus had been wandering. The book is illustrated with drawings by the author.

THE FUNK & WAGNALLS COMPANY have just published a little book by the Rev. Dr. Arthur T. Pierson, entitled "The Gordian Knot, or, The Problem Which Baffles Infidelity," which is the outcome of honest doubt seeking a true answer to great questions, and is addressed to candid enquirers after truth; also, four new abridged editions of their "Standard Dictionary," edited by James C. Fernald, viz.: The Introductory Standard Dictionary, which belongs to the Educational Series of the "Standard" editions, and The Concise Standard, The Comprehensive Standard and The Comprehensive Standard which belong to the commercial Series. They will publish on the 25th inst. a work of interest to Jews and Gentiles, entitled "Jesus the Jew and other Addresses," by Harris Weinstock, who opposes the isolation of the Jews and advocates the newer and more liberal views that are helping to break down the walls of prejudice that are keeping the Jew apart from the rest of mankind; also, "A Brief of Necroscopy and Its Medico-Legal Relation," by Dr. Gustav Schmitt, which is immediately and practically adapted to the needs of coroners and physicians who are called upon to make examinations of dead bodies, and is also of assistance to every lawyer and medical expert who is engaged in the detection of crime resulting from administrations of poisons or other means of producing sudden death.

HOUGHTON, MIFFLIN & Co. expect to publish in September the following fiction: "The Diary of a Saint," by Arlo Bates, a novel, in the form of a diary, presenting an eventful year in the life of a New England girl; "The Right Princess," by Clara Louise Burnham, a pioneer book in the field of fiction, being a Christian science novel, with much episode and action; "A Downreiter's Son," by Ruth Hall, a story of love and adventure in New York during the strange attempt to abolish rents about sixty years ago; and a new and complete edition of Maria S. Cummins's "The Lamplighter," the ever-popular novel of which there are several unauthorized and garbled editions in the market. In the department of history, biography and letters they announce John Fiske's last work, "New France and New England," which treats of the victory of the English civilization over the French and completes his chain of histories of the early development of our country; "Where American Independence Began," by Daniel Monro Wilson, an anecdotal history of Quincy, Mass., and its great families, the Adamsees, Quinceys, Hoars and others; Lockhart's "Life of Sir Walter Scott," in five volumes, with exhaustive notes by S. W. Francis; "Nathaniel Hawthorne," by Professor George E. Woodbury, in the American Men of Letters; also, volume v. of "Letters to Washington," edited by S. W. Hamilton.

LEE & SHEPARD have under way an autograph edition of Mrs. Elizabeth Akers's "Sunset Song, and Other Verses," a volume of poems hitherto unpublished, with a single exception, "Rock Me to Sleep, Mother," which is printed at the end of the volume with a note from the publisher, giving its history. The Philadelphia Saturday Evening Post, it appears, originally printed the poem, paying the author $5. A firm of music publishers issued it with a setting by Earnest Leslie and paid nothing, but offered the author $5 apiece for any more songs as good as the first. As their profits during the first six months amounted to many thousands, they could then afford this extravagance, but when Mrs. Akers actually sent them a song they refused it on the ground that they "could do nothing with it." A few years after the first appearance of the song Alexander T. W. Ball, of New Jersey, declared that it was his. Certain newspapers espoused his cause, and had he not published what Rosister Johnson calls the most absurd pamphlet ever written the real author might have been deprived even of the credit of originating her pseudonym of "Florence Percy." The pamphlet aroused some able defenders for her, and at last the late William Douglas O'Connor, writing in the New York Times, utterly refuted Mr. Ball's pretensions to be "Florence Percy" or anything but an imitator. In her new volume Mrs. Akers includes a grateful eulogy of her defender.

TERMS OF ADVERTISING.

Under the heading "Books Wanted" book-trade subscribers are given the privilege of a free advertisement for books out of print, of five nonpareil lines exclusive of address, in any issue except special numbers, to an extent not exceeding 100 lines a year. If more than five lines are sent, the excess is at 10 cents a line, and amount should be inclosed. Bids for current books and such as may be easily had from the publishers, and repeated matter, as well as all advertisements from non-subscribers, must be paid for at the rate of 10 cents a line.

Under the heading "Books for Sale," the charge to subscribers and non-subscribers is 10 cents a nonpareil line for each insertion. No deduction for repeated matter.

All other small, undisplayed, advertisements will be charged at the uniform rate of 10 cents a nonpareil line. Eight words may be reckoned to the line.

Parties with whom we have no accounts must pay in advance, otherwise no notice will be taken of their communications.

BOOKS WANTED.

[C] In answering, please state edition, condition, and price, including postage or express charges.

Houses that are willing to deal exclusively on a cash-on-delivery basis will find it to their advantage to put after their firm-name the word [Cash].

[W] Write your wants plainly and on one side of the sheet only. Illegibly-written "wants" will be considered as not having been received. The "Publishers' Weekly" does not hold itself responsible for errors.

It should be understood that the appearance of advertisements in this column, or elsewhere in the "Publishers' Weekly" does not furnish a guarantee of credit. While it is endeavored to safeguard these columns by withdrawing the privilege of their use from advertisers who are not "good pay," booksellers should take the usual precaution, as to advertisers not known to them, that they would take in making sales to any unknown parties.

THE PHILOSOPHY OF THE CHRISTIAN RELIGION

By ANDREW MARTIN FAIRBAIRN, M.A., D.D.

Principal of Mansfield College, Oxford, Author of "Studies in the Philosophy of Religion," "Christ in Modern Theology," etc.

Cloth, 8vo, 583 pp., gilt tops, $3.50 net. (Postage 25 cts.)

"The most important book of its kind that has appeared for years. Dr. Fairbairn is unquestionably one of the most masterful thinkers of the time. He is at the same time intensely modern. He understands exceptionally well the points at which the most vital problems in present day thought have arrived, and so he discerns keenly the points where the fundamental questions of philosophy, science and religion meet."—The Chicago Tribune.

THE LOWER SOUTH IN AMERICAN HISTORY

By WILLIAM GARROTT BROWN

Lecturer in History, Harvard University, Author of "Andrew Jackson," etc.

Cloth, 12mo, 271 pp., $1.50 net. (Postage 12 cts.)

SHELL LIFE

An Introduction to the British Mollusca. By EDWARD STEP, F.L.S. With 32 original plates photographed from the actual shells, and upwards of 600 woodcuts in the text. Crown 8vo, cloth gilt, gilt top. $2.00.

... This is not a dry-as-dust list of shells, but a really entertaining and instructive book written with the idea of popularizing what has hitherto been considered an abstruse subject.

ALSO, IN THE ABOVE SERIES

THE ROMANCE OF WILD FLOWERS

A Companion to the British Flora. By EDWARD STEP, F.L.S. With 200 illustrations, uniform with the above. $2.00.

From the preface: "Not intended for botanists, but for unscientific flower-lovers. . . . To-day the naturalist is principally concerned in observing the habits of the plant, its attitude towards insects, and the relation of one species to another."

FOR ALL WHO CONTEMPLATE MOTORING

THE MOTOR CAR

An Elementary Handbook on Its Nature, Use and Management. By Sir HENRY THOMPSON, F.R.C.S. (London), &c. 12mo, cloth. $1.00.

... Sir Henry took to the motor car in his (youthful) old age, and in these few pages he describes his experiences in learning its mechanism and movement, its relation to the various living objects it encounters on the road, and naturally the writer touches on the hygienic advantages of this method of locomotion and the various forms of motive power.

Also by the same author a little brochure of timely interest

"THE UNKNOWN GOD"?

An Essay. In 18mo, cloth, gilt top, 60 cents; or, neat paper wrapper, 35 cents.

... An attempt to seek by careful deduction from available data, some certain assurance respecting the influence which the "Infinite and Eternal Energy from which all things proceed" has exercised on man from the beginning.

Special Orders for Commander Leigh

A Story of the "Lower Coast" of Louisiana

By COL. RICHARD HENRY SAVAGE

THE history of the secret operations of the Confederate Government in Europe has been but formally written by Commander Bullock. The counter plots of our Foreign Ministers and hidden attachés abroad, have heretofore been veiled to the general reader. It was after dominating the Atlantic coast that the Navy Department turned to the Gulf and the Father of Waters. In the historic regions of Louisiana and the "black belt," New Orleans was fated to fall first, and Mobile to hold out, last, of all the great Confederate sea ports!

The graphic pictures of the birth of the "Alabama" and the scenes in "The Confederate Colony in Paris" are masterfully painted. This delightful love story relates to the adventures of a Naval officer, whose proud Southern father and Northern mother were separated by the slavery conditions before the war.

The hero conducts a night attack upon the grand old manor house whence riflemen had annoyed the assembling fleet. The discovery of a beautiful cousin and a dashing young Confederate relative, leads up to the magnificent night battle on the Mississippi. The young Confederate prisoner escapes to Europe to join the "Alabama" then building.

Later, the loyal Southerner is sent to Europe to watch the "290," and after thrilling adventures, aids in the sinking of the "Alabama" as a volunteer on the "Kearsarge," rescuing his defiant relative. There is no incident in this dashing novel which is not directly taken from the happenings of that sad war time, a thousand times stranger than fiction! A book to be read with breathless interest from cover to cover.

THE HOME PUBLISHING COMPANY

3 East Fourteenth Street, New York

SUCCESSFUL publisher is one who constantly seeks to get the best value for the least money. That's why I am a successful bookbinder. Also because I turn out the highest grade of work at from ten to twenty-five per cent. less than anyone else. How do I do it? That is the burning question amongst the trade to-day.

My answer is, "Don't ask the why and the wherefore," but send me your stamps and dummies and I will make up samples which will show the highest character of work and upon which I will give you estimates that cannot be met. My equipment and plant is the finest and one of the largest of its kind in the country. Large output and small profits are the keystones to my success. Don't take my word for these statements. Come and see for yourself.

Have you ever wished you could purchase all your school books at one store

We have just moved into our new store, Nos. 31-33-35 West 15th Street, between 5th and 6th Avenues. Our stock of general school books actually on hand is the largest and most varied in the country. Our facilities are unsurpassed for collecting and supplying promptly, at lowest rates, the school books of all publishers, new, shelf-worn and second-hand. Our second-hand books are very popular with booksellers on account of the greater profit realized from their sale. Order a few for trial.

School Books of All Publishers at 25 per Cent. Discount

We will sell any books actually in stock, new at 25 per cent. discount off publishers' list price, shelf-worn (which can be retailed as new) at 30 to 40 per cent. second-hand at from 55 to 65 per cent. To illustrate: If you want Barnes' Brief History (publishers' list price, $1.00), we will sell any copy we have on hand, new at $1.00, less 25 per cent., equals 75 cents; shelf-worn at from 60 to 70 cents, depending on condition; second-hand at from 35 to 45 cents. If we happen to be out of certain books wanted, we will buy them from the publishers if instructed, billing them to you at from 12½ to 16½ per cent. off publishers' list price, depending upon the discount we receive from the publishers; no charge for case or cartage. Send for our catalogue (just published) containing a complete and alphabetically arranged list of school books of all publishers with correct list prices (pocket size).

If you have any books on your shelves, new, shelf-worn or second-hand, that have become unsalable with you due to changes in text-books, send us a list and we will make you an offer.

Be particular in ordering to specify editions, and to give the full name of the book, as quoted on this price-list. Old editions, superseded by new issues, are not included in this list; see previous catalogues.

THE AMERICAN EDUCATIONAL CATALOGUE FOR 1902.

[PUBLISHERS' PRICES.]

NOTICE.—In this Catalogue only prices made by publishers themselves are given—retail, if retail, in first column; "net" (wholesale), if "net," in second column; where a "mailing" percent age is specified by the publisher, the "mailing price" is given in the retail column marked with an asterisk (), in addition to the wholesale price. When price-columns are left blank, the publisher failed, on application, to furnish price. A double asterisk () in price-columns designates books forthcoming. New books, issued since the publication of the Catalogue of 1901, are designated by a single asterisk () before title.

In comparing prices or ordering at retail, private buyers should bear in mind that a percentage must be added to prices quoted at wholesale, to cover freight, handling, delivering, etc. Discounts on quantities vary on different lines, according to the kind of prices adopted by the respective publishers.

For subject classification (and for collective references to classic authors entered here under separate editors), see the second part of the Catalogue, following this main alphabet.

Literal and Interlinear Translations.

LITERAL TRANSLATIONS OF THE CLASSICS.

These translations have been prepared with great care. They follow the original text literally, thus forming a valuable help to the student in his efforts to master the difficulties which beset him. Pleasing sketches of the authors appear in the form of an introduction to each of the volumes.

The books are in convenient form, being exceptionally handy for the pocket. They are printed from clear type, and are attractively and durably bound. Cloth binding, each 50 cents.

INTERLINEAR TRANSLATIONS. The Hamilton, Locke and Clark Series have long been the Standard and are now the Best Translated and Most Complete Series of Interlinears published.

12mo, well bound in half leather, each $1.50.

BOOKS OF ALL PUBLISHERS

OUR stock of all the leading books, of all publishers, American and English, on Medicine, Hygiene, Chemistry, Microscopy, Dentistry, Pharmacy, etc., is not only the largest, but the most complete in this country. It is classified by subjects, and we shall be pleased at any time to send you, free, complete details concerning any books on subjects allied to medicine you may be interested in. We are the only publishers of medical books in the country who render this sort of service, just as we are the only medical publishers who handle books other than our own publications.

FOR THE LITERARY WORKER

The Annual Literary Index, 1901

Including Periodicals, American and English; Essays, Book-Chapters, etc.; with Author-Index.
 Bibliographies, Necrology, and Index to Dates of Principal Events. Edited by W. I. FLETCHER and R. R. BOWKER, with the co-operation of members of the American Library Association and of the Library Journal staff.

THE ANNUAL LITERARY INDEX complements the "Annual American Catalogue" of books, published each year, by indexing (1) articles in periodicals published during the year of its issue; (2) essays and book-chapters in composite books; (3) authors of periodical articles and essays; (4) special bibliographies; (5) authors deceased; (6) dates of principal events during the year. The two volumes together make a complete record of the literary product of the year.

"Of great value to all who would keep advised of the topics and writers in the periodical literature of the day."
—Universalist Quarterly.
 "Good indexing could no further go."—The Nation.

ADDRESS THE OFFICE OF THE PUBLISHERS' WEEKLY, (P. O. Box 943,) 298 Broadway, N. Y.

TERMS OF ADVERTISING.

Under the heading "Books Wanted" book-trade subscribers are given the privilege of a free advertisement for books out of print, of five nonpareil lines exclusive of address, in any issue except special numbers, to an extent not exceeding 100 lines a year. If more than five lines are used, the excess is at 10 cents a line, and amount should be inclosed. Bids for current books and such as may be easily had from the publishers, and repeated matter, as well as all advertisements from non-subscribers, must be paid for at the rate of 10 cents a line.

Under the heading "Books for Sale," the charge to subscribers and non-subscribers is 10 cents a nonpareil line for each insertion. No deduction for repeated matter.

All other small, undisplayed, advertisements will be charged at the uniform rate of 10 cents a nonpareil line. Eight words may be reckoned to the line.

Parties with whom we have no accounts must pay in advance, otherwise no notice will be taken of their communications.

BOOKS WANTED.

☞ In answering, please state edition, condition, and price, including postage or express charges.

Houses that are willing to deal exclusively on a cash-on-delivery basis will find it to their advantage to put after their firm-name the word [Cash].

☞ Write your wants plainly and on one side of the sheet only. Illegibly-written "wants" will be considered as not having been received. The "Publishers' Weekly" does not hold itself responsible for errors.

It should be understood that the appearance of advertisements in this column, or elsewhere in the "Publishers' Weekly" does not furnish a guarantee of credit. While it is endeavored to safeguard these columns by withdrawing the privileges of their use from advertisers who are not "good pay," booksellers should take the usual precaution, as to advertisers not known to them, that they would take in making sales to any unknown parties.

THE AMERICAN CATALOGUE of books in print and for sale July 1, 1876, compiled under the direction of F. LAVROLD, and its supplements, 1876-84, 1884-90, 1890-95, and 1895-1900, compiled under the editorial direction of R. R. BOWKER, aims to present all the bibliographical features of the books in the American market, arranged in the first part alphabetically by both authors and titles, and in the second part alphabetically by subjects.

The Catalogue and its supplementary volumes form the only approximately complete guide in existence to the American books of the day, so arranged as to make reference easy from whatever direction the inquiry may come, whether from that of the author, or the title, or the subject. It not only furnishes the desired information about any particular book of which the consulter is in search, but shows what others there are by the same author or on the same subject in which he is interested. To the bookseller, therefore, it is valuable both in filling orders and in stimulating business; to the librarian, in supplying gaps and proportioning his collection; and to all who are practically concerned with books, in furnishing information which nowhere else is obtainable by so convenient a method, if obtainable at all.

The author-and-title volume of the 1876 volume is out of print. A limited number of the subject volume may be had in half leather binding at $15.

The volume covering the period 1876-84 is also out of print.

—, 1884-90, 4°, hf. mor., $25. (1 copy only remains.)

—, 1890-95, 4°, hf. mor., $15.

—, 1895-1900, 4°, hf. mor., $15.

For 1902 PUBLISHERS' TRADE LIST ANNUAL (Thirtieth Year)

In response to the desires of the book trade we shall publish the forthcoming issue of THE PUBLISHERS' TRADE LIST ANNUAL, to be ready at the opening of the active Fall season, in August, 1902,

to the publishers' catalogues contained therein. The books will be indexed by author, title and, practically, by subject or class. The name of series, the price, and name of publisher will also be given, so that any book contained in the ANNUAL may be located at once by whatsoever clue the user may have. The Index will be printed in two columns to the page, in readable type, full face letters being used to make reference to authors' names more convenient.

The bulk of the volume, as heretofore, will consist of the latest CATALOGUES OF 250 FIRMS PUBLISHING BOOKS IN THE UNITED STATES, contributed by themselves and arranged alphabetically by the firm names, with the smaller lists and advertisements of single books at the end. The patent "Duplex Index," having the alphabet printed on the concave surface as well as on the margin of the page, enables instantaneous reference to the catalogues and the lists, whether the book is open or shut.

These lists, thus bound together, present in their combination so convenient and time-saving a working tool as to have made THE TRADE LIST ANNUAL for upwards of a quarter of a century indispensable to every one who has any interest in the purchase or sale of books published in the United States. With the reference index to the books listed in the publishers' catalogues its practical usefulness will be enhanced an hundred fold.

The work will be offered to the trade in two styles :

With the Index, in 2 Volumes, bound in cloth, $5 00
Without the Index, in 1 Volume, bound in cloth, 1 50

if ordered and paid for in advance of publication. After publication day the price of the work with the index will be raised to $7.00, and of the work without the index to $2.00. Orders, stating whether the volume is desired with or without the index, should be registered at

The Philosophy of the Christian Religion

By ANDREW MARTIN FAIRBAIRN, M.A., D.D.

Principal of Mansfield College, Oxford, Author of "Studies in the Philosophy of Religion," "Christ in Modern Theology," etc.

Cloth, 8vo, 583 pp., gilt tops, $3.50 net. (Postage 25 cts.)

"The most important book of its kind that has appeared for years. Dr. Fairbairn is unquestionably one of the most masterful thinkers of the time. He is at the same time intensely modern. He understands exceptionally well the points at which the most vital problems in present day thought have arrived, and so he discerns keenly the points where the fundamental questions of philosophy, science and religion meet."—The Chicago Tribune.

NOTES IN SEASON.

D. APPLETON & Co. will publish shortly "A Lady's Honor," a romantic historical novel of England in the seventeenth century, by a lady who hides her identity under the pseudonym of "Bass Blake."

LONGMANS, GREEN & Co. announce a new volume entitled "Historical Essays," by the late Bishop Stubbs, which comprises his introductions to the historical papers in the Rolls Series. They have also in preparation a work on Charles II.'s famous profligate courtier, entitled "Rochester and His Contemporaries," by the author of "The Life of Kenelm Digby."

THOMAS Y. CROWELL & Co. will publish shortly a volume by Mrs. Annie Russell Marble, entitled "Thoreau, His Home, Friends and Books," which will contain extracts from unpublished letters and journals of the Thoreau family and intimate friends, all of which will help to dispel the oft-repeated unsupported charges against the pioneer interpreter of nature-lore, of selfishness and inconsistency. The volume will contain a number of illustrations.

THE LOTHROP PUBLISHING COMPANY have just brought out a useful book entitled "Training for Citizenship," an elementary treatise on the rights and duties of citizens, "based on the relations which exist between organized society and its individual members, and between the individual members of organized society," by Joseph Warren Smith, formerly superintendent of schools of Bay City, Mich. They announce a new work by James Creelman, a patriotic love story, entitled "Eagle Blood." The illustrations are by Rose Cecil O'Neil, who was recently married to Mr. Wilson, the author of "The Spenders," and one time editor of Puck.

DODD, MEAD & Co. will publish shortly the authorized "Biography of Bret Harte," by T. Edgar Pemberton, who knew Bret Harte intimately for over twenty years and who has been in close touch with him for the last eleven years, collaborating in a work which it is believed Mr. Pemberton will complete. Mr. Harte's family have cordially offered to place all material at Mr. Pemberton's disposal; and, in fact, it was their desire that Mr. Pemberton should write his life. The biographer has also the same assurance from Bret Harte's intimate friends. Dodd, Mead & Co. will publish on August 28 Miss Marie Corelli's new novel, which she has named "Temporal Power: a study in supremacy." This is the first story Miss Corelli has written since "The Master Christian" was published, and promises to be as widely discussed a book as that novel.

J. B. LIPPINCOTT COMPANY have just ready "The Night Side of London," by Robert Machray, an interesting account of what takes place in London streets, theatres, clubs, dance halls and places of fashionable and Bohemian resort during gaslight hours, with illustrations by Tom Browne; "Mother and Child," a plain book of common-sense advice for the wife and mother, by Dr. Edward P. Davis, a well-known specialist, with twenty-one full-page illustrations; "Delhi" (1857), a story of the siege and of life in the city made famous by the Indian mutiny, drawn from the diary, letters and telegrams of Colonel Keith Young, edited by Sir Henry Norman, illustrated with photographs, colored plates and collotypes; also, "Trades Waste," an exhaustive and up-to-date consideration of the utilization of mill refuse and the prevention of river pollution, designed for manufacturers, engineers, analysts and inspectors, and elaborately illustrated with folding diagrams, full-page plates, etc.

WEEKLY RECORD OF NEW PUBLICATIONS.

Beginning with the issue of July 5, 1902, the titles of net books published under the rules of the American Publishers' Association are preceded by a double asterisk , and the word net follows the price. The titles of fiction (not net) published under the rules are preceded by a dagger †. Net books not covered by the rules, whether published by members of the American Publishers' Association or not, are preceded by a single asterisk, and the word net follows the price.

The abbreviations are usually self-explanatory. c. after the date indicates that the book is copyrighted; if the copyright date differs from the imprint date, the year of copyright is added. Books of foreign origin of which the edition (annotated, illustrated, etc.) is entered as copyright, are marked c. ed.; translations, c. tr.; n. p., in place of price, indicates that the publisher makes no price, either net or retail, and quotes prices to the trade only upon application.

"In working over this volume the author has arrived at two important conclusions: that unwise financial legislation was primarily responsible for the dangerous position of the country at the close of the War of 1812, and that the public opinion of the North with reference to the negro prior to 1830 differed but little from that of the South; the greater readiness to free him in the former section having been due to the fact that if freed he would live at the South. To give the facts that led to these conclusions their proper setting necessitated a recasting of the entire book."—Preface.

Robinson, C: H: Human nature: a revelation of the divine: a sequel to "Studies in the character of Christ." N. Y., Longmans, Green & Co., 1902. 19+364 p. D. cl., $2.

"The first part consists of further 'studies' in the character of Christ. In these I have tried to develop the former thesis and, at the same time, to discuss some of the objections which this line of argument called forth. The second part is an attempt to show that the argument for the inspiration of the Old Testament rests upon internal rather than external evidence. Part three contains 'Studies in worship.'"—Preface.

Robinson, Morgan Poitiaux. The evolution of the Mason and Dixon line; published by special request. Richmond, Va., Oracle Publishing Co., 1902. c. 15 p. il. facsimile, 8°, pap., 25 c.

Sadler, Cora G. Skoot: a story of unconventional goodness. Cin., O., Jennings & Pye, [1902.] c. 141 p. D. cl., 50 c.

"Skoot" was the sobriquet of a bootblack who lived in a slum called Pinch Alley. Another child of the tenements figures in the story, a little blind girl called Fanny. Through the ministry of this child several of the characters are awakened to a realizing sense of their moral obligations, and one young woman is influenced to become a deaconess.

Saley, Met Lawson. Realm of the retailer; the retail lumber trade, its difficulties and successes, its humor and philosophy, its theory and practice, with practical yard ideas; comp. from "The realm of the retailer" as published in the American Lumberman. Chic., The American Lumberman, 1902. c. 386 p. por. il. 12°, cl., $1.50.

Sandys, Miles. Michael Carmichael: a story of love and mystery. Chic., Laird & Lee, [1902.] c. 4-317 p. D. cl., $1.25.

Michael Carmichael is supposed to tell his own story, which is substantially that of a man of dual personality. While dominated by his evil nature, and influenced by a man who acquires a mysterious power over him, Michael Carmichael commits murder, and figures in the sensational incidents described.

Sanford, Fernando. Elements of physics. N. Y., H: Holt & Co., 1902. c. 31+426 p. D. cl., $1.20.

"This book is a result of the attempt of the writer to apply the scientific method in all its steps to the teaching of physics. It does not contain as many laboratory experiments as are recommended in some books, but most of those it does contain are vital to the successful teaching of the book. . . . It is not prepared with the idea that it will need supplementing by a lecture course; neither is it intended to dispense with the services of a teacher. In fact, it has been prepared especially for the teacher who has had adequate training in the physical laboratory, and it is not likely to succeed with any other teacher."—Preface.

Sayler, G: W. Skid and I; or, the devil in chains. Elwood, Ind., Sayler Publishing Co., 1902. 19+427 p. por. D. cl., $2.50.

In "Skid and I" the author gives his experiences religious and otherwise, in blank verse. Twenty-seven verses on as many different subjects make up the book.

Jewish encyclopædia: a descriptive record of the history, religion, literature and customs of the Jewish people from the earliest times to the present day; prepared by more than four hundred scholars and specialists under the direction of Cyrus Adler, I: K. Funk, D.D., Frank H. Vizetelly and others. In 12 v. v. 2, Apocrypha-Benash. N. Y.; Funk & Wagnalls Co., 1902. c. 22+686 p. il. Q. cl., subs., per v., $7; hf. mor., $9.

See notice, "Weekly Record," P. W., July 6, 1901, [1536] for plan of this exhaustive encyclopædia. One deviation has been made from this plan. The delimitations of the various departments having proved extremely difficult, it has been found more practical to print the initials of the department editors on the left side and the initials of the contributors on the right. A list of these initials and the names they stand for opens the volume. The pictures included are of a high order of merit. The names of the experts interested and the testimony of the two volumes now issued give assurance of an epoch-making addition to the great works of reference.

The Publishers' Weekly.

FOUNDED BY F. LEYPOLDT.

AUGUST 2, 1902.

The editor does not hold himself responsible for the views expressed in contributed articles or communications. All matter, whether for the reading-matter columns or advertising pages, should reach this office not later than Wednesday noon, to insure insertion in the same week's issue.

Books for the "Weekly Record," as well as all information intended for that department, should reach this office by Tuesday morning of each week.

Publishers are requested to furnish title-page proofs and advance information of books forthcoming, both for entry in the lists and for descriptive mention. An early copy of each book published should be forwarded, as it is of the utmost importance that the entries of books be made as promptly and as perfectly as possible. In many cases booksellers depend on the PUBLISHERS' WEEKLY solely for their information. The Record of New Publications of the PUBLISHERS' WEEKLY is the material of the "American Catalogue" and so forms the basis of trade bibliography in the United States.

"I hold every man a debtor to his profession, from the which, as men do of course seek to receive countenance and profit, so ought they of duty to endeavor themselves by way of amends to be a help and an ornament thereunto."—LORD BACON.

TO DESIGNATE SIZES OF BOOKS BY THE METRIC SYSTEM.

THE Permanent Office of the International Congress of Publishers at Berne is making a canvass to discover what progress has been made in the adoption by the publishing trade of the metric system for the determining of the sizes and forms of volumes. This is in pursuance of resolutions passed by the Congress at its sessions in Paris and Brussels desiring that in all book catalogues or advertisements the size of the book should be indicated by its dimensions in centimeters, the first number indicating the height and the second the width of the uncut volume. No other specification as to size of paper is to be added to this. By this method the size of a quarto volume, for example, would be indicated in centimeters thus: 32-25, and an 8°: 25-16. The American Library Association's standard, adopted by THE PUBLISHERS' WEEKLY, it will be noticed, varies considerably from this, the measurement of a quarto being from 25 up to 30 centimeters outside height, and that of an octavo 20 up to 25 centimeters outside height. As yet the reform has nowhere been put into practice by publishers, especially not in England or in the United States, owing to the present uncertain status of the metric system; but it is believed that it will eventually be adopted in all the principal book-producing countries.

The Permanent Office also submits to the auxiliary associations various resolutions in the shape of simple recommendations to publishers with a view to their own interests. The first of these calls for the adoption of a definite custom in regard to "overs" in printing. Another advises publishers, especially when issuing editions de luxe, to provide for extra sheets, illustrations, etc., which may be substituted, if necessary, for those soiled or missing. Publishers of newspapers and periodicals are urged to use stronger wrappers for mailing to foreign countries.

The most important suggestion, perhaps, is the recommendation that, to prevent the confusion arising from the use of the ambiguous term "edition," this word should be used hereafter only for works which have undergone a partial or material revision of text, while some specific term should apply to simple repeated printings of the same text. The word "impression" (tirage) is proposed for the latter case; but as this is already employed to denote specifically the printing of a single sheet, a new application of it would only add to the present confusion. If a satisfactory word can be found, it would be in the interest of publishers to adopt it because of the natural distrust with which the public at present regards the advertisement of "new editions."

Circular No. 4, just issued by the Permanent Office to the auxiliary associations, is accompanied by the following long list of other resolutions of the Congress relative to copyright, book-postage, etc., to be presented to the various governments:

REFORMS IN THE NATIONAL AND INTERNATIONAL REGULATIONS CONCERNING COPYRIGHT AND PUBLISHERS' RIGHT.

- On duty copies.
- Translations' right.
- On the publication of extracts.
- The reproduction of a literary work by means of public reading.
- On the rights of the publisher with regard to the publication of letters.
- The reproduction of newspaper articles.
- Improvement of the laws on copyright and publishers' right with regard to works of art and photographs.
- International uniformity of copyright and publishers' right.
- The alienation of works of art and of the right of reproduction.
- The law of copyright as regards photographs.
- Photographs ordered by a publisher for the illustration of a work.
- On exclusive right in characteristic titles of books.
- On the protection of new forms.
- The need for more complete protection of copyright in educational works.
- On localized editions (literature and music).
- The suppression of the warrant "Judicatum solvi."
- Protection of the copyright owner against reproduction of musical compositions by mechanical instruments.
- Legal measures against the sale of counterfeit music in the streets.
- Suppression of the liability of duty on intellectual products.

IMPROVEMENTS IN POSTAL SERVICE:

On the postage of book parcels and printed matters. Introduction of parcel postal rates of 5 kilos in those countries where only packages of 3 kilos are accepted. The extension of the system of parcels post to those countries where it does not yet exist. Increase of the weight to 3 kilos (instead of 2 kilos) for printed matter which is circulated in the countries belonging to the Universal Postal Union.

On the registration of printed matters, (Tariff improvements.)

On the sending of parcels of printed matter. (Extension of this service in the Universal Postal Union and Tariff improvements.)

AMERICAN BOOK COMPANY WINS IN KANSAS.

THE Supreme Court on July 21 enjoined the American Book Company from transacting business in Kansas until it shall have complied with the Corporation law and paid into the treasury $2,000 to cover charter fees for three years, or since the present Corporation law was enacted.

In May the American Book Company secured five-year contracts from the State Text Book Commission for about 50 per cent. of the common school books used in the State, amounting to $250,000. Suit was then brought by Crane & Co., which was defeated by the American Book Company. On July 22 the American Book Company paid into the treasury the $2,000, as directed by the Court, and proceeded with the fulfilment of the contracts with the State Commission.

BOOK TRADE ASSOCIATIONS.

THE BOOKSELLERS OF THE CITY OF NEW YORK.

The organization of The Booksellers of New York City was completed at a meeting held at Brentano's on the evening of July 18. The constitution was read, approved and adopted and the following officers were elected:

Simon Brentano, President.

F. E. Grant, Vice-President.

E. S. Gorham, Secretary.

Henry C. Holtin, Treasurer.

The following gentlemen were added to the Standing Committee: Robert H. Dodd, Charles S. Pratt and A. Mackel.

After the election of officers the members present entered into a general discussion of trade matters.

The following is a list of the members: American Baptist Publication Society, American Tract Society, Ammon & Mackel, (Leggat Brothers,) Brentano's, E. W. Dayton, Bonnell, Silver & Co., Coryell & Co., R. W. Crothers, E. P. Dutton & Co., Dodd, Mead & Co., Eaton & Mains, (Methodist Book Concern,) Charles P. Everitt, John Francis, F. E. Grant, Edwin S. Revell Co., Rohde & Haskins, D. Van Nostrand Co., T. B. Ventres, Miss M. J. Whaley, and Thomas A. Whittaker.

OBITUARY NOTES.

WILLIAM H. WILLIAMS, general manager of the Union News Company, New York, died July 17 from heart disease at his home in Orange, N. J. He was born in New York State sixty-two years ago and came to New York City when a boy. He started as a news-boy, and a few years later obtained employment with the American News Company, with which he remained until 1873, when he organized the Union News Company and became its general manager. The company gradually increased its business until it controlled the news business of all the railroad lines through the country. Before the introduction of fast trains on the railroads Mr. Williams induced the companies to run special newspaper trains for the purpose of carrying the news to distant points early in the morning.

PROFESSOR VAN BUREN DENSLOW, journalist and author, died in New York City, July 17. He was born in Yonkers, N. Y., in 1833. From 1863 to 1868 he was editor-in-chief of the Chicago Tribune and of the Chicago Republic, and a member of the staff of the New York Tribune. In 1869 he returned to Chicago to resume his position on the Tribune of that city. Until 1880 he was the head of the Union College of Law, attached to the Northwestern University and the University of Chicago. In 1880 he renewed his connection with the press as one of the staff of the Chicago Inter Ocean. He wrote a work on "Fremont and McClellan: their political and military careers reviewed," "Modern Thinkers: principally upon social science;" also, "Principles of the Economic Philosophy of Society, Government and Industry."

JOHN SOUTHWARD, whose name has been a household word in connection with English typography for many years, died suddenly on July 9, at Streatham, London, Eng. He was born in Liverpool, April 27, 1840. When seventeen he became the editor of a local literary magazine, and later on took charge of the Liverpool Observer, the first penny weekly in the town, which was printed and published by his father. In 1865 he went to London intending to apply for an opening at Hansard's, but being misdirected, found himself at Cox & Wyman's, obtained a post as reader, and thus commenced his lengthy connection with that firm. Four years later he became editor of the Printer's Register, and from this time devoted himself almost entirely to typographical literature. In 1891 Mr. Southward became the proprietor of Paper and Printing Trades Journal, which he purchased from its founder, Andrew Tuer, but he shortly after disposed of his interest to devote himself to writing. The following are among his best-known works: "A Dictionary of Typography," "Practical Printing," "Principles and Practice of Printing Machinery," "Modern Printing," and "Historical Printing," the latter being unfortunately interrupted by the author's death. He contributed the articles on printing and kindred subjects to the "Encyclopædia Britannica," "Chambers's Encyclopædia," and "Cassell's Storehouse of General Information." No man endeavored more to raise the status of the practical side of letterpress printing than Southward, while on the history of the invention and progress of the art he was a reliable authority.

PROFESSOR CHARLES KENDALL ADAMS, President of the University of Wisconsin, died at Redlands, Cal., July 26. Professor Adams was born at Derby, Vt., January 24, 1835, was graduated from the University of Michigan in 1861, from 1862 to 1865 was instructor in history and Latin at that college, and later became professor of history. For two years he studied at German and French universities, and returning to this country in 1869 he founded a historical seminary at Ann Arbor. When the school of political science was organized at the University of Michigan he was made dean. In 1881 he became non-resident professor of history at Cornell, and four years later, upon the resignation of Andrew D. White, was elected president. Under him the number of students more than doubled, the engineering schools were extended, the Sage school of philosophy and the President White school of history and political science were created and the law school was organized. There was friction between Professor Adams and the faculty, however, and in 1892 he resigned on account of grave and seemingly irreconcilable differences of opinion in regard to matters of administrative importance. He then became president of the University of Wisconsin, which post he held until 1901, when he retired on account of ill health. Since then Professor Adams lived in Southern California, but the university declined to accept his resignation, and he was still president when he died. Professor Adams was the author of a number of works on historical and educational subjects, including "Monarchy and Democracy in France," "A Manual of Historical Literature," "British Orations," and "Christopher Columbus, his life and work." He married the widow of A. S. Barnes, the founder of the publishing house of A. S. Barnes & Co.

CHARLES KEGAN PAUL, the senior member of the firm of Kegan Paul, Trench, Trübner & Co., of London, died July 20. Mr. Paul was born March 8, 1828, at White Lackington, near Ilminster, Somerset, of which village his father was curate in sole charge. He was educated at Eton and at Exeter College, Oxford, where he resided during the feverish days of the Tractarian movement. In 1851 he became curate of Tew, in the diocese of Oxford, and in the same year was ordained deacon. A year later he took sole charge of Bloxham, a large village near Banbury, where he was ordained priest. In 1853 he became tutor to two boys, with whom he travelled for a year through France, Switzerland and Germany, after which he received a conductship, or chaplaincy, at Eton. He remained at Eton until 1862, when he became vicar of Sturminster Marshall. In 1874 he resigned his living and went to London, where he was offered a position in the publishing house of Henry S. King, in Cornhill, by whom Mr.

Paul had been for some time engaged as reader. A few years later Mr. King, desiring to devote himself exclusively to his Indian department, sold his publishing business to Mr. Paul and a partner, who commenced business as C. Kegan Paul & Co. at Paternoster Square. In 1881 Mr. Paul was joined by Mr. Trench. In 1886 the firms of C. Kegan Paul & Co., George Redway and Trübner & Co. amalgamated under the firm name of Kegan, Paul, Trench, Trübner & Co., which it has remained to this day. Mr. Paul, in his "Memoirs," published in 1899, recalled the fact with pride that his firm, for good or evil, always preferred to be literary and scholarly, though he was ready to admit that a literary man is not, as a rule, a good publisher, because he is on the one hand tempted to accept books unlikely to succeed because they fall in with his own literary tastes, and, on the other, to reject those which may have considerable sale at the time because they are in no true sense literature. Thomas Hardy, George Meredith, Tennyson, Archbishop Trench, Sir Richard and Lady Burton, and Coventry Patmore are only a few of the distinguished writers with whom Mr. Paul had business relations, and he always referred with pride to the fact that his firm was associated with Andrew Lang and Robert Louis Stevenson before either of them had attained the fame which he was afterward to enjoy. Mr. Paul himself was an author of some note. He wrote a life of Godwin and edited the letters of Mary Wollstonecraft; "Biographical Sketches;" "Faith and Unfaith, and Other Essays;" "On the Wayside;" "Memories," and a translation of "Faust" and a translation of "Thoughts of Blaise Pascal." Though he remained in the Church of England until 1872, his religious convictions steadily forced him to lose sympathy with the Anglican church and finally led him, after many years of Positivism, to join the Roman church. Politically he was, as he himself put it, "an extreme Radical, a Republican, a Socialist, so far as these things can be carried on without breach of public order."

JOURNALISTIC NOTES.

DOUBLEDAY, PAGE & Co. have made arrangements with William Heinemann, of London, to publish an English edition of The World's Work, which will be edited by Henry Norman, M.P., well known as an author and journalist.

The Essene is the title of a new monthly published at 1756 Champa Street, Denver, Colo., at $1 a year. It is the mouthpiece of the Essenes, "a people of real spiritual vision, who practice brotherhood in their lives." It is edited by James Arthur Edgerton and Grace M. Brown.

THE "midsummer number" of The Book Lover is as full of meat as it is handsome in appearance. The principal feature of this issue is a facsimile reproduction, in five colors and gold, of the first page of the Mazarin Bible printed on Japan paper. An article of interest to booksellers is an essay on "Rare Books," by Charles E. Goodspeed, the bookseller, and publisher of Boston, Mass., giving a list of valuable books recently sold; a Bret Harte bibliography, and an article on book-binding with many illustrations of notable bindings.

The Philadelphia Public Ledger was sold on the 20th inst. to Adolph S. Ochs, who is the principal owner of The New York Times, The Philadelphia Times and The Chattanooga Times. The Philadelphia Public Ledger is one of the oldest and most prosperous newspapers in this country. It was established in 1836; from 1864 to 1894 it was conducted by George W. Childs, after whose death it passed to the ownership of the A. J. Drexel estate. The price paid was not made public, but it is said that more than $2,225,000 is involved in the transaction.

NOTES ON AUTHORS.

MRS. CRAIGIE, ("John Oliver Hobbes,") calls her new novel "Love and the Soul Hunters."

"THE LETTERS OF HER MOTHER TO ELIZABETH" was written by W. R. H. Trowbridge, author of "A Girl of the Multitude," a novel of the French Revolution.

ZOLA's new novel, "Truth," will be published in an English version during the fall by Chatto & Windus. This is the third in the Four Evangelists Series, the first two being "Fruitfulness" and "Labor." The last will be "Justice."

OLD BOOK NOTES.

ANDREW CARNEGIE recently purchased at private sale the library formed by the late Lord Acton, professor of history at Cambridge, and presented it to John Morley, who has practically abandoned politics for literature. Lord Acton, according to the London Times, left behind a library of secular and ecclesiastical history which is equalled by few public institutions and surpassed by no private collection in the world. For many years he had been gathering the material for a general history of civil and religious liberty in Europe, and the richness of this portion of his library can hardly be overestimated.

W. M. VOYNICH, of London, recently discovered in an old book which he wanted rebound a fragment of a manuscript map of the world and an equidistant polar projection of the sixteenth century, which, if the theories of authorities are correct takes precedence over Gerardus Mercator's projection. F. G. Ravenstein, one of the authorities on maps quoted by the London Times, declares the map discovered by Mr. Voynich, which includes only parts of Europe, East Asia and North Africa, to be an authentic work by some Spaniard, while he says that the empty space between the two hemispheres, which is filled by a rough sketch of Magellan Straits, with the outline of a ship and a flag, indicates that it was drawn after the arrival of one of Magellan's ships in 1522. The polar hemispheres of this map, which Mr. Ravenstein believes was drawn in Spain immediately after the arrival of Magellan's ship Vittoria, must be the earliest employment of the equidistant polar projection, hitherto believed to have been employed first by Mercator in his chart of 1569. The natural assumption, says Mr. Ravenstein, is that the map was drawn to illustrate a never-published work on Magellan's expedition.

BUSINESS NOTES.

ATLANTA, GA.—J. F. Lester, for many years in the book business at 60 Peachtree and 57 North Broad Streets, has sold out to a corporation, which will continue the business as the Lester Book and Stationery Co. John Aidridge and Ormond Jarnigan, long connected with the firm, will be the managers of the new concern. They have many friends, and bring large experience and energy to the new management. James C. Sturges, for the past twelve years with Lester's and for eighteen years before that connected with R. H. Richards & Co. and Williams, Sturges & Co., at Knoxville, Tenn., remains with the new concern.

BOELUS, NEB.—M. J. Morrow has succeeded Samuel F. Woodward, bookseller.

CHICAGO, ILL.—Sidney C. Eastman, referee in the matter of George M. Hill Company, bankrupt, gives notice to the creditors of that concern that he will declare and direct the payment of the first dividend on claims against the Hill Company which have been proved and allowed. The payments are to be made within ten days from August 5 at the office of Robert O. Law, 518 First National Bank Building.

CUBA, ILL.—James Welch has opened a bookstore in the Cline Building.

DALLAS, TEX.—The Dallas Book Company has been succeeded by the Texas Drug Company.

LOCKPORT, N. Y.—I. Wilbur, for forty-five years in the book and drug business, has sold out his drug business and will hereafter devote himself entirely to the book and stationery business.

NEW HAVEN, CONN.—Butler & Alger have been discharged from bankruptcy.

NORWICH, CONN.—Noyes & Davis have dissolved partnership, Charles D. Noyes retiring. The business was originally established by Sherman B. Bishop, Charles D. Noyes and George A. Davis succeeding Bishop in 1874. The business has grown steadily and developed in many directions, so that at present besides books and stationery this firm has also a large stock of silverware and novelties as well as sporting goods which they job as well as retail. The business will be continued by Mr. Davis under the old firm name.

PIQUA, O.—C. S. Zimmer & Co., booksellers, have assigned. No schedules have as yet been made public.

SAN JACINTO, CAL.—Edwin Minor, bookseller, has removed to more commodious quarters.

SHELTON, NEB.—The Paxton Drug Co., booksellers, have been succeeded by Sutherland & Co.

TEXARKANA, ARK.—Van Dyne Brothers, formerly of Pine Bluff, Ark., have opened up a bookstore here.

WEST PLAINS, Mo.—J. L. Van Wormer, bookseller, has sold out.

LITERARY AND TRADE NOTES.

E. P. DUTTON & Co. announce a work on "Submarine Warfare, Past, Present and Future," by Henry C. Fyfe.

A. C. McCLURG & Co. have in preparation a fairy story for young people by Mrs. Harrison, the wife of the Mayor of Chicago.

McCLURE, PHILLIPS & Co. will publish next month Arthur Morrison's new story of low life in London, entitled "A Hole in the Wall."

HENRY T. COATES & Co. have in press a romance of Thibet and China, entitled "The Tu-tze's Tower," by Louise Betts Edwards.

DOUBLEDAY, PAGE & Co. will publish in October Kipling's latest book of Indian stories for young people, entitled "Just-so Stories," which will be illustrated by the author's own drawings.

HARPER & BROTHERS announce a new edition of their successful Thistle edition of the Waverley novels. There will be forty-eight new half-tone frontispieces of pictures of scenes in Scotland.

GRANT RICHARDS, London, announces a work entitled "The Unspeakable Englishman," which in particular will bowl over "The Unspeakable Scot," and in general add to the gayety of nations.

THE OUTLOOK COMPANY will soon publish a collection of "The Spectator" essays, that for twenty years or so have occupied much the same place in The Outlook that the "Easy Chair" essays hold in Harper's.

"CAPE COD BALLADS AND OTHER VERSE," by Joe Lincoln, with pictures by Kemble, published recently by Albert Brandt, Trenton, N. J., has acquired a steady sale all over the country, and is now selling in its second edition.

THOMAS WHITTAKER, New York, will add to his series of anatomical models a complete popular "Mannikin," which, like the ones on the eye, the head and the body, will comprise a series of superimposed plates, together with a complete reference index.

AXTEL S. SWANSON, manager of the South Bend, Ind., Tribune Store, read a paper on "The Psychology of King Lear," before the American branch of the Anglo-American Shakesperian Society, at Chicago, on July 21. The paper attracted considerable attention and received warm praise.

PAFRAETS BOOK COMPANY, of Troy, N. Y., announce a reprint of Canon Ainger's edition of "The Essays of Elia," in twelve octavo volumes, limited to 1,000 sets. The work is being printed at the Merrymount Press. The first two volumes are now ready, and the balance will follow at intervals of about one month.

THE first edition of 75,000 copies of "A Speckled Bird," Augusta Evans Wilson's new novel, was sold three weeks in advance of publication, and another edition of 25,000 is in press to fill further demands. It will be issued simultaneously in England and Canada on August 12. The Dillingham Company expect to sell over 200,000 copies of the book before the end of the year.

JOHN MURRAY, London, has in press a "History of the Royal Yacht Squadron," by Montague Guest, honorary librarian of the squadron, and William B. Boulton. The volume will also contain a complete list of members and their yachts, from the foundation of the club to the present time, together with an inquiry into the history of yachting and its development in the Solent.

WILLIAM CRAMP & SON, Philadelphia, have published for private circulation a monograph entitled "Cramp's Shipyard, 1830-1902," which contains portraits of William Cramp and Charles H. Cramp, and pictures of all the ships built by the Cramps, from the clipper ship Manitou down to the latest floating derrick. The text contains exhaustive data concerning all the ships turned out by the Cramps.

THE FLEMING H. REVELL COMPANY announces for early publication a new volume by Howard Agnew Johnston, D.D., which gives to Bible readers and students in plain words information regarding present-day biblical discussion, free from technicality, yet which will enable them to distinguish the constructive and the useful from the destructive and valueless in the discussion of the authority and inspiration of the Bible.

THE CENTURY COMPANY have in preparation "The Story of Athens," by Howard Crosby Butler, lecturer on architecture at Princeton, which will describe life and art in Athens from the beginning, with numerous illustrations; also, "Barnaby Lee," a story for young people of New Amsterdam during the sway of Peter Stuyvesant, by John Bennett, author of "Master Skylark." They will publish shortly, in book form, J. H. Stoddard's "Recollections of a Player," with an introduction by William Winter.

JOHN C. RICHARD, the manager of the stationery department of the American News Company, rounds out his thirtieth year with that house this month. Mr. Richard is known to the American trade for close upon half a century. In 1869 he joined his friend Leopoldt Illfelder in forming the firm of Illfelder, Richard & Co., importers of stationery. Three years afterward he joined the forces of the American News Company, where his judgment and experience have always been of great value. We offer our hearty congratulations to Mr. Richard.

THE NEW AMSTERDAM BOOK COMPANY have made arrangements with McClure, Phillips & Co. to publish in their red paper book series Anthony Hope's "Tristram of Blent." They will bring out in the same series: "Joan of the Sword Hand," by S. R. Crockett, and "Three Men on Wheels," by Jerome K. Jerome. They have in preparation a reprint of Lady Charlotte Guest's English version of the mediæval Welsh tales, commonly known as the "Mabinogian," edited by Alfred Nutt; also, a prose translation, by Miss Jessie L. Weston, from the mediæval Dutch version of "Lancelot," entitled "Morien."

BURROWS BROTHERS COMPANY, Cleveland, will follow their reprint of Denton's "Brief Description of New York" with reprints of Wooley's "Journal During Two Years' Residence in New York," edited by Professor E. G. Bourne, of Yale; Miller's "Description of New York," Budd's "Good Order in Pennsylvania," and Alsop's "A Character of the Province of Maryland," described in Sabin's "Bibliotheca Americana" as "one of the rarest of books." They have also in preparation an edition of Ferdinand Columbus's life of his father, Christopher Columbus, prepared by Professor E. G. Bourne.

THE AMERICAN BOOK COMPANY announce "Plato's Euthyphro," edited with introduction by William Arthur Heidel, professor in Iowa College. This is the first of a new Greek series for colleges and schools to appear under the general editorial supervision of Professor Herbert Weir Smyth, of Harvard. The introduction to this volume considers the lives of Plato and Socrates, the contents and import of the Euthyphro, and its place in the economy of Plato's works. The notes explain all allusions. An appendix gives a bibliography, as well as critical notes on the text, while a Greek and an English index follow.

LITTLE, BROWN & Co. have put up thirty of their more popular books for young people, in uniform cloth bindings, as The Boys' and Girls' Bookshelf. The following are among the authors represented: Louisa M. Alcott, Susan Coolidge, Mrs. Ewing, Laura Richards, Mary P. Wells Smith, Louise Chandler Moulton, Robert Louis Stevenson, Lily F. Weselhoeft, A. G. Plympton, Harriet Prescott Spofford, and Jean Ingelow. They have also just added to their Children's Friend Series "Pansies and Water-Lilies," by Louisa M. Alcott; "The Doll's Journey," by Louisa M. Alcott; "A Very Ill-Tempered Family," by Juliana H. Ewing; "Snap Dragons," by Juliana H. Ewing; also, "The Little Women Play" and "The Little Men Play," adapted from Miss Alcott's stories by Elizabeth L. Gould.

C. N. CASPAR Co., Milwaukee, have brought out a baker's dozen of souvenir postal cards with views of Milwaukee. These are in two sizes, ten different views on cards of the regulation postal card size and three giant cards with a quadruple folder, two containing eight and eleven views respectively, and the third giving a fine panoramic view of Milwaukee, 4x14 inches. These larger cards are closed with an ornamental wafer. They retail for 10 cents each, or three for 25 cents. The small card contains one large or two small views, printed in different tints, and retails at two for 5 cents, or ten for 25 cents. The custom of using these cards is growing in favor with the public in this country, and these additions will no doubt find a ready sale. We may add that the process by which these cards have been printed gives them an artistic and graceful appearance.

CHARLES SCRIBNER'S SONS will publish as one of the Yale Bicentennial Publications "Elements of Experimental Phonetics," by Dr. Edward W. Scripture, assistant professor of experimental psychology. The first part of the book is devoted to speech curves, the methods of obtaining them by talking machine, the methods of analysis, and the deductions concerning vocal sounds that have been made from them. The second part discusses the organ of hearing, the psychology of speech perception, the association of speech ideas and experimental results that bear upon the teaching of languages. The physiology of the vocal organs is considered in a third part, the phenomenon of breathing, the action of the larynx, and so forth. The nature of vowels and diphthongs, melody of speech, rhythmic action and verse rhythm are also touched upon. They also announce a work on "Madame de Pompadour," by H. Noel Williams, illustrated with sixteen photographs reproduced from famous paintings.

THOMAS Y. CROWELL & Co. have in preparation for fall a work entitled "Mind Power and Privileges," a scientific study of mesmerism, hypnotism, Christian Science, etc., by Albert B. Olston; "Word Coinage," a study of slang and provincialisms, by Leon Mead; "Economics of Forestry," a study of forestry from the standpoint of political economy, by B. E. Fernow, and "Messages of the Masters," a series of discussions of the spiritual interpretations of great paintings, by Amory H. Bradford. New editions of standard authors announced by the same firm include the Virginia Edition of Edgar Allan Poe's works in seventeen volumes, edited by Professor James A. Harrison, of the University of Virginia; the Lenox Edition of Nathaniel Hawthorne's Romances, in fourteen volumes, edited by Professor Katharine Lee Bates, of Wellesley College, and the Farrington Edition of Tennyson's works, in ten volumes, edited by Professor Eugene Parsons. The latest catalogue of Messrs. Crowell & Co. show that they have added 738 new volumes to their list during the year—this total including new editions and new styles of binding as well as new titles.

DODD, MEAD & Co. have in preparation "A History of the Nineteenth Century Year by Year," by Edwin Emerson, Jr., which groups in moderate compass the central facts of each country's development during the past century in such a way as to make them easily accessible to the inquirer; "The Weather and Practical Methods of Forecasting," by "Farmer" Dunn, a well-known government "weather shark"; "The Uganda Protectorate," by Sir Harry Johnston, an important contribution to the history of East Central Africa, that contains within an area of some 150,000 square miles nearly all the wonders and some of the horrors of the Dark Continent; "Cruising in the West Indies," by Anson Phelps Stokes, that should prove interesting to yachtsmen who may plan to visit the West Indies; "The Lady of the Barge," a delightfully humorous book by W. W.

Jacobs; "Paul Kelver," the first long novel by Jerome K. Jerome; also, an entertaining book by Walter Russell, famous as a painter of children's portraits, treating of the training of children from the child's point of view, in which the child's mind will be shown not only in the text, but also in a series of beautiful pictures drawn by the author.

THE MACMILLAN COMPANY contradict in the Chicago Record-Herald certain statements recently made in regard to Charles Major's "Dorothy Vernon of Haddon Hall." There has been a good deal of curiosity to know what inducements the Macmillans offered Mr. Major to change his publishers after the Bowen-Merrill Company had made his reputation by the wide advertising of "When Knighthood Was in Flower." Among others, a statement was made that Mr. Major had been guaranteed a royalty on 100,000 copies, adding in regard to the size of the royalty, "the gossips put it all the way from 12½ to 25 per cent., but Mr. Major's friends say he was guaranteed $5,000." The Macmillans say not one of these statements is correct. They also deny that the book is not selling as well as expected, or that they are in any danger of losing money on the book. The Macmillans have made arrangements to publish the lectures delivered by the late Lord Acton as Regius Professor of Modern History at Cambridge, on "The French Revolution" and on "General Modern History." These lectures will be published in two volumes, together with a reprint of Lord Acton's inaugural lecture. It is hoped also later on to publish one or more volumes of essays. The present Lord Acton has entrusted the work of editing and seeing the lectures through the press to R. Vere Laurence, Fellow of Trinity College, Cambridge.

J. B. LIPPINCOTT COMPANY announce a work on "Elementary Coal Mining," a new field and practical book by George L. Kerr, the author of "Practical Coal Mining," intended for those beginning the study of mining, with over two hundred illustrations; "Breachly-Black Sheep," the newest novel by the writer of vivid and adventurous stories of life in the South Sea Islands. Louis Becke, who is considered to be that part of the world what Robert Louis Stevenson was to Samoa and Rudyard Kipling is to English India; "Arms and Armour-English Heraldry," two volumes, by Charles Boutell, which deal authoritatively with the subjects indicated by their titles, elaborately illustrated with drawings and reproductions from photographs; "The Opera," a sketch of its development from the earliest times, with a full description of every work of importance in the modern repertory, by R. A. Streetfield; a special edition, limited to 356 copies, of "The Thousand and One Nights," from Edward W. Lane's version of the original Arabic, in six volumes, elaborately illustrated; also, a sumptuous edition of "The Essays of Elia," introduced by a biographical note, and an appreciation of Lamb by E. B. Lucas, with drawings in broad line by A. Garth Jones. They will publish shortly "Gentleman Garnet," a romantic tale of a Tasmanian Robin Hood and his band, by Harry B. Vogel; also, "Sign of the Seven Sins," a new story by Le Queux.

SMALL, MAYNARD & Co. whose address is now 10 Arrow Street, Cambridge, Mass., will add to their Beacon Biographies a life of Audubon, by John Burroughs, whose fitness to write such a sketch will be recognized by all. They announce that the first edition of 2000 copies of Holman Day's new poems, entitled "Pine Tree Ballads," was exhausted within a week after publication, and that this book bids fair to exceed the remarkable success of Mr. Day's first book, "Up in Maine," of which nearly 10,000 copies have been sold. They announce that the authors of the stories which appeared anonymously in "A House Party" are as follows: "The Angel of the Lord," George W. Cable; "Artemisia's Mirror," Bertha Runkle; "Aunt Nancy's Annuity," Frank R. Stockton; "The Broken Story," Ruth McEnery Stuart; "Dawson's Dilemma," John Kendrick Bangs; "The Fairy Godmother," Mrs. Burton Harrison; "A Family Tradition," Paul Leicester Ford; "The Green Bowl," Sarah Orne Jewett; "The Messenger," Octave Thanet; "Mother," Owen Wister; "The Red Oxen of Bonval," Charles G. D. Roberts; "A Surrender," Robert Grant. In the original competition no correct guess was received, the nearest being that of Mrs. Horace Silsbee, of Seneca Falls, N. Y., who guessed correctly the authorship of eleven out of twelve stories. In the second contest, in which the names of the authors were given and the question was which author wrote each story, twenty-four correct answers were received.

G. P. PUTNAM'S SONS will bring out here "The Poet and Penelope," by L. Parry Truscott, a novel that has attracted some attention in England. The poetic temperament is set upon a pedestal and at the same time tied to her apron strings by the spirit of common sense and practicality. A man and a maid find mutual attraction in their incapacity for complete understanding of one another, and serve the novelist with no little store of misunderstanding full of dynamic possibility for plot. With his assistance they finally make out what they are severally about, and end by liking one another all the better for their temporary misconceptions. They have in preparation an authorized English version, by L. G. Meyer, of "The Youth of La Grande Mademoiselle (1627-1652)," by Arvède Barine; "William Morris, poet, craftsman and socialist," by Elizabeth Luther Cary, also, library editions of Miss Cary's "Browning, poet and man," "Tennyson, his homes, his friends and his work," and "The Rossettis," "St. Augustine and His Age," by Joseph McCabe, author of "Peter Abelard," "The Romance of Leonardi da Vinci, the forerunner," an authorized translation of Dmitri Mérejkowski's "The Resurrection of the Gods," edited by Professor Herbert French; "Lavender and Old Lace," by Myrtle Reed, author of "The Spinster Book," "The Earth and the Fulness Thereof," by Peter Rosegger, translated by Francis E. Skinner; "The Lost Art of Reading," by Gerald Stanley Lee; also, "A Guide to the Best Historical Novels and Tales," by Jonathan Nield.

TERMS OF ADVERTISING.

Under the heading "Books Wanted" book-trade subscribers are given the privilege of a free advertisement for books out of print, of free nonpareil lines exclusive of address, in any issue except special numbers, to an extent not exceeding 100 lines a year. If more than five lines are sent, the excess is at 10 cents a line, and amount should be inclosed. Bids for current books and such as may be easily had from the publishers, and repeated matter, as well as all advertisements from non-subscribers, must be paid for at the rate of 10 cents a line.

Under the heading "Books for Sale," the charge to subscribers and non-subscribers is 10 cents a nonpareil line for each insertion. No deduction for repeated matter.

All other small, undisplayed, advertisements will be charged at the uniform rate of 10 cents a nonpareil line. Eight words may be reckoned to the line.

Parties with whom we have no accounts must pay in advance, otherwise no notice will be taken of their communications.

BOOKS WANTED.

☞ In answering, please state edition, condition, and price, including postage or express charges.

Houses that are willing to deal exclusively on a cash-on-delivery basis will find it to their advantage to put after their firm-name the word {Cash}.

☞ Write your wants plainly and on one side of the sheet only. Illegibly-written "wants" will be considered as not having been received. The "Publishers' Weekly" does not hold itself responsible for errors.

It should be understood that the appearance of advertisements in this column, or elsewhere in the "Publishers' Weekly" does not furnish a guarantee of credit. While it is endeavored to safeguard these columns by withdrawing the privilege of their use from advertisers who are not "good pay," booksellers should take the usual precaution, as to advertisers not known to them, that they would take in making sales to any unknown parties.

"Practical illustration is given in the facsimile reproduction of the books relating to an assumed estate, with the detailed entries and their final consolidation in a statement to the Surrogate in settlement. The whole matter is made so plain that it can be easily understood even by persons having no previous acquaintance with accounts. For the purpose of affording information in regard to the accumulation of moneys, compound interest tables are introduced, with examples showing the working of the same in relation to sinking funds and similar matters. To borrow a hackneyed phrase, the book seems, indeed, to fill a long felt want."

DIRECTORS OF THE OLD SOUTH WORK, OLD SOUTH MEETING HOUSE,

SUCCESSFUL publisher is one who constantly seeks to get the best value for the least money. That's why I am a successful bookbinder. Also because I turn out the highest grade of work at from ten to twenty-five per cent. less than anyone else. How do I do it? That is the burning question amongst the trade to-day.

My answer is, "Don't ask the why and the wherefore," but send me your stamps and dummies and I will make up samples which will show the highest character of work and upon which I will give you estimates that cannot be met. My equipment and plant is the finest and one of the largest of its kind in the country. Large output and small profits are the keystones to my success. Don't take my word for these statements. Come and see for yourself.

AN IMPORTANT NOVEL

THE LAST WORD

By ALICE MacGOWAN

Library 12mo, Cloth, Gilt Top, Illustrated, $1.50

A brilliant and original novel, bubbling over with life and humor, buoyant with youth and courage, picturesque in local color, and powerful in the intensity of its emotional interest. It is a picture, now amusing and again serious, of some of the phases of New York as seen through the fresh, keen eyes of a young girl from the broad prairies of the Southwest and at the same time a strong, vigorous love story, deriving its exceptional interest from the character drawing of two richly endowed natures, at the outset in conflict with each other.

A NEW NOVEL BY
MARIE CORELLI

"Temporal Power"

A Study in Supremacy

By

MARIE CORELLI

Author of "The Master Christian."

"The Sorrows of Satan," etc.

Messrs. Dodd, Mead & Company take pleasure in announcing that they have now in press, and will publish on August 28th, this important new story by Miss Corelli. The book is a singularly striking and powerful one, dealing with a subject which has never before been treated in fiction, and intimately touching upon certain topics which have for some time been uppermost in the minds of many people. While it is announced as a romance of the ruling passion, the author desires it to be known that it does not treat of the ruling passion of the Pope, but of a still more powerful potentate. This is the first story Miss Corelli has written since the publication of "The Master-Christian," and will probably be as widely discussed a book as that novel. The author, herself, says that "Temporal Power" is the strongest book she has ever written.

NOTES IN SEASON.

JAMES POTT & Co. have in preparation a new book by John Goldworth Alger, entitled "Paris, 1789-1794." Nearly twenty years' study, not merely of the latest publications on the subject, but of a mass of manuscripts mostly uncalendared in the national archives, enables the author to throw new light on the French Revolution.

LONGMANS, GREEN & Co. will publish a new book of historical research by Andrew Lang, entitled "James VI. and the Gowrie Conspiracy." The Gowrie Conspiracy took place in 1600, and its sequel is the affair of Logan of Restalrig in 1608-9. Mr. Lang has studied contemporary manuscripts hitherto unpublished, and he believes that one point is at any rate demonstrated—the innocence of James VI. Among the illustrations of the book are facsimile reproductions of the disputed letters of the plot.

L. C. PAGE & Co. have just ready "The Best of Stevenson," selections from Robert Louis Stevenson's "Will of the Mill," "Virginibus Pterisque," etc., with a bibliography of Stevenson's writings edited by Alexander Jessup; also, a third series of that excellent collection of college verse—"Cap and Gown," by L. L. Paget. They will publish shortly a novel by Alice MacGowan, entitled "The Last Word," which gives a picture of some of the phases of New York as seen through the fresh, keen eyes of a young girl from the broad prairie: of the southwest.

DOUBLEDAY, PAGE & Co. will publish on the 27th inst. a volume of poems by Ellen Glasgow, author of "The Battleground," a number of which will be familiar to readers of the Atlantic Monthly and other periodicals. In October they will bring out an illustrated edition of Miss Glasgow's "Voice of the People." They have in preparation a book on "Weddings," in which Mrs. Burton Kingsland will digest and codify the unwritten laws on the subject. The book will be illustrated with photographs of large weddings of recent date to give an exact idea of how the thing must be done.

THE CENTURY COMPANY have in preparation another volume of engravings by Timothy Cole, to be entitled "Old English Masters," which will have text from Mr. Cole's own notes and by Professor John C. Van Dyke. The volume will contain Mr. Cole's engravings of the work of the English school, including Hogarth, Reynolds, Gainsborough, Turner and Landseer. For eighteen years Mr. Cole has been engaged in reproducing upon wood, for The Century Magazine and his books, the work of the great masters of the world. He has already covered the art of Italy, Holland, Flanders and England, and is now working upon the Spanish school.

THE MACMILLAN COMPANY have in preparation two volumes of essays by the late John Fiske, that were left completed and ready for the press before the author's death. The contents of the volumes will be Thomas Hutchinson, last Royal Governor of Massachusetts; Charles Lee, the soldier of fortune; Alexander Hamilton; Thomas Jefferson, the conservative reformer; James Madison, the constructive statesman; Andrew Jackson, frontiersman and soldier; Andrew Jackson, and American Democracy sixty years ago; "Tippecanoe and Tyler Too;" Daniel Webster; "Old and New Ways of Treating History;" "The Boston Tea Party;" "Evolution and the Present Age;" John Milton; John Tyndall; "Koschei the Deathless;" "The Story of a New England Town;" "Reminiscences of Huxley."

WEEKLY RECORD OF NEW PUBLICATIONS.

Beginning with the issue of July 5, 1902, the titles of net books published under the rules of the American Publishers' Association are preceded by a double asterisk , and the word net follows the price. The titles of fiction (not net) published under the rules are preceded by a dagger †. Net books not covered by the rules, whether published by members of the American Publishers' Association or not, are preceded by a single asterisk, and the word net follows the price.

The abbreviations are usually self-explanatory. c. after the date indicates that the book is copyrighted; if the copyright date differs from the imprint date, the year of copyright is added. Books of foreign origin of which the edition (annotated, illustrated, etc.) is entered as copyright, are marked c. ed.; translations, c. tr.; n. p., in place of price, indicates that the publisher makes no price, either net or retail, and quotes prices to the trade only upon application.

The book will be found useful also to teachers who wish a thorough preparation in American history, or helpful suggestions in methods of teaching the subject. The "library" and "source" methods have been combined, and complete references given in connection with each topic. The book contains topical outlines together with research questions leading to close analysis and original investigation and thought. The aim has been to present the subject in such a way as to cultivate the judgment and not merely the memory. Full directions as to notebook and map work have been given.

The Publishers' Weekly.

FOUNDED BY F. LEYFOLDT.

AUGUST 9, 1902.

The editor does not hold himself responsible for the views expressed in contributed articles or communications. All matter, whether for the reading-matter columns or advertising pages, should reach this office not later than Wednesday noon, to insure insertion in the same week's issue.

Publishers are requested to furnish title-page proofs and advance information of books forthcoming, both for entry in the lists and for descriptive mention. An early copy of each book published should be forwarded, as it is of the utmost importance that the entries of books be made as promptly and as perfectly as possible. In many cases booksellers depend on the PUBLISHERS' WEEKLY solely for their information. The Record of New Publications of the PUBLISHERS' WEEKLY is the material of the "American Catalogue" and so forms the basis of trade bibliography in the United States.

"I hold every man a debtor to his profession, from the which, as men do of course seek to receive countenance and profit, so ought they of duty to endeavor themselves by way of amends to be a help and an ornament thereunto."—LORD BACON.

SHORTER HOURS AND HOLIDAYS.

EARLY closing and vacations are growing in favor among all classes of merchants, and the booktrade, we are gratified to note, is not backward in the movement. Even those who a few years ago protested that a Saturday half holiday meant the jeopardizing of the profits of the year, are enthusiastic over early closing all the year around excepting, of course, in the holiday season.

There is no doubt as to the benefit of closing early in the evening to both the merchant and his assistants. Especially during these dog days it is most desirable to remove the strain as early as possible, and to enable the clerks to get out into the open air, and to obtain that change and recreation that will make them better workmen in the morning. The same rule applies with equal force to the employer. Nothing is more dangerous than trying to work all the time. The very intensity of a man's ambition to get on may keep him back. A bow that is bent constantly loses its elasticity; hence, every one should put a layer of pleasure, of genuine recreation, into his life at certain periods of the year.

And no time of the year offers such an opportunity for rest and recreation to the bookseller as the summer. The bulk of his business must be done during the winter, and long hours are required to care for the trade. With the advent of summer, publishing lags, retail business quiets down, and less strenuous efforts are required to keep up with the trade that remains or may be worked up. Many employers have recognized this, and while there has been no canvass of the matter, so far as we are aware, in many of the larger cities—and our remarks apply chiefly to these—the trade almost with one accord has closed its stores at five o'clock every evening during the summer, and at one o'clock on Saturday afternoons. Vacations of a week or longer have also become commoner this year than ever before, both with the employer and his clerks, to the decided benefit and improvement of all concerned.

In all this we note an encouraging sign. While there is a sound business reason for shorter hours and more frequent holidays, it is undoubtedly true that as the world grows older employers have more regard for the happiness and welfare of those who serve them.

PAPER FROM OAT HULLS.

AN important test in the manufacture of strawboard and paper has just been concluded at the Gas City plant of the Western Strawboard Company, at Richmond, Ind. The process, according to the New York Times, which will mean much in the future manufacture of strawboard, is the converting of oat hulls into paper. This is something that has long been considered by the manufacturers of paper, but the man who has been conducting the tests is the first to hit upon a successful process.

Oat hulls are very similar in organic composition to the straw used in the manufacture of paper, but some slight difference in the two has made the use of the hulls hitherto impossible. The new process overcomes the difficulty and by it paper and board can be made equal in quality to that made from straw and old paper.

The above report moves a contemporary to think that tenui musam meditamus avena of the Eclogue—Sydney Smith's "we cultivate literature on a little oatmeal"—may have a new meaning for the innumerable new verse smiths of this age; and that "we write poetry on this oat-hull paper" may be the proper translation of the Virgilian phrase.

SIX BEST-SELLING BOOKS JUNE-JULY.

FROGS' SKINS FOR BOOKBINDINGS.

IN the Philadelphia Terminal market recently, according to the Philadelphia Record, a dealer in all kinds of game said that the skins of frogs, if carefully removed and cured, have some slight value. They are used, it seems, in bookbinding; not in general bookbinding, but in the fantastic, "precious" sort—used, in a word, as chicken skin was used in fan making in the time of Carlo Van Loo. Frogskin makes a very fine and soft leather, and in dyeing it will take the most delicate colors. Hence it is inlaid, in circles and stars for centrepieces, into the calf or the crushed levant of sumptuous book covers, and it makes a very striking and beautiful decoration. A noted English binder has achieved some of his best effects by the judicious employment of frogskin as a decorative agent.

A WESTERN LIBRARY MEETING.

A MEETING of librarians, trustees, and all others of the west and middle west interested in library work, will be held at the State Historical Library Building, at Madison, Wis., on August 28, 29 and 30, 1902. "Public Documents," "The Relation of the Publisher to the Public," "The Bookseller and the Librarian," "The Book Review—Its Worth and Worthlessness," "The Relation of the City Government to Boards of Library Trustees," "The Local, Untrained Applicant vs. Trained Service," "Principles of Book Selection by Book Committees," "The Establishment of Branches, Stations and the Extension of Library Privileges to Rural Communities," are some of the topics to be discussed. "Library Architecture" will be the subject of the morning session on August 30, and an exhibit of library plans by prominent architects will be made.

BOOKTRADE ASSOCIATIONS.

VIRGINIA BOOKSELLERS' ASSOCIATION.

A BELATED report of the annual meeting of the Virginia Booksellers' Association, held in Richmond, Va., June 26 and 27, has just reached us. From this report we gather that since the organization of the association there has probably been no better meeting or more enthusiastic and earnest attendance than was manifested this year. The position in regard to the handling of school books that the booksellers of Virginia will be forced to take, unless an organized effort is made to prevent it, made each member realize the importance of co-operation; hence the trade of Norfolk, Portsmouth, Danville, Richmond, Charlottesville, Staunton, Roanoke, Newport News and Petersburg was fully represented, and cheering letters were received from the absentees, as well as from the American Publishers' Association and from the American Booksellers' Association.

The Association has made a contract with a number of publishers, with the approval of the Superintendent of Education, to provide for the prompt supply of school books for the schools of every county of Virginia.

Resolutions in memory of the late Montgomery West, one of the organizers of the Association, were passed.

The following new members were elected: Anderson Brothers, of University of Virginia; A. W. Morton and James E. Abbe, of Newport News; Moose Brothers Company, of Lynchburg; and Caldwell-Sites Co., of Bristol.

The following officers were elected for the ensuing year: T. S. Beckwith, president; C. R. Cadwell, vice-president; and J. O. Boatwright, secretary and treasurer. The Executive Committee consists of the officers and R. J. Alfried, C. W. Hunter and A. C. Brechin.

The next annual meeting is to be held at Charlottesville unless two-thirds of the members express a desire for some other place. The question in regard to the new adoption to take place next May, after much discussion was left in the hands of the Executive Committee with power to act.

OBITUARY NOTES.

FRIEDRICH PUSTET, senior member of the firm of Fr. Pustet & Co., of New York and Cincinnati, publishers of Catholic books and dealers in church goods, died at Ratisbon, or Regensburg, Bavaria, August 4, aged seventy. The present house of Fr. Pustet & Co. was founded at Regensburg by the father of Mr. Pustet in 1826 under the firm name of Friedrich Pustet. The first American branch was established in New York in 1865, and another, in Cincinnati, in 1867, and an Italian branch was established in Rome in 1899. Mr. Pustet was a Knight of the Order of St. Gregory the Great, and was printer to the Holy See and to the Sacred Congregation of Rites.

MRS. ELIZABETH DREW BARSTON STODDARD, the wife of Richard Henry Stoddard, died August 1, at her home, 329 East Fifteenth Street, New York. Mrs. Stoddard was born at Mattapoisett, Mass., on Buzzard's Bay, May 6, 1823, and was married to Mr. Stoddard in 1852 in New York, which had since been her home. She herself was a poet and novelist of repute. Her verses were for the most part contributed to periodicals, although in 1883 a collection of them was published by the Scribners. During the Civil War Mrs. Stoddard wrote three novels—"The Morgesons" (1862), "Two Men" (1865,) and "Temple House" (1867.) All are studies of New England life and character. She also wrote a book for young people entitled "Dolly Dink's Doings." Lately a new edition of her works was published by Henry T. Coates & Co., of Philadelphia, with an introduction by Edmund Clarence Stedman, her friend, and her husband's. Mr. Stoddard, who survives his wife, is also advanced in age and infirm. The illness of his wife has been a severe strain upon him, but it is hoped that he will not break down under his bereavement. Lorimer Stoddard, the son of the couple, died last year, and since then Mrs. Stoddard's decline in health has been steady.

LYNDS EUGENE JONES, who, under the direction of Mr. F. Leyboldt, compiled "The American Catalogue" for 1876, died at his home, 47 Brevoort Place, Brooklyn, N. Y., August 3. Mr. Jones was born in Brooklyn, in 1853. After passing through the public schools he entered the New York Free Academy, now the College of the City of New York, from which he was graduated in 1873, when he received an appointment in the New York evening schools. From 1874 to 1875 he was connected with the editorial staff of the New York Evening Mail, and in 1875 he became associated with Mr. Leypoldt in the work upon "The American Catalogue." In 1883 he became Curator of the New York Art Students' League, which position he held until 1887. In 1887 he took an editorial position in the New York house of George Routledge & Sons, which he resigned in 1891 to become librarian of the Century Association. For two years, from 1893 to 1895, he was business manager of The Art Amateur, and from 1896 to 1897 he was connected with the publishing house of Selmar Hess. In 1897 he became senior member of the Board of Examiners of the Civil Service Commission of New York. In this important position he earned the respect and confidence of all acquainted with his work, which was of a peculiarly delicate and important nature. His alert intelligence, sound judgment, entire fairness and constant fidelity made his service of the highest value in the establishment and application of the merit system. In private life he was singularly simple and loyal, and his death will be sincerely mourned by a large circle of friends. Besides his work on "The American Catalogue" Mr. Jones was joint editor of "Books of All Time," published by Mr. Leypoldt in 1881; "The Best Reading," published by G. P. Putnam's Sons in 1883, 1888 and 1892; "History of United States for Young People," published by George Routledge & Sons, in 1889; "Tabular Views of History," and "Outdoor Sports for Boys and Girls," both published by George Routledge & Son, in 1890; and American editor of "Men and Women of the Time," since 1884. He was also the author of the articles on Booktrade, Bibliography and Libraries in the American supplement to the "Encyclopædia Britannica."

JOURNALISTIC NOTES.

The Evangelist, one of the oldest Presbyterian weeklies in the United States, has been absorbed by Christian Work, and will hereafter be published under the title of Christian Work of the Evangelist. The Rev. Dr. Joseph Newton Hallock, the proprietor, will act as editor-in-chief.

WITH the July number The Edinburgh Review concludes the 100th year of its publication. Sydney Smith, Francis Jeffrey, Lord Brougham and Francis Horner were the chief writers at the start, Jeffrey editing it for twenty-six years. Among the best-known of its contributors were Carlyle, Napier, John Stuart Mill, Thackeray, Macaulay, Bulwer-Lytton and George Henry Lewes. The October issue will contain an article dealing with the whole history of the Review, together with some portraits.

THE first number of the first Japanese newspaper printed from movable type east of San Francisco made its appearance in New York City on the 2d inst. It is entitled New York Shu Ho, or, New York Japanese weekly. Goroku Ikeda is the editor and proprietor. This is not strictly the first journal in which the two thousand Japanese in and about New York have been able to read the news in their own language, but it is the first to be printed from type. Hajime Hoshi's paper, the Nichi-Bai, or, Japanese-American Weekly, is written out with a brush on lithographic stones, and printed off by hand.

LITERARY AND TRADE NOTES.

METHUEN & Co., London, have in preparation a new humorous story by Anstey Guthrie, entitled "A Bayard from Bengal."

LOUIS BOTHA, with the help of Generals De Wet and De La Rey, will write the history of the Boer War from the Boer point of view.

THE BLUE SKY PRESS, Chicago, will publish shortly Browning's "In a Balcony," with an introduction by Laura McAdoo Triggs, and designs by W. A. Dwiggins and F. W. Goudy.

HARPER & BROTHERS will publish shortly a book entitled "Lady Beatrix and the Forbidden Man: a Girl's Diary." It is a satire on contemporaneous British society. Some of the material has already appeared in Vanity Fair.

JOHN S. BROOKS & Co., 120 Boylston Street, Boston, Mass., will publish shortly a novel entitled "Stillman Gott, Farmer and Fisherman," by Edwin Day Sibley, a story of real life along the coast and in the woods of Maine.

THOMAS WHITTAKER, New York, will publish a second and concluding volume of the Rev. J. J. Lanier's work on the "Kingship of God and Man," under the title of "The Master Key." This and the author's previous volume form a comprehensive study of biological theology on fresh and very suggestive lines.

BENEDICT PRIETH, 75 Market Street, Newark, N. J., has just published an Arcadian romance, entitled "The Natural Man: a romance of the Golden Age," by J. William Lloyd, author of "Dawn Thought and Wind Harp Songs." The book has been printed under the direction of Frank B. Rae, Jr., at the Alwil Shop, Ridgewood, N. J.

E. P. DUTTON & Co. have just ready "An Anthology of Victorian Poetry," by Sir Mountstuart E. Grant Duff. They will publish shortly a new edition of the Rev. Alexander Dyce's "Glossary to the Works of William Shakespeare," with new notes by Harold Littledale, professor of English of the University College of South Wales and Monmouthshire.

AT Puttick & Simpson's, London, there was sold to an American collector, on July 16, a copy of Tennyson's "Poems by Two Brothers," uncut and in the original boards, for £39; also, a copy of that rare Lamb item,

"Prince Dorus, or, Flattery Put Out of Countenance," 1811, in the original covers, uncolored plates, that was secured by an American for the record price of £62.

THE BOWEN-MERRILL COMPANY will bring out in September a new and revised edition of "One Thousand Fungi," by Charles McIlvaine. Though this edition will be published at a popular price, it will contain all the color plates, engravings and etchings of the expensive Author's edition, and will be supplemented with the more recent investigations of the author.

THE NUSBAUM BOOK AND ART CO., at the corner of Granby Street and Brook Avenue, Norfolk, Va., have made up an attractive window display of "Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch" that is attracting a great deal of attention. The window shows Mrs. Wiggs, as natural almost as life, in the centre of a real cabbage patch, and distributed among the cabbages are copies of the book.

HENRY S. ALLEN, well known to the trade through his connection with the firms of Leavitt & Allen, Allen Brothers and George W. Carleton, who retired from business some time ago, is tiring of play and desires to get back into a position where his knowledge of the book business in all its branches may be utilized. Any one desiring to communicate with Mr. Allen may address him at Stamford, N. Y., his summer home.

DREXEL BIDDLE, Philadelphia, announces a religious romance entitled "On the Cross—a romance of the Passion Play at Oberammergau," by Wilhelmine von Hillern and Mary J. Safford; also, "Her Lord and Master," by Martha Morton, a book full of smart dialogue and interesting characters that contrasts the freedom and lack of restraint in our American ways with the severe, tight-laced customs of the aristocratic English.

GEORGE W. SHERMAN, Lynbrook, N. Y., has just published "The Life of Captain Jeremiah O'Brien, of Machias, Me.," by the Rev. A. M. Sherman. It is a well written account of an interesting and prominent character in the Revolutionary War, and throws much light on the methods and manners of that interesting period in our national history. A feature of the work is the introduction written by former secretary of the navy, John D. Long, who is thoroughly conversant with the subject treated by Mr. Sherman.

JAMIESON-HIGGINS COMPANY, Chicago, have in preparation "Tales from Longfellow," by Molly K. Bellew, with illustrations by Ike Morgan; "Dickens's Christmas Stories for Children," by Molly K. Bellew, with illustrations by H. S. Campbell; also, "A Round Robin," a collection of stories, poems, anecdotes, etc., for children, by Mary Hartwell Catherwood, Margaret Sangster, Peter Dunne, Alfred Henry Lewis, etc., edited by Laura Dayton Fessenden, and illustrated by Ike Morgan.

A LONDON publisher, according to the New York Times, recently made the following remark in a conversation, and is said to have repeated what is to be heard in all London literary circles: "Five out of every six novels published barely pay; three out of every six are absolute failures. The finding of new authors is a gamble, and a very risky gamble, and half the known writers have a dwindling and inconsiderable public. It is becoming more and more common for the sums paid on account of royalties when a book is bought never to be earned."

WILLIAM ABBATT, of New York, will have ready early in November a new and enlarged edition of Winthrop Sargent's "Life and Career of Major John André." The volume will contain twenty illustrations, including portraits of Honora Sulyd, Anna Seward, General Grey, Colonel Musgrave, two of André, and Mr. Sargent himself. There will also be facsimiles of two very interesting letters—one by André, hitherto unpublished, and one by Edward Shippen, the father of Mrs. Arnold. The edition will be limited to 500 copies at $8 and 75 copies on large paper at $15.

GINN & Co. are publishing M. de Bloch's "The Future of War," with W. T. Stead's "free rendering" of conversations which he had with the author, and an introduction by Edwin D. Mead, telling of his meeting with M. de Bloch in London last year. Mr. Ginn's purpose in issuing this book is not mercantile. It was issued nearly three years ago, and is already familiar to those who would naturally read it. It is his hope that the work in this form will direct public opinion toward peace. The book is sold at a price precluding much profit and is really Mr. Ginn's contribution to the cause of peace.

WILLIAM J. BELL, the business manager of the OFFICE OF THE PUBLISHERS' WEEKLY, met with a serious accident on his way home on Saturday evening, August 2. In crossing one of the temporary bridges over the subway excavations near the City Hall he stepped on a plank that gave way and precipitated him into the pit thirty feet below. When taken to the Hudson street branch of the New York Hospital it was found that he had broken one and dislocated another of the lumbar vertebrae. As we go to press Mr. Bell is still alive and conscious, but his condition is declared by the doctors to be most critical, and we can only hope that in some way his life may be saved.

CHAPMAN & HALL, London, will commence in September the publication of their new Biographical edition of the "Works of Charles Dickens," which is intended to be a library edition at a popular price. It will be complete in eighteen volumes, containing all the original illustrations, which have been specially reproduced for this edition from the original plates. The biographical introductions are founded upon material in the hands of Chapman & Hall, (who are the owners of Dickens's copyrights,) and will aim at giving the story of each book, and its place in its author's life, briefly and sympathetically. All bibliographical ana will be avoided, the object being to provide an interesting narrative, unencumbered by machinery. The volumes will appear two a month, in their chronological order. The binding is to be a special feature, with a full gold back designed by W. B. Macdougall, and delicate end-papers to match.

DODD, MEAD & Co. have in preparation the second volume of Professor George Saintsbury's "History of Criticism," which has been extended so that it will require a third volume to complete the work. The first volume presented an account of the higher rhetoric and poetry, the theory and practice of literary criticism and taste, during ancient and mediæval times; the second volume deals with the matter from the Renaissance to the death of eighteenth century classicism, and the third volume will be on modern criticism. They also announce a new book by Ian Maclaren, entitled "The Homely Virtues," in which Dr. Watson treats practical subjects in a very pointed and practical way; "The American Idea as Expounded by American Statesmen," a collection of typical documents, such as the Declaration of Independence, Washington's Inaugural Address, etc., made by Joseph B. Gilder, with an introduction by Andrew Carnegie; "The Autobiography of a 'Newspaper Girl,'" by Elizabeth L. Banks, author of "Campaigns of Curiosity," whose experience in newspaper work is said to be varied and interesting; also, "Red-Head," a new novel by John Uri Lloyd, who, in drawing the picture of a Kentucky feud, introduces one of the characters from his "Stringtown on the Pike." Mr. Lloyd's story will be illustrated as a Christmas book by Reginald Birch, every page being decorated in color.

HENRY HOLT & Co. evidently do not believe in the decline of the demand for books in series, or for historical fiction, as is evidenced in their announcement of a scheme which they have long had under consideration, of a uniform series of reprints of standard historical novels. They expect the co-operation of an English house famous for its success with several series of books selected and made with extraordinary taste and discretion. The Standard Historical Novels Series will naturally include the old stand-bys, such as Bulwer's "Last Days of Pompeii," Kingsley's "Hypatia," Bulwer's "Harold," Scott's "Ivanhoe," George Eliot's "Romola," Scott's "Quentin Durward," Reade's "The Cloister and the Hearth," Mrs. Charles's "Schönberg-Cotta Family," Hawthorne's "Scarlet Letter," Thackeray's "Henry Esmond," Cooper's "Spy," Dickens's "Tale of Two Cities," and if encouragement is received probably, with others, most of the following: Ebers's "Egyptian Princess" and "Uarda," Flaubert's "Salammbô," Lockhart's "Valerius," Newman's "Callista," Fouqué's "Thiodolf the Iclander," Scheffel's "Ekkehard," Kingsley's "Hereward the Wake," Scott's "Talisman," Jane Porter's "Scottish Chiefs," Bulwer's "Rienzi," Kingsley's "Westward Ho," DeVigny's "Cinq Mars," Thackeray's "Virginians," Victor Hugo's "93." So far as practicable, the series will present a somewhat systematic general view of history. Enough editorial matter will be given to afford a notion of the author and of the historical relations of the work.

HOUGHTON, MIFFLIN & Co. will publish next month a Riverside edition of the complete works of Bret Harte in sixteen volumes; an edition of the complete works of Clara Louise Burnham, in fifteen volumes; a new Way-side edition of Hawthorne's complete works in twelve volumes; a Riverside edition of Tennyson's poetical works in seven volumes; a re-issue of William Vaughn Moody's dramatic poem, "The Masque of Judgment;" a holiday edition of "Japanese Girls and Women," by Alice M. Bacon, with twelve exquisite colored illustrations and numerous outline drawings, by a distinguished Japanese artist; the first volume of "The Argive Heraeum," an archaeological work of great importance and value, giving the results of the latest excavations in Argolis, edited by Professor Charles Waldstein, adequately illustrated; "Eternalism: a Theory of Infinite Justice," by Orlando J. Smith, a stimulating argument for the pre-existence of the soul; "American Navigation," a review of the rise and decline of the American marine, by William W. Bates; the thirteenth and fourteenth volumes, completing the work, of Professor Sargent's monumental work on "The Silva of North America;" a new handy-volume edition of Dr. Oliver Wendell Holmes's "Breakfast Tables Series," in four volumes; "A Book of Nature Myths," by Florence Holbrook, stories for children explaining everyday facts of life which will recall Kipling's "Just-So Stories;" "A History of English Literature," a text-book for high schools, by Professor William E. Simonds, of Knox College; "Masterpieces of Greek Literature," edited by Professor T. D. Seymour; "Masterpieces of Latin Literature," edited by Dr. G. J. Laing; Longfellow's "Hiawatha," dramatized by Florence Holbrook, in the Riverside Literature Series; also, the following books for young people: "The Flag on the Hilltop," a boy's story of war times in southern Illinois when "copperhead" plots were rife, by Mary Tracy Earle; and "Lois Mallet's "Dangerous Gift," the tale of a Quaker girl whose beauty cost her dear, by Mary Catherine Lee.

BUSINESS NOTES.

BOSTON, MASS.—John S. Brooks & Co. is the name of a new firm of publishers who have established themselves in the Walker Building, at 120 Boylston Street, for the purpose of publishing a general line of books. They write us that it is their intention to make all books bearing their imprint as good as skilled labor can make them. "We are starting out on the principle that it is a poor book that requires a good cover to make it sell, but that it is a poorer publisher who, given a good book, does not put it in a good binding and print it on good paper in clear, legible type."

LITTLE ROCK, ARK.—Dr. J. P. Webb, well known to the western stationery trade, committed suicide by shooting himself in Springdale, Ark., on July 24. Dr. Webb was formerly the head of the firm of Wilson & Webb, stationers, of this city.

TERMS OF ADVERTISING.

Under the heading "Books Wanted" book-trade subscribers are given the privilege of a free advertisement for books out of print, of five nonpareil lines exclusive of address, in any issue except special numbers, to an extent not exceeding 100 lines a year. If more than five lines are sent, the excess is at 10 cents a line, and amount should be inclosed. Bids for current books and such as may be easily had from the publishers, and repeated matter, as well as all advertisements from non-subscribers, must be paid for at the rate of 10 cents a line.

Under the heading "Books for Sale," the charge to subscribers and non-subscribers is 10 cents a nonpareil line for each insertion. No deduction for repeated matter.

All other small, undisplayed, advertisements will be charged at the uniform rate of 10 cents a nonpareil line. Eight words may be reckoned to the line.

Parties with whom we have no accounts must pay in advance, otherwise no notice will be taken of their communications.

BOOKS WANTED.

In answering, please state edition, condition, and price, including postage or express charges.

Houses that are willing to deal exclusively on a cash-on-delivery basis will find it to their advantage to put after their firm-name the word (Cash).

Write your wants plainly and on one side of the sheet only. Illegibly-written "wants" will be considered as not having been received. The "Publishers' Weekly" does not hold itself responsible for errors.

It should be understood that the appearance of advertisements in this column, or elsewhere in the "Publishers' Weekly" does not furnish a guarantee of credit. While it is endeavored to safeguard these columns by withdrawing the privilege of their use from advertisers who are not "good pay," booksellers should take the usual precaution, as to advertisers not known to them, that they would take in making sales to any unknown parties.

SUCCESSFUL publisher is one who constantly seeks to get the best value for the least money.
That's why I am a successful bookbinder. Also because I turn out the highest grade of work at from ten to twenty-five per cent. less than anyone else. How do I do it? That is the burning question amongst the trade to-day.

My answer is, "Don't ask the why and the wherefore," but send me your stamps and dummies and I will make up samples which will show the highest character of work and upon which I will give you estimates that cannot be met. My equipment and plant is the finest and one of the largest of its kind in the country. Large output and small profits are the keystones to my success. Don't take my word for these statements. Come and see for yourself.

ADVANCE NOTES—A. C. McCLURG & CO.

FOR the information of the trade, we take pleasure in giving herewith some advance data about our Fall books of 1932, which we believe will be of interest. Our list will include seventeen titles, and in matter and make-up it will be the most generally attractive line we have ever put out.

Our most noteworthy undertaking is the new trade edition of "The Expedition of Lewis and Clark." In two square octavo volumes of over 500 pages each, printed from new type of a large clear face, on fine laid paper, with new photogravure portraits and fac-simile maps, and with an introduction by Dr. James K. Hosmer and a copious index, this will undoubtedly take its place as the standard popular edition of Lewis and Clark. (In box, $5.00 net.)

Probably the most beautifully embellished book we have ever issued will be "The Birds of the Rockies." The text is by Leander S. Keyser, the well-known author of "In Bird Land," and the pictorial features include eight full-page plates, four of which are in color, by the eminent nature painter, Louis Agassiz Fuertes, thirty-three charming text illustrations by Bruce Horsfall, and eight full-page scenic plates from photographs. The binding and printing of the book are strikingly attractive. (In box, $3.00 net.)

In response to repeated requests from the trade, we have prepared an elegant illustrated edition of Max Müller's "Memories"—a classic which has now reached a sale with us of nearly 40,000 copies. The book will be a handsome square octavo, and is printed from entirely new plates, with eight beautiful charcoal drawings and other pictorial embellishments by Blanche Ostertag. The cover, also designed by Miss Ostertag, is unique. (In box, $2.00 net.)

Our fiction will include a volume of clever stories of Chicago business life by Will Payne, called "On Fortune's Road," with illustrations by Thomas Fogarty ($1.50); a spirited and exciting historical novel, "The Holland Wolves," illustrated in a highly dramatic manner by the Kinneys (illustrators of "The Thrall of Leif the Lucky") ($1.50); an illustrated edition of the popular romance of Indian Oregon, "The Bridge of the Gods," with eight strong pictures by the well-known western artist, L. Maynard Dixon ($1.50), and "A Captive of the Roman Eagles," a historical romance by Felix Dahn, translated from the German by Mary J. Safford ($1.50).

A unique volume in typography, binding, and illustrations is "In Argolis," by Mr. George Horton, a delightful personal account of family life in Greece ($1.75 net). Another admirable gift book, especially for music lovers, is Mr. George P. Upton's "Musical Pastels," a series of essays on quaint and curious musical subjects, illustrated from rare wood engravings (In box, $2.00 net).

Mr. Upton has also added to his well-known series of musical handbooks a new volume on "The Standard Light Operas," which will be widely popular ($1.20 net). Mr. William Morton Payne has followed his "Little Leaders" and "Editorial Echoes" with "Various Views" ($1.00 net), and the popular "Helpful Thoughts Series" will have a new volume, "Catch Words of Cheer," by Sara A. Hubbard (80 cts. net).

In regard to our juveniles we have no hesitation in saying that the trade has seldom been offered so attractive a line in matter and make-up. A notable feature of several volumes will be illustrations in color, and the cover designs are novel, artistic, and striking. The titles include a most engaging book of nonsense by Carolyn Wells, "The Pete and Polly Stories," with irresistible pictures by Fanny Young Cory ($1.50 net); "Little Mistress Good Hope," a volume of fairy stories by Mary Imlay Taylor, with notable colored drawings by Jessie Willcox Smith ($1.50 net); "Mayken," a historical story of Holland, illustrated by the Kinneys ($1.20 net); two volumes of delightful fairy stories with charming illustrations in color by Lucy Fitch Perkins: "Coquo and the King's Children," by Cornelia Baker ($1.50 net), and "Prince Silver Wings," by Edith Ogden Harrison ($1.75 net). Mrs. Harrison is the wife of Mayor Carter H. Harrison of Chicago, and in this volume she makes a graceful literary debut.

ADVANCE NOTES—A. C. McCLURG & CO.

FOR the information of the trade, we take pleasure in giving herewith some advance data about our Fall books of 1902, which we believe will be of interest. Our list will include seventeen titles, and in matter and make-up it will be the most generally attractive line we have ever put out.

Our most noteworthy undertaking is the new trade edition of "The Expedition of Lewis and Clark." In two square octavo volumes of over 500 pages each, printed from new type of a large clear face, on fine laid paper, with new photogravure portraits and fac-simile maps, and with an introduction by Dr. James K. Hosmer and a copious index, this will undoubtedly take its place as the standard popular edition of Lewis and Clark. (In box, $5.00 net.)

Probably the most beautifully embellished book we have ever issued will be "The Birds of the Rockies." The text is by Leander S. Keyser, the well-known author of "In Bird Land," and the pictorial features include eight full-page plates, four of which are in color, by the eminent nature painter, Louis Agassiz Fuertes, thirty-three charming text illustrations by Bruce Horsfall, and eight full-page scenic plates from photographs. The binding and printing of the book are strikingly attractive. (In box, $3.00 net.)

In response to repeated requests from the trade, we have prepared an elegant illustrated edition of Max Müller's "Memories"—a classic which has now reached a sale with us of nearly 40,000 copies. The book will be a handsome square octavo, and is printed from entirely new plates, with eight beautiful charcoal drawings and other pictorial embellishments by Blanche Ostertag. The cover, also designed by Miss Ostertag, is unique. (In box, $2.00 net.)

Our fiction will include a volume of clever stories of Chicago business life by Will Payne, called "On Fortune's Road," with illustrations by Thomas Fogarty ($1.50); a spirited and exciting historical novel, "The Holland Wolves," illustrated in a highly dramatic manner by the Kinneys (illustrators of "The Thrall of Leif the Lucky") ($1.50); an illustrated edition of the popular romance of Indian Oregon, "The Bridge of the Gods," with eight strong pictures by the well-known western artist, L. Maynard Dixon ($1.50), and "A Captive of the Roman Eagles," a historical romance by Felix Dahn, translated from the German by Mary J. Safford ($1.50).

A unique volume in typography, binding, and illustrations is "In Argolis," by Mr. George Horton, a delightful personal account of family life in Greece ($1.75 net). Another admirable gift book, especially for music lovers, is Mr. George P. Upton's "Musical Pastels," a series of essays on quaint and curious musical subjects, illustrated from rare wood engravings (In box, $2.00 net).

Mr. Upton has also added to his well-known series of musical handbooks a new volume on "The Standard Light Operas," which will be widely popular ($1.20 net). Mr. William Morton Payne has followed his "Little Leaders" and "Editorial Echoes" with "Various Views" ($1.00 net), and the popular "Helpful Thoughts Series" will have a new volume, "Catch Words of Cheer," by Sara A. Hubbard (80 cts. net).

In regard to our juveniles we have no hesitation in saying that the trade has seldom been offered so attractive a line in matter and make-up. A notable feature of several volumes will be illustrations in color, and the cover designs are novel, artistic, and striking. The titles include a most engaging book of nonsense by Carolyn Wells, "The Pete and Polly Stories," with irresistible pictures by Fanny Young Cory ($1.50 net); "Little Mistress Good Hope," a volume of fairy stories by Mary Imlay Taylor, with notable colored drawings by Jessie Willcox Smith ($1.50 net); "Mayken," a historical story of Holland, illustrated by the Kinneys ($1.20 net); two volumes of delightful fairy stories with charming illustrations in color by Lucy Fitch Perkins: "Coquo and the King's Children," by Cornelia Baker ($1.50 net), and "Prince Silver Wings," by Edith Ogden Harrison ($1.75 net). Mrs. Harrison is the wife of Mayor Carter H. Harrison of Chicago, and in this volume she makes a graceful literary debut.
